Waitsburg Resource Center Provides Help to Locals Year-Round

VOLUNTEERS ARE ESPECIALLY BUSY WITH SPECIAL ACTIVITIES FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—Volunteer Jenny Jones at the Waitsburg Resource Center found the doorway crowded Thursday by local first graders lined up with donations.

Mrs. Hinchliffe's class held a food drive, asking for Thanksgiving donations of nonperishable foods. In just over seven days, the group was able to gather 130 items, more than they could hold. Luckily the group brought along a wagon to shoulder the weight.

The Resource Center now receives about 7,000 pounds of food annually as in-kind donations from local clubs such as the Lions Club, the Waitsburg Odako Club, the Order of the Eastern Star, the Waitsburg Classic Car Club, Walla Walla & Columbia County School Retirees, Waitsburg High Honor Society, Mrs. Hinchliffe's class at Waitsburg Elementary, as well as students at Preston Hall Middle School and Waitsburg High School, Banner Bank, and the Post Office.

To round out the selection of donated items, Resource Center board member Marge Benson makes monthly orders for food from the Blue Mountain Action Council in Walla Walla, Second Harvest and Feeding America.

Families in need are invited in to make their own selections. "This is one of the few food banks left where people get to choose what they get," says Jones, "There's certain criteria they have follow, but they get to choose, which is empowering."

The Resource Center serves 511 families each year, providing nearly 16,000 pounds of food per year -about eight tons.

One of 19 volunteers, Jones says she's been at it for a couple years, "I started by accident and am thoroughly totally and completely involved now.

"I volunteer quite a bit of my time," Jones continued "I'm usually here to unload the trucks and I also come in and divvy up certain products that we get in bulk that we bag, such as coffee, flour and sugar."

The Resource Center's members provide snacks for the Weller Public Library Storytime, service a weekend food program for 25 children, Thanksgiving dinners, free lunches and an activity for children during Christmas break.

The resources don't end at food. The resource center functions as a haven, with information to meet the needs of community members. They sponsor the free dental van, emergency preparedness blankets and flashlights housed with the fire department. They also have an annual coat drive, offering free coats as winter temperatures set in.

On Dec. 1, from 9 - 11 a.m., the Resource Center will also provide Christmas Stockings for all children, with the help of the Columbia/Walla Walla Co. Fire District 2.

The Resource Center is overseen by its board members: Pastor Bret Moser, Bethany Moser, Pastor Matt Wyatt, Mary Mathews, Ted and Lavonne Bren, Heather Duncan, Jerry and Karla Scott, Pam Conover and Marge Benson.

The Resource Center originated in 1991 as a food bank held in the basement of the Christian Education Building, created by Anita Baker, Dona Jean Smith and Betty Lou Branson.

In 2010 the food bank had the opportunity to relocate to its current site on the side of the Banner Bank building at Main Street and Preston Avenue.

The Waitsburg Resource Center is a 501 (c)3, non-profit organization.

Newly-Elected Columbia County Officials Are Off to a Running Start

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Newly-elected county officials Carla Rowe, Dale Slack, Anne Higgins and Chuck Amerein are gearing up to assume office on Jan. 1. They met with the Columbia County County Commissioners last week to receive encouragement and guidance.

Treasurer-elect Carla Rowe said she would like to receive training in the "underutilized" software program currently used in the Treasurer's Office, and she hopes to meet with individual department heads to discuss streamlining reports.

Rowe said she is excited to be part of the team, and she looks forward to working with Chief Deputy Treasurer Cathy Shochet, who ran against her in the November general election.

"Cathy has been very gracious," she said.

Dale Slack said he has become well acquainted with the work done in the Prosecuting Attorney's Office in his role as the county's Deputy PA, a position he has held since April 1, 2015.

Slack told the commissioners he is in the process of hiring someone to fill the deputy position when he takes over for Prosecuting Attorney Rea Culwell in January. His department is also gearing up to perform risk management duties, a role formerly held by the Public Works Department.

Anne Higgins said she has received on-the-job training for her new role as the County Auditor, since being hired in that department, in January, 2018.

Higgins discussed the upcoming payroll changes for county employees, and she shared information about the new Family Medical Leave Act, which goes into effect on January 1.

Higgins said she has just finished the important task of reconciling every county bank statement, through October "to the penny."

Chuck Amerein has been elected to the Board of County Commissioners representing District 3, and he was on hand for Tuesday's meeting.

"I am very happy. I look forward to being on the Board of Coun-

MOMENTS IN TIME

* On Dec. 8, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln offers his conciliatory plan for reunification of the United States with his Proclamation of Amnesty and Reconstruction. It allowed for a full pardon for and restoration of property to all engaged in the rebellion with the exception of the highest Confederate officials and military leaders.

* On Dec. 6, 1933, a federal judge rules that "Ulysses" by James Joyce is not obscene. The book had been banned in both the United States and England when it came out in 1922. Three years earlier, its serialization in an American review had been cut short by the U.S. Post Office.

* On Dec. 5, 1941, John Steinbeck's nonfiction book "The Sea of Cortez" is published. The book reflects Steinbeck's serious study of marine biology. He would later use his knowledge of the sea and its creatures in creating Doc, the marine biologist in "Cannery Row" (1945).

* On Dec. 4, 1952, heavy smog begins to hover over London. Smoke, soot and sulfur dioxide from the area's industries and cars were trapped by a high-pressure air mass, leading to the deaths of at least 4,000 people, many of whom died in their sleep.

* On Dec. 3, 1967, Lewis Washkansky, 53, receives the first human heart transplant, in Cape Town, South Africa. He was given drugs to keep his body from rejecting the heart, but died 18 days later.

* On Dec. 7, 1982, the first execution by lethal injection takes place in Texas, when Charles Brooks Jr. receives a fatal dose of a barbiturate by intravenous injection.

* On Dec. 9, 1992, nearly 2,000 U.S. Marines arrive in Mogadishu, Somalia, to spearhead a multinational force aimed at restoring order in the conflict-ridden country. In October 1993, rebels shot down two U.S. Army Black Hawk helicopters and killed 18 American soldiers.

COMMENT

CRAIG GEORGE:
CITY OF DAYTON

Mayor's Budget Message

To: Citizens of Dayton

It is that time of the year to present you with the 2019 Budget for the City of Dayton.

2018 went by so fast that I really have to sit and think what we did this past year. Our theme for 2018 was "Building Infrastructure," and we had a great amount of accomplishments in this area. The biggest project was the street repairs that were completed due to the damage our streets encountered during the freeze of January-February 2017. The city is spending the nearly $1 million that we received from FEMA, the State of Washington and Transportation Improvement Board (TIB).

The city also replaced the sewer main line and water main line in E. Washington Ave., and the water main lines in N. 5th St. and E. Patit Ave., allowing us to achieve one of our water system plan's capital improvement priorities. With this work, the city partnered with Seneca Corporation to make street improvements to E. Patit Ave. and portions of N. 5th St.

The city utilized Transportation Benefit District funding to repair W. Washington Ave. from N. Front St. to E. Patit Ave. The city anticipates utilizing this funding source in 2019 to improve E. Clay St. from S. 7th St. to S. 8th St.; N. Cherry St. from W. Commercial Ave. to the end; and, S. 5th St. from Day St. to the end of the street.

We continue to apply for grants to get additional street work done in 2019. We were very successful in grant awards in 2018, and the city staff is to be highly commended for their work.

We have been working with the state to get funding for our new wastewater treatment plant, and we are close to purchasing land for the plant. In 2018, the city applied for funding through two competitive grant/loan programs and was awarded almost $1.5 million in low-interest loans (Public Works Board and Department of Ecology) and $495,000 in grant funding (Department of Ecology). The city council, staff and I see and understand that this state-mandated project has the potential to create a financial worry for each of our households. The city will continue to do everything within their powers to reduce, if not eliminate, that burden. We will be reaching out to each of you in the future to help make this happen by writing letters and phoning our state legislators.

The 2019 budget as proposed is higher than in 2018, primarily due to the anticipated new wastewater treatment plant. Our budget is balanced and includes raises in utility rates going toward water and sewer capital improvements.

Our contract with Columbia County for code enforcement and planning services has been highly beneficial to all parties. The service has been outstanding and has saved the citizens of Dayton money.

Our swimming pool did not open this year due to structural problems and safety issues. The city hired a consulting firm to do a thorough evaluation of the Dayton Swimming Pool facility. The report says, in so many words, that the facility has outlived its life and it will require approximately $2.5 million to rebuild or $2.55 million for a new facility exactly as we had. The city is unsure at this time what the next step is but will work closely with the Friends of the Dayton Community Swimming Pool to determine what to do next.

The flood of 1996 was almost 23 years ago, and history proves that severe flooding occurs about every 30-years in this valley. The city of Dayton and Columbia County are working together to form a flood control zone district to provide better flood control for the entire area. This measure will be sent to the voters on the November 2019 ballot.

Construction is underway in Caboose Park to finish up the overall plan for the park. The final portion is being done thanks to a generous grant from the Sherwood Trust and Blue Mountain Community Foundation, and donations from the Dayton Development Task Force and others.

The Dayton Main Street Tree Committee is working on coming up with a plan for our downtown trees as to maintaining and replacing them as necessary. This will be an on-going process into 2019.

The city council and staff continue to work in making Dayton the best place to live in the state. We are very receptive to and always looking for input from the community on how to make Dayton better.

This will be my last "Mayor's Budget Message," as my wife Kathy and I are moving to the north Tucson, Ariz. area in the late spring of 2019. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as your Mayor for the past 11 years.

With much gratitude,
Craig George, Mayor

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—The Waitsburg School Board met for a regular business meeting Monday. Members in attendance were Ross Hamann, Christy House, Jason Kaeher, Russ Knopp, Lisa Morrow. Also in attendance were school secretary Becky Dun, Superintendent and Elementary Principal Jon Mishra and Secondary School Principal Stephanie Wooderchak.

The board approved several Dayton-Waitsburg Athletic Combine coaching appointments. Josh Wilson was approved as high school assistant boys' basketball coach. John Donnelly will be the new high school head girls' basketball coach. Tamira Culley will be high school assistant girls' basketball coach. Kayla Lewis is assistant cheerleading coach.

For middle school teams, James Su'euga is head girls' basketball coach, with Karen Huwe as assistant coach for girls basketball.

The board also approved the resignation of Tracy Pearson, high school assistant football coach as well as the termination of custodian Rick Suchadolski.

The District office will be closed for Winter Break from December 24 - January 4.

Preston Hall Middle School continues its support of the Character Strong program which focuses on social-emotional learning, with the goal of creating well-balanced students. Two faculty members lead different activities. They've just completed the seventh lesson, reinforcing the simple kindness of saying 'thank you.'

Secondary Principal's Report

Students and faculty presented the Veterans assembly on Friday, Nov 9.

The Leo's Club advisor Gabe Kiefel has begun work with the Lions Club on the annual food drive.

On Nov 15, the juniors completed the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery, commonly known as the ASVAB. The scores will be interpreted for students with the test proctors on an individual basis. Most people consider the ASVAB to be a military test, but it is a career awareness and personality test that may enable students to make career decisions.

Preston Hall band members performed in the Mass Band in Asotin on Nov 6. It was Mrs. Pomerinke's first field trip and was a success. Mr Knapp is appreciated for driving the school trailer with instruments.

Both Preston Hall and Waitsburg High School have completed their parent teacher conferences. The high school conferences were student-led, while the middle school conferences were teacher-led. Each event had excellent attendance, and teachers were happy with the productivity of the conferences.

Athletic Director's Report

Fall Sports Awards were held in Waitsburg and honored football, cheerleading and volleyball students and parents. The coaches spoke about each of the students' contributions.

Winter Sports practices began on Nov 13.

Johnny Watts, Head Baseball coach, has been working with Maintenance Supervisor Colter Mohnney to prepare for the baseball season this spring. The first practice is Feb. 25, 2019.

Combine Update:

Paula Moisis, Dayton Business Manager, has been assigned to take minutes for combine committee meetings.

Stephanie Wooderchak, Waitsburg Secondary Principal/AD, has been assigned as the permanent facilitator

Next combine meeting will be Nov. 26 at 6:45 at the Dayton high school library, with the minutes posted on the school website.

Dayton has hired Nicki Luper as its new athletic director. Luper has worked in Washington State as an administrator, overseeing athletics with over 30 years' experience.

Facilities/ Maintenance/Transportation

Using the city's fairgrounds facility and $2,500, the district will create a new pitcher's mound, plus a practice pitcher's mound for the spring season. Facilities staff on hand mentioned the importance of doing this before the soggy season.

Next month fuel for the boilers will be ordered.

The district is making plans to outfit the press box and field house at the Waitsburg football field with internet connectivity. Of the $5,000 necessary, federal dollars will cover the majority of the cost. The action to move forward with the work was approved unanimously. The District will cover the remaining $1,000 balance.

Elementary Principal Report

Field trip to Mrs. Parr's house to pick pumpkins.

The first graders Salmon in Schools is going along swimmingly.

Superintendent Report

Middle School Mass Band Performance in Asotin gym included 10 schools.

Book study with certified staff is reading Talk About Teaching by Charlotte Danielson

Dr Mishra hopes to initiate a superintendent advisory committee with students, staff, parents and community members advising on district matters. The Committee will form officially after Winter Break.

Board and Public Comment

Both a board member and several impassioned parents who attended the meeting discussed a current rise in bullying. Parents told individual stories of children kicked in the head twice, then that same child who hit her son immediately punched another little girl in the face while a teacher saw it.

"If you talk to kids," said one parent, "they know you can do it at gym time because that's when you can get away with it."

The district's policy prohibits harassment, intimidation and bullying. Students being bullied are referred to fill out a form to report instances of abuse if they go unseen by faculty. Otherwise, staff members should intervene when witnessing harassment, intimidation, or bullying.

Parents brought up concerns regarding incident notification once an emergency has taken place. They also suggested using technology to accept anonymous tips from students being bullied or from witnesses who may be too afraid to act.

Old Business

Enrollment is dropping by a couple students per month. Losing each student is $15,000. Some students are transferring to Dixie for smaller class sizes. One student is transferring to Dayton because of bullying.

New Business

Several faculty and staff members attended the Washington State School Directors Association Conference held Nov. 14 through 17 in Spokane. There they attended mandatory training and learned about how the McCleary Decision will affect the teaching profession going forward.

ARTS

The Wide-Ranging Artwork of Steve Henderson

Steve Henderson is a lifetime fine artist who says, "I look for, and paint, beauty, as a counteracting effect of our media-saturated fascination with ugliness. Yes, the world is a brutal place, but it is also our home. There is peace, serenity, quietude, thoughtfulness, majesty, grace, joy and hope in this home of ours."

We hear a lot about the importance of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics, to the point that someone created a clever acronym – STEM – for verbal emphasis.

Lately, STEM has changed to STEAM as art was added to the mix, and to painter Steve Henderson, art is far more than one little letter in an acronym.

"The world needs art," the Dayton artist, who sells his original paintings and prints nationally and internationally, says.

"It sounds trite, but I believe it deeply. It has always been so. But especially today, with our corporate, cubicle world and its emphasis on cold scientific facts, we need something more than ever before that speaks of beauty, and something deeper than those cold facts.

"We need something that speaks to the soul, the heart, the inner workings of our being."

Henderson, who paints everything from Santa Claus to sailboats, from local landscapes to beautiful women in beautiful places, says that he seeks to create images that viewers will want to step into, be a part of, and find peace within.

"The canvas is a stage upon which the artist presents the character actor – color, texture, form, design, value, etc.," he says. "I choose to stage beauty, reminiscence, nostalgia, feelings of serenity, peace, tranquility – those emotions."

Henderson is presently showing a large wall of his work at Wenhaha Gallery through December 15. He will be at the gallery in person during Dayton's Christmas Kickoff celebration. On Friday, Nov. 23, from 2 to 6 p.m. during the gallery's Christmas Kickoff Art Show, he will join gourd artist Sheryl Parsons and fractal photographer Debbie Lind, who will also be in attendance. Henderson will also be at the gallery from 11 a.m. to noon Saturday, Nov. 24, to chat with visitors and enjoy a piece of cake during the gallery's 25th anniversary celebration.

SALMON IN SCHOOLS UPDATE

photos by Brianna Wray

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—As reported recently in The Times, Mrs. Hinchliffe's first grade students are raising salmon with the help of Andrew Bassler from the Tri-State Steelheaders.

So far, the salmon eggs have half-hatched and progressed to the alevin stage. Alevin have a yolk sac attached to their bellies which is to be their nutrient source for the following 30 days.

They hide among the gravel, avoiding predators, or in this case excited young onlookers.

Students worked with Bassler to create booklets that highlight the salmon life cycle. The young salmon remain alevin for 12 weeks or more before becoming fry.

Dayton City Council Report

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

Nov. 14, 2018

DAYTON—The Dayton City Council held the first of three public hearings for the city's proposed $7,078,230 budget for 2019, during their monthly meeting last week.

The budget reflects an increase of 3.9% over 2018's, and it includes rate increases for water and sewer utilities that will go into effect in January.

The proposed increase is $5.95 for sewer and $4.05 for water, for a residential unit within the city limits.

Mayor Craig George said the purpose of the increase is to help the city meet major capital improvement needs and provide for ongoing operation and maintenance of the water and sewer utility infrastructures as prescribed by the Department of Ecology and Department of Health.

Mayor George said the city will continue to emphasize infrastructure in 2019. Following is the list of projects planned in 2019:

Improve E. Clay St. between S. 7th and S. 8th Streets, and on N. Cherry St. from Commercial St. to the cul-de-sac.

Improve S. 5th S. from Day St. to the end of the street.

Install the next phase of automated sprinkler system in the city park.

Perform design engineering services for the S 3rd St. sidewalk project.

Continue the design phase for the reconstruction of the City's wastewater treatment plant.

Continue efforts toward implementation of the 2015 Water System Plan, specifically for North Hill and Syndicate Hill pressure issues.

Perform video services of a series of sewer collection system main lines.

Research funding to make improvements to areas prone to flood damage.

Address the abandoned Dayton Fishing Pond culvert that may be affecting the integrity of the levee system.

Work with the county in creating a flood control zone district.

Research automated water meter readers, along with a replacement program.

Develop and implement various financial policies related to debt service, inter-fund loans and cost allocation.

Research and pursue community block grant funding to help programs such as affordable housing and energy savings.

Work directly with state and federal agencies to create a successful financial strategy, capitalize on outside funding sources to implement the recently completed large scale street and utility improvement plan.

Work with departments to surplus unnecessary real and personal property.

Continue to research grant opportunities.

Digitize public records.

Develop policies to become a Tree City USA member and capitalize on grant funding to improve the tree asset program.

Continue to review and update Dayton Municipal Codes.

Establish policies to assist in achieving financial stability in the current expense fund by 2021.

Investigate funding options to recreate and preserve the existing historic cemetery maps.

Look for alternative methods for watering the grounds at the cemetery.

Public hearings on the 2019 budget are scheduled for Nov. 28 at 6 p.m. at the City Hall, and during the regular council meeting at the City Hall, on Dec. 5 at 6 p.m.

Also at last week's meeting, the city council adopted ordinances amending sections of the Dayton Municipal Code regarding abatement and removal of motor vehicles stored in the public right of way, habitation of them, and penalties for code violations.

The council also adopted a grant agreement with the Washington Office of the Secretary of State Archives and Records Management Division for a grant in the amount of $9,678.35, and they approved a service level agreement for document preparation and imaging services.

Digitizing records will begin once all signatures have been received. The deadline is May 31, 2019, said City Administrator Trina Cole.

A Public Works Board pre-construction loan contract in the amount of $1 million for property purchases related to the Wastewater Treatment Plant Improvement Project was also authorized.

The mayor's appointments of Kari Dingman and Alicia Walker to the Dayton Planning Commission were also approved by the Dayton City Council.

ty Commissioners," Amerein said. "I appreciate everyone's support."

Amerein said he will put as much energy into doing the job as he did during the arduous campaign.

The BOCC took time during the Tuesday meeting to reshuffle their meeting duties, assigning Amerein to Workforce Development and the Port's Economic Development Steering Committee, as well as the Fairgrounds Facilities, County roads and Emergency Management Services, and several others.

Amerein, Higgins and Rowe will attend training in Olympia for newly elected officials, in December.

Columbia County Sheriff-elect Joe Helm was not present at Tuesday's meeting. He was at a training workshop for Sheriffs, according to Commissioner Merle Jackson.

The updated plan would retain the existing population projections and allocations (for the cities of College Place, Prescott, Waitsburg and Walla Walla) for 2038, the next 20-year planning period. The existing population targets were adopted in 2005 and retained in 2013 for 2033; the countywide target is 71,724 which falls within the medium and high population projections from the Office of Financial Management (OFM) for 2038.

TEENY MCMUNN: MY RECIPE BOX

Quinoa with Sweet Potatoes & Broccoli

I was debating on what to put in this week. Last year at this time, I put in a recipe called Turkey Imperial. It is a good way to use up leftover turkey, so if you are looking for it or would like to consider it, let me know. I was going to use it again until I came across a few others.

One was called Quinoa and Broccoli, using mushroom soup, sour cream, and Durkee's Dried Onions.

Another one I saw was Kielbasa sausage and Brussel sprouts, but that seemed like a short recipe so passed on it. But I will make it someday.

I saw one called Turkey Hash, but like most I've seen, it's putting your leftovers all in one pan. The funny part is at Thanksgiving we have separate piles for our turkey, potatoes, etc., then afterwards, we put them all together. A great sandwich is turkey, cream cheese (not much for me) and cranberry sauce. Lettuce is optional.

No, I haven't made it yet, but I have the quinoa and sweet potatoes. I think it sounds delicious.

Update I made it last night and it was very good. Joe suggested some chopped cabbage to give it a little extra moisture though the sweet potatoes and broccoli was a good combination. I used fresh broccoli. Between you, me, and the gatepost, I think Joe would have liked the recipe using the mushroom soup and sour cream.

Feedback Darcy told me she made the sausage/barley soup and said it was very flavorful. She added diced tomatoes and some Italian seasoning. Zonia shared she made the Whoopee Pies for her grandson's hockey team. How fun! Thanks to those who tell me they enjoy reading the recipes, even if they haven't tried them yet ;)

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 c. quinoa
- 2 c. frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
- 2 c water
- 1 Tbsp garlic powder
- 1 large sweet potato, peeled and cut into 1/4 inch cubes
- 1/2 c. whole almonds
- 1 Tbsp soy sauce or to taste
- 2 Tbsp canola oil
- 1 onion

DIRECTIONS:

Bring the quinoa and water to a boil in a saucepan over high heat. Reduce heat to medium-low, cover and simmer until the quinoa is tender and the water has been absorbed, about 15 to 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, place the diced sweet potatoes into saucepan and pour in 1/4 inch of water. Cover and bring to a simmer over medium-high heat. Steam until the sweet potatoes are just slightly tender, about 10 minutes. While the potatoes are steaming, heat the canola oil in a skillet over medium-high heat. Cook and stir the onion and broccoli until the onion is tender, about 10 minutes.

Once the potatoes have finished steaming, add them to the broccoli mixture and season with garlic powder. Continue cooking until the potatoes have cooked to your desired degree of doneness, about five minutes. Stir the broccoli mixture together with the cooked quinoa and almonds. Season to taste with soy sauce if desired, to serve.

MY NOTES:

Looking over the recipe, I will chop the almonds. I would think that it would distribute the almonds better. Walnuts certainly could be used and would give it a different flavor.

I was smiling to myself, thinking I will like this recipe better than the one with mushroom soup and sour cream, but maybe others wouldn't. You all get what I like ;)

Off the subject, but several reader friends have asked me about a cookbook. Perhaps so they don't lose the recipes they meant to clip but didn't. I'm open to suggestions. The only way I can think that would work is using a three-ring binder, much like Dorothy Dean did. They sent out weekly pages one could put into a three-ring binder. But honestly, anything will have to wait until next year. Crazy how fast time is going.

ENJOY AND HAVE A SAFE AND ENJOYABLE THANKSGIVING, however you celebrate it!
