This Sunday, the Waitsburg Christian Church chose to forgo regular church service and instead performed various service projects for the community. The two big projects were clearing out the empty lot between the Anchor Bar and Whoop em Up restaurant, as well as clearing out the lot at 101 Main St. They also painted a porch, mowed lawns, and removed debris from yards.

"The smiles and laughter I heard from those cutting trees, pulling weeds, and trimming shrubs was exactly what I needed to fill my heart," said Senior Pastor Matthew Wyatt, "we are all one and we were able to show a little bit of that today. I am so proud to pastor so many giving individuals."

Mama Monacelli's to Open at Blue Mountain Station

LOCAL CONFECTIONER MOVES INTO SUITE H AFTER WORKING IN BMS'S SHARED COMMERCIAL KITCHEN

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Confectioner Nancy Monacelli said she is looking forward to moving into her new production and retail space in Suite H at the Blue Mountain Station this month.

Mama Monacelli's Kitchen won't be open in time for BMS's Oktoberfest event this weekend, but will be open next week, and will be ready to help customers with all their daily and holiday needs, she said.

"I'm looking forward to having my whole line in the suite," said Monacelli.

The 1,080 sq. ft. suite will have clear sight lines, plenty of room for production, assembly and sales, and its own storage space, which Monacelli hopes will help grow the business.

Monacelli said she has been crafting such delights as chocolate bars and bark, savory and sweet nut mixes, English toffee, nut brittles and glazed almonds, and gift baskets in Blue Mountain Station's commercial kitchen since March 2017, when she received her vendor's license.

"I've been making most of what I sell for decades," she said. "My English toffee was always a hit with family and friends at Christmas time. I've been making this for 45 years, and my kids said 'sell this stuff.' So I finally took their advice."

Everything Monacelli makes is gluten free, and she uses a darker, soy-free vegan chocolate, she said. Some of her recipes are family recipes, some are old fashioned recipes, and some are her own creations.

Waitsburg Parks & Rec Board Holds First Meeting

MOVIE NIGHTS AND OTHER EVENTS ARE IN STORE FOR WAITSBURG RESIDENTS

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—The Parks & Recreation board held their first public meeting at the Lions Club Community Building last Thursday. In attendance were Chair Danielle Carpenter, Vice Chair Sandra Morrison, Secretary Justin Stegall, Treasurer Wyatt Withers, as well as three members of the public. Trevor Johnson, Parks & Rec member at large, was excused from the meeting.

Though the department is new, they've been quite active. Besides electing officials for the board, they've met with City Administrator Randy Hinchliffe to discuss future plans.

The group also introduced itself to Waitsburg at the Pioneer Fall Festival, hosting a booth and taking suggestions.

Kickstarting their events series, the Parks & Rec Department held a movie night Sept. 29, featuring Pixar's Monsters, Inc. It was attended by about fifty people. The group discussed continuing movie nights indoors as the weather changes, potentially in Town Hall.

Up next, the board will meet with the Prescott Parks & Rec Dept. on Oct. 3. Their proposed budget is due Oct. 10.

The board is also planning a Dog Park Day, but have not selected an official date for the event yet. Parks & Rec will assist other groups with Halloween plans, and may put together a Halloween movie night.

A bit farther out on the horizon, a Veteran's Day bluegrass concert is in the works.

Overall the meeting was a success. "We updated everyone on what we have done and learned so far as a board as well as what we are planning to do for projects and such," said Chair Danielle Carpenter.

Parks & Rec meetings are held the last Thursday of every month at 6 p.m., and are open the public.

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Ten Years Ago-October 9, 2008

Photo caption: Something strange-Halloween-like-is going on at Bill Fisher's place at 416 Willard. Fisher and his daughter, Nikki, have a "papple" tree growing. It's a special kind of tree that grows both apples and pumpkins, as well, is just one of those "Waitsburg. One of a Kind" kind of things.

The second annual "Holy Bucket Retreat" is scheduled for Saturday, Oct 25 at the First Presbyterian Church of Waitsburg. People from all over the valley are welcomed, encouraged and invited to come for a full day of having your spiritual "bucket" refilled through praise, singing, food, fellowship, prayer, special guest music, Communion, and a guest speaker.

Twenty Five Years Ago-September 30, 1993

Who will eat the goldfish? The Dayton Kiwanis has challenged the Dayton Lions to a contest to see who can gain more new members this year. The winning club gets to sit and watch the president of the losing club eat a live goldfish.

It isn't known whether Spokane television news anchor Randy Shaw, a conservative, will toss his hat into the political ring, challenging Speaker Tom Foley in the 5th Congressional District. But if humor can translate into votes, Shaw would win by a landslide. Just ask the Kiwanis Club members and guests who were thoroughly entertained by the affable anchor last Saturday night, Sept 24, in Dayton.

When FFA member Tom Duckworth sold his blue ribbon market hog Sept 5 at the sale held during Walla Walla Frontier Days, he felt fortunate. Duckworth's 255 pound hog sold for $2.10 a pound, one of the higher priced hogs at the sale. Schmierer of Quick Freeze Locker Service in Walla Walla purchased the animal. "I was pretty happy about the price I got" said Duckworth, 16, a Waitsburg High School sophomore.

Fifty Years Ago-October 3, 1968

Headlines: Glen Hofer travels to Australia to take part in grain agreement talks. Article-Misunderstandings have developed among the world's wheat exporters over what does or does not constitute the proper interpretation of the minimum prices for wheat in the IGA. Charges and counter charges of undercutting the minimum prices have been flying thick and fast. It is hoped this meeting will resolve some of the differences that exist.

A crowd of about 6000 persons gathered on a bluff over-looking the John Day Dam on Saturday to witness formal dedication ceremonies for the mile-long, $448 million structure described as the world's largest multipurpose dam. The major speaker of the day was Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. In his remarks, the Vice President praised the foresight of Pacific Northwest leaders, whose efforts had led to the development, rather than the exploitation, of the Columbia basin's natural resources.

Seventy Five Years Ago-Oct 8, 1943

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dickinson were perhaps never so surprised as on Sunday when they were honored at a special occasion-it being their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The Bozeman Canning Co. has made another addition to their plant within the past week. Although adding nothing to the utility it still adds to the general appearance. It is a 45-foot flag pole, topped by the "Stars and Stripes."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bachmann announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Lt. Wm. C. Weaver, U. S. Army Infantry. The marriage took place Sept 24 at Colfax Wa.

One Hundred Years Ago-Oct 11, 1918

Miss Christina Mae McDougal of this city and Mrs. Madison L. Weaver of Bickleton, Wash, were married Saturday afternoon, Oct 5 at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, West Sixth Street. Rev. John F. Garver, pastor of the Methodist Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The electric water heater at the W. G. Sherham residence caused an explosion of the hot water tank Sunday which rocked the dwelling on its foundation, and the red-hot wires set fire to the ceiling and the attic of the laundry room.

Grocers are now allowed to sell one month's supply of sugar to a customer, the supply being based on the two pounds per person a month ration.

One Hundred Twenty-Five Years Ago Oct 13, 1893

The Christian Sunday School will give a concert in the Christian Church on Sunday evening. A splendid program has been arranged, and a treat is in store for all who attend.

Tis strange how it sometimes generally most always happens that Hon. E. L. Brunton and Miss Isabella Ramsay make their visits to Waitsburg on the same days of the week.

A Washington correspondent says that Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle work like mules. That is the trouble with the entire administration. They work like mules instead of intelligent men.

Letters Welcome

Letters should be no more than 400 words long. All letters must be signed by the writer(s) using their actual name, and complete contact information for each writer, including address and phone number must be included.

We reserve the right to decline to publish any letter that we deem inappropriate for our readership.

Dear Editor,

I was pleased to see a recent article in the Spokesman Review regarding how the tax cuts benefit the middle class. It is time people hear the truth about the tax cut instead of the many misconceptions and biased reports.

Not one but three trustworthy accountants backed the claim that the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act are saving middle class Americans money. One of them stated, "some people will pay more, some will pay less... for simple returns, people are saving money." I am retired middle class and have benefitted from the cuts...Unlike Nancy Pelosi, who considers these cuts, "crumbs."

Who do we have to thank for the tax cuts? Cathy McMorris Rodgers. She was a key legislator in these tax cuts that continue to bring flourishing results to our economy here in Eastern Washington and across the United States. This is just one more reason why she is the best choice for Congress for the people of Eastern Washington.

SUPPORT URGED FOR MATT STROE

Dear Editor,

Matt Stroe is the embodiment of what it is to be a community leader. I have known Matt for many years and I am impressed by his commitment to service in our community. Since his time at the Sheriff's began over eleven years ago, Matt has donned the robe and face paint to be the Grim Reaper for the Every15 Minute Program put on to educate and detour underage drinking and driving. Upon leaving the Sheriff's Office, Matt continued to volunteer his time each year to the program because he believed in the cause.

SUPPORT MARK CRIDER FOR SHERIFF

Dear Editor,

During Mark's first month as undersheriff at the Walla Walla County Sheriff's Office, he made it a point to attend roll calls and ride-along with different deputies. During the roll calls, Mark allowed deputies to ask him questions about his views on leadership, his life, the direction he wants to take the sheriff's office, and anything else that came to mind. Mark was open and honest throughout these conversations. I, along with several of my squad mates, appreciated his willingness to speak with us candidly on various topics.

Shortly after Mark attended our roll call, he asked me if he could ride-along with me for part of my shift. This ride-along was not to "evaluate" me or tell me how to do my job, no; it was to be my backup, get to know me personally, and understand my views on the issues that face Walla Walla County in regards to law enforcement. During this shift, Mark assisted me on a traffic stop and serving civil papers. He even acted as my partner during a building search. This allowed me to conduct the building search without requesting a second unit, which in turn left more patrol deputies available to better serve the citizens of Walla Walla County.

Mark's 10 years in the navy, 22 years in the FBI, his education, and his various training certificates make him the most qualified candidate to be the next Walla Walla County Sheriff. But above all else, Mark is an incredible leader and mentor. Please join me in voting for Mark Crider as the next Sheriff of Walla Walla County.

WHY IS PATIT ROAD NOT FIXED?

Dear Editor,

I am writing about the recent FEMA road construction that has been taking place here in Dayton.

This April I was overjoyed to receive a letter stating that there would be road repair going on around town, including near where I live on East Patit Avenue. In May they did repair on the sewer lines/electrical on my road, and I was preparing for the official construction to begin when it suddenly all stopped. I read in the newspaper that they were going to continue construction later in the summer - only that never happened. All of the other roads that had been marked as "damage sites" were now being repaired, so I assumed that my road would be one of the last to be finished.

If you have ever driven on East Patit Avenue you will quickly find out that it is one of the worst roads in Dayton, it receives a lot of heavy truck traffic generated by Seneca vehicles resulting in large potholes, and crumbly pavement. I realize that this road is used by Seneca, but most importantly it is used by people that live on that street.

A few weeks ago I called the city to see if they could give me more information on East Patit Ave being fixed, but they were unable to provide me with an answer. It is now October and no work has been done on my road. The paper recently stated that the FEMA road construction is due to finish on October 15, which gives me a sneaking suspicion that my road will not be fixed.

Why is the East Patit Avenue road not scheduled to be fixed? It is a complete road hazard, and it should be the top priority.

SUPPORT CATHY LOFTUS SHOCHET

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to voice my support for Cathy Loftus Shochet to be our next Columbia County Treasurer. I have known Cathy from the time she was in school with our kids, and now I know her on a professional basis. She's in her third year as Columbia County Deputy Treasurer.

I'm the treasurer for our Senior Center, which is also a County department, so I have contact with her on a regular basis. I think she has a great work ethic. I have found her to be knowledgeable and efficient with a pleasant professional attitude.

I've heard that some people are not recognizing her last name. She uses the name Shochet because she's been married to her husband, Steve, for over 15 years. She grew up here as a Green Giant kid; her folks, Jack and Evelyn Loftus, worked for the cannery. Cathy's a member of the DHS Alumni Association and is an active member of our community.

Yes, she lived on the west side for a few decades, but I think that her experience working with larger companies has made her very qualified to work with the many County departments.

Please give Cathy your vote. On the job, EXPERIENCE matters.

DGH Rehab Dept. Has New Hours

NEW EMPLOYEES HAVE COME ON BOARD FOR PHYSICAL THERAPY AND MASSAGE THERAPY

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—The Rehabilitation Department at Dayton General Hospital is staying open late to help accommodate customers' schedules. The department is now open 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, according to Physical Therapy Assistant Bryce Scott.

Scott, along with his partner Jessica Parry, who is also a licensed Physical Therapy Assistant, have been assisting the physical therapists on staff at Dayton General Hospital with an increasing patient load.

At the discretion of the Physical Therapist, and following the plan of care outlined for the patient, Bryce and Scott use manual therapy, therapeutic exercise and treatment with modalities like electrical stimulation and ultrasound, and Anodyne therapy, to help patients achieve optimum health.

"Our director is a very big believer in Anodyne therapy," said Parry.

Anodyne therapy is used for issues like chronic pain, peripheral neuropathy, and foot pathology, she explained.

In addition to the work they do at the hospital, Bryce and Parry are attending all Waitsburg/Dayton athletic combine games as medical staff.

"It's fun to be on the medical side of it all," said Bryce.

The pair are also teaching SAIL, a one-hour exercise class at Columbia County Senior Center on Thursdays, where they help seniors with balance training and mobility. The class aims to help with activities of daily living through upper and lower body strengthening, which is important in preventing falls, Bryce said.

Licensed Massage Therapists Jennifer Riggs and Christine Richards said they had a good time in their booth at this year's Columbia County Fair.

"We had the most popular booth at the fair," said Richards.

Richards and Riggs are inviting people to experience more of what they can do for anxiety and depression, digestive disorders, fibromyalgia, headaches, insomnia, T-M joint pain, strains or injuries to the soft tissues, and myofascial pain, by scheduling an appointment with them at Dayton General Hospital.

Richards also does cold stone therapy for headaches and migraines. She said hot stone therapy is coming soon.

In addition to regularly scheduled appointments during the week, the pair offer $10 chair massages, from 10 am until 2 pm, on Saturdays.

"It's a gift you can give yourself. It's just for you. It really effects your day in a positive way," said Riggs.

The Physical Therapy Department can be reached by phone at: 382-2531. Appointments with the Massage therapists can be made by phone at: 382-3202. No scheduling is required for the Saturday Massage therapy sessions.

Voluntary Stewardship Program Approved for Columbia County

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Columbia County Planning Director Meagan Bailey told County Commissioners last week that the county's Voluntary Stewardship Plan has been approved by a state technical panel on the Washington State Conservation Commission.

VSP is an optional incentive-based program to assist landowners in protecting and enhancing critical areas, while promoting agriculture in the county. It is allowed under the state's Growth Management Act, with the goal to reduce tension between competing GMA goals related to agricultural viability and protection of critical areas.

Critical areas are defined by the WSCC as wetland areas, aquifer recharge areas, areas for fish and wildlife, frequently flooded areas, geologically hazardous areas, and areas with critical recharging effect on potable water.

In March, the county's Watershed Work Group held a public meeting in Dayton to present the draft Work Plan, before submitting it to the state technical panel, in May. The plan was adopted at the end of June, said Bailey.

Members of the work group included Roland Schirman, Don Brigham, Meagan Bailey, Dena Martin, Justin Pearson, Marty Hall, Norm Passmore, Terry Bruegman, Janet Howard and Don Howard ty Conservation District will serve as the technical lead for Plan implementation and monitoring, she said.

Next steps are to send surveys to local farmers to gauge their interest in opting into VSP. Individual stewardship plans will be created for those who opt in.

Bailey said there will be cost share dollars allocated through a Conservation Grant.

The county opted into the VSP in 2011, and funding was made available in 2015. Phase I of the project began in January 2016 and ended in June 2017. Bailey said the project is now in Phase II, for the second round of funding.

Monacelli said her business keeps her hopping. She takes her wares to local farmers markets and to local wine and chocolate pairing events. She also has a large number of wholesale orders to fill for customers as far away as Yellowstone and the Cascades.

Monacelli's husband, Richard, helps with the packaging, and she is considering hiring a granddaughter to help out.

"We understand small business at our house," she said.

Before becoming a confectioner Monacelli spent 25 years in software and development for manufacturing, and her husband is a business development specialist, she said.

Monacelli said there is no commercial kitchen in Walla Walla, where the family lives, so they are happy to be working out of Blue Mountain Station.

"The Port here has been so supportive. I can't say enough," she said.

Waitsburg City Council Report

Sept. 19, 2018

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—In attendance at the meeting of the City Council was Mayor Marty Dunn, as well as councilmembers Terry Jacoy, Kevin House, Jim Romine and Kate Hockersmith. Councilmember KC Kuykendall asked to be excused from the meeting.

Public Comment included mention of recent Commercial Club successes both at the Columbia County Fair and Pioneer Fall Festival.

Danielle Carpenter, representing the Parks & Recreation Dept. was on hand to share that the board is full of active members. Upcoming events was to include a Movie Night in the Park on Sept. 29. The first movie will be Monsters, Inc. and the event will be free to all. The Parks & Rec. Dept. will also hold public meetings on the fourth Thursday of each month at 6 p.m. This month's meeting was held at the Lions Club, but the venue is not permanent.

The wastewater treatment plant discussion continued, as the council was presented with packets containing three quotes for replacement belt presses, each well over $200,000, not including installation or engineering costs.

Options include BDP Industries, Inc. quote for $259,000. Bid includes a three-belt filter press with a wall mount, power unit, flow meter, eight-foot discharge belt, a one-year warranty. The bid also includes eight days of on-site services spread over two trips, for startup, mechanical checkout and operator training. Freight to the jobsite is also included.

Option two is a Tritan 500 Series Belt Filter Press Polymer Dilution and Activation Cake Discharge System by Aero-Mod. The bid is $252,800 plus tax and installation. The quote includes the system, control panel, liquid feed polymer system, high pressure air compressor, auger system, freight to job site, and one day's training with a representative.

The third option presented was for PumpTech's Tefsa Belt Press, control panel, including freight to jobsite, for $224,357.03

Of the three, city administrator Randy Hinchliffe and Public Works staff recommend the Council approve the purchase of the Aero-Mod system utilizing the City's remaining line of credit with Community Bank to cover the cost of equipment, installation and other related expenses as yet uncalculated.

City staff said they selected the Aero-Mod system because it has a smaller footprint than the others, with a bigger capacity and local representatives to back it up. The new system would pump 120 gallons per minute, versus the aging system's 40 gallons per minute.

"For our rate of growth, we would never outgrow this press," said Jake Adams. Aero-mod also has a portable press they are offering to help emergency needs, which they will deliver by mid-October for free.

The Council voted 3-1 to approve purchase of the Aero-Mod system, not to exceed $350,000. Terry Jacoy voted no.

The council discussed the City Planning Commission's membership. Only three active members remain on the seven-member board: Ryan Rodgers, Karen Greggutt-Stanton and KC Kuykendall.

Mayor Dunn entertained a motion to change to board structure from seven to five members, which passed unanimously. The council then unanimously approved the appointment of Norm Bloom and Lynn Carpenter to the Planning Commission.

In other new business, the council discussed the TIB Fuel Tax Grant Agreement, which covers the replacement of 150 incandescent street lights with LED. The change is projected to save a minimum of $7,000 per year.

Dunn reported that the levy work is completed. He also wanted to thank the firefighters who responded in the recent Main Street fire.

It is Dunn's opinion that City Manager Randy

Hinchliffe should be commended for his water treatment response published in The Times.

Councilmember Kate Hockersmith reported that the Emergency Preparedness Committee will be working on improving fire safety. The recent Main Street fire had an impressive turnout, with 22 of 27 volunteers on the scene within the hour. Distrit 2 Fire Chief Neil Henze mentioned that there was a problem with one of our fire hydrants. After the fire was extinguished, firefighters were unable to turn the water off due to gravel in the line. City officials thought the gravel might have been there from a previous incident.

City administrator Randy Hinchliffe estimated the replacement hydrant would cost $7,000. He requested any remaining money be allocated for an emergency generator at the well head. That would assure that in the event of a power failure, water pumps will still flow if there were a fire or general drought.

CAROLYN HENDERSON: TALK ABOUT ART

COURTESY PHOTOS

Dreams of Outer Space

Dreams and goals, by their nature, contain an element of the impossible. If they didn't, they'd be just be ordinary activities we take for granted (although, interestingly, one person's ordinary activities are often another person's dream).

For Dorothy Metcalf-Lindenburger, a former teacher who became an astronaut and is now a geologist for a private firm, she knew from a young age that she wanted to be all three. And though the three dreams seem separate, they share an appreciation for science she developed in elementary and middle school, sparked by projects like distilling fruit food waste into ethanol that eventually ran her teacher's lawnmower.

Science spoke to her.

"Science brought you together with other people who were collaborating to understand how to solve big problems," Metcalf-Lindenburger says. "Science helped you to meet those new people, Science solved problems. I wanted to be one of those scientists."

Art, also, speaks to the retired astronaut, who in her 10-year career with NASA met the Apollo astronauts who were the first – and only – 12 humans to walk on the surface of the moon. One of these astronauts was Alan Bean, who retired from space travel to chronicle it on canvas, creating paintings of another world by somebody who was actually there.

"I first became aware of Bean's work when I worked at Wenaha Gallery while I was attending Whitman College," Metcalf-Lindenburger explains. "I was very impressed and interested in its details." Little did she know that less than ten years later she, like Bean, would fly in space.

On Saturday, Metcalf-Lindenburger will be at Wenaha Gallery (219 E. Main, Dayton) to talk about achieving dreams, as well as about her mission in the space shuttle Discovery to the International Space Station, 250 miles from the earth. Metcalf-Lindenburger's free talk, which begins at 10:30 at the gallery, is part of Wenaha's Autumn Art Show that runs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Also featured at the show are Walla Walla acrylic pour artist Joyce Klassen, Richland jewelry artist Venita Simpson, artisan treats by framer/chef Savannah, live music by Walla Walla musician Roy Anderson, and a free Steve Henderson note card to every visitor.

In addition, the gallery is showcasing a wall of artwork the late Alan Bean, who passed away in May of this year. All Bean fine art editions in stock are 10 percent off on the day of the show.

TEENY MCMUNN: MY RECIPE BOX

Turkey Veggie Meatloaf Cups

I thought I'd give you a break from all the sweet recipes, although I made Greek Yogurt Chocolate Zucchini Bread this weekend and it was great. Made with coconut oil, honey, and not much brown sugar. Very chocolatey and not too sweet. I'm going to try to switch to apple and pumpkin recipes so if you think you would like this recipe, let me know.

I have this turkey meatloaf mixed and ready for the oven—see report.

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 c. coarsely chopped zucchini
- 1 ½ c. coarsely chopped onion
- 1 red bell pepper, coarsely chopped
- 1 pound extra lean ground turkey
- ½ c. uncooked couscous

- 1 egg
- 2 Tbsp Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp Dijon mustard
- ½ c. barbecue sauce

DIRECTIONS:

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Spray 20 muffin cups with cooking spray. Place zucchini, onions, and red bell pepper into a food processor, and pulse several times until finely chopped but not liquefied. Place the vegetables into a bowl, and mix in ground turkey, couscous, egg, Worcestershire sauce and Dijon mustard until thoroughly combined. Fill each prepared muffing cup about ¾ full. Top each cup with about one teaspoon of barbecue sauce.

Bake in the preheated oven until juices run clear, about 25 minutes. Internal temperature of a muffin measured by an instant-read meat thermometer should be at least 160 degrees F. Let stand one minute before serving.

MY NOTES:

I didn't add the red pepper, as it is poison in my house, at least with one of us. And typical for me, I sort of read the recipe when I put it together and now realize that the barbecue sauce should go on top, not with everything else. I'll report how that turns out. REPORT-I think it added flavor (Sweet Baby Ray's) to the mixture, but next time I will add a bit more couscous. I think it would have been more firm without the extra liquid, but they still held their shape when taken out of the pan.

Not having a food processor, I thought I'd use the blender and accomplish the same. NOT. The blender didn't pull the top layer to the bottom, so I tried turning it over each time I turned it on. That still did not work.

I finally put it all back on the cutting board and chopped it into small pieces.

Couscous is a little pricey, so if you would like to borrow a half cup, let me know.

As you can see in the picture, I baked squash with apple, butter, brown sugar, and cinnamon. It was a great accompaniment with the turkey meatloaf and a good use of the hot oven. I baked both at the same time. Delicious. ENJOY!

MOMENTS IN TIME

The History Channel

On Oct. 20, 1803, the U.S. Senate approves a treaty with France providing for the purchase of the territory of Louisiana, which would double the size of the United States. President Thomas Jefferson believed it was essential for the U.S. to maintain control of the mouth of the Mississippi River.

On Oct. 18, 1931, Thomas Alva Edison, one of the most prolific inventors in history, dies at the age of 84. Edison received little formal schooling, but he employed assistants who provided the mathematical and technical expertise he lacked.

PENALTIES AND TURNOVERS AGAIN HAUNT DAYTON-WAITSBURG IN SECOND LOSS AT HOME

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

DAYTON—The Dayton-Waitsburg football team jumped out to an early 6-0 lead against Mabton on Friday in their homecoming game here. But penalties again slowed DW down, as Mabton roared back and won big, 28-8/

In the first quarter, DW quarterback Brayden Miller hit Shaun Evans for a 24-yard touchdown pass to give his team the early lead. After a failed two-point conversion, Mabton came back with a TD of their own and led 7-6 after one quarter.

The Vikings scored twice in the second. However, Miller was able to put two more points on the board for DW with a sack of Mabton's quarterback in the endzone, giving the home team a safety.

DW was penalized 11 times in the game for 117 yards. The team also lost three fumbles and had one pass intercepted.

"A frustrating loss to Mabton," said DW Coach Troy Larsen. "Again, outside of passing yardage, DW lead in every category Friday night. Our penalties are unacceptable, and it is really hurting us. Every score Mabton had was after a 15-yard DW penalty, and we have our heads down instead of moving onto the next play."

Late in the game, Miller was ejected after being penalized for a late hit. Because of the ejection, Miller will miss this week's game against Liberty Christian.

"Miller didn't make a bad play. He was just a little late when he hit the pile," said Larsen. "But when you have so many penalties as a team, you start getting some bad calls, and that was one of them."

Larsen was encouraged by the play of Miller and running back/receiver Chris Andrews Friday night.

"We did have some great play from Miller at QB and his DE spot, as he tallied our first safety of the year on a QB sack. And Miller did a great job at QB scrambling away instead of taking a sack, and made some smart throws down the field Friday night," Larsen said. "Chris Andrews also had a great game with over 250 all-purpose yards, while making two or three highlight reel type catches."

For the game, Miller completed seven of 17 pass attempts for 78 yards. He also had one interception. Damien Johnson rushed the ball 16 times for 70 yards, and Miller had 13 runs for 60 yards.

Andrews seven passes in the game for 78 yards.

DW travels to Liberty Christian this week for a Friday night game, which starts at 7 p.m.

"This week against Liberty Christian we are going to take advantage of our most physical player Jarred Williams and move him to fullback, while moving Chris Andrews to QB in the absence of Miller," Larsen said. "I am looking forward to see how we respond, and I expect a clean game with few penalties."
