City official Jake Adams works to update Waitsburg's Main St. fire hydrants.

Following last month's fire, fire fighters had trouble stemming the flow due to gravel in the line.

The gravel was thought to have been leftover from a previous fire.

The excavation pictured has since been paved over.

Candidates for Columbia County Offices Appear at Forum

COMPETITIVE RACES INCLUDE THOSE FOR SHERIFF, COMMISSIONER AND TREASURER

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—The Dayton chapter of the American Association of University Women held a Candidates' Forum to allow voters in Columbia County to hear from and ask questions of candidates for local races. Candidates for Columbia County Sheriff, Columbia County Commissioner from Dist. 3 and Columbia County Treasurer all appeared, along with candidates for two local seats in the Washington State House of Representatives.

Columbia County Sheriff

Columbia County Chief Deputy Joe Helm and Narcotics Deputy Jeff Jenkins share many ideas on how to move the Sheriff's Department forward, including ways to establish community trust, creating a reserve deputy force to fill gaps in inadequate patrolling, and working with the school district to improve safety.

They even share similar ideas about how to accomplish goals, including utilizing grants and working closely with other agencies to solve problems.

Helm said the main reason he is running for sheriff is because of the rash of burglaries due to a drug epidemic that is plaguing the community. He said his plan is to provide for a community oriented policing program and to share resources with other agencies, along with creating a citizen's academy, to curb those problems.

Helm's background as a corrections officer in Walla Walla County, his work with a gang unit in the Walla Walla Police Department, his training on a DEA task force, and the relationships he has established have prepared him for the task, he said.

"I feel strongly about community involvement with law enforcement. We cannot do our job effectively without you," Helm said.

Jenkins said he has prior experience as a jailer, and he has attended Corrections Academy and Basic Law Enforcement Academy, during his employment with the Payette County Sheriff's Department in Idaho.

He said he has served with five different sheriffs. His appointment to a narcotics taskforce in 2006 and subsequent DEA surveillance training has given him the experience he needs to do the job, he said.

"The drug problem is an epidemic, and it's not going to get better any time soon, so we need to put the screws to it and get it under control," said Jenkins.

Jenkins said he wants to hire a part-time detective to investigate drug crimes. He also wants to work with the school district to create a zero-tolerance drug-free zone around the schools.

"My first priority is to get the Sheriff's Department up to full staff," said Jenkins, who hopes the department can become more proactive when that is accomplished.

Jenkins said he has become familiar with the grant-writing process through his participation in local youth groups such as 4-H and Little League, and budgeting processes also through his participation in youth pro-

Local Club Takes Part in National 4-H Week

CLUB ACTIVITIES ARE ON DISPLAY IN DOWNTOWN WAITSBURG STOREFRONT

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—National 4-H week is underway in Walla Walla County. Local groups are taking to storefronts to create displays representing their areas of expertise.

"Our club, Homegrown Go Wild, does...everything," said general leader Cindy Daves during the installation. This year the group added shooting sports to their already impressive repertoire.

"We became the Walla Walla County Shooting Sports Club on top of doing livestock, cooking, food preservation, photography, science, art and public speaking, said Daves. She and Beth Daves are co-leaders, while Leslie Nichols is an unofficial leader in this group, but is also a formal leader in another.

Columbia County 4-H clubs encompass a range of project areas from cooking and sewing, to livestock and shooting sports. All activities are youth driven. Each club begins the year with their display, then they meet to discuss what events the children want to participate in.

This year Homegrown Go Wild participated in the Top Chef cooking competition which requires tablescaping as well as preparing a meal for judges.

"We had three kids qualify and participate in state where they actually had to prepare their foods and do their demonstrations in front of people walking through the state fair," said Daves.

While everything begins at the local level, some amount of travel is required of participants. Homegrown Go Wild participates in the Waitsburg Junior Livestock Show, the Columbia County Fair, the Walla Walla County Fair, and this year went as far as the Palouse Em-

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Ten Years Ago-October 16, 2008

The biggest who of the year (in actual numbers)---High School MASS Band and Chorus---is coming to the Waitsburg High School gym on Wednesday, October 22. Around 300 high school band and choral students from all over the area will descend on WHS Wednesday afternoon. They have been preparing certain pieces of music at their home schools from Touchet to Rosalia for the last month. On Wednesday they will all rehearse together for the first in time with expert conductors, and perform an enormous concert on the gym floor at 7pm.

Eleven planes piloted by aerial applicators from three states converged on the Huntsville Airport last week. In the fly-in, Washington State University and University of Idaho experts tested the accuracy and spray-patterns of the airplanes. The planes are used to apply fertilizers and pesticides on crops. Aerial applicators attend much "fly-ins" on a voluntary basis to increase accuracy in applying farm chemicals. To test their planes' spray systems, pilots flew low to the ground, making three passes over a 100 foot cotton string-the target area. As they flew over the string, the applicators "sprayed" it with a colorful water-based fluorescent dye..

Columbia County Commissioners were presented with a gift on Monday, Oct. 4-a quilt with a depiction of the county Courthouse on it. The full size quilt was a gift of Ann Slaybaugh of Dayton.. The commissioners decided to place the quilt in the county safe in the Courthouse until they decide where the quilt will be displayed inside the newly restored building on Main Street.

Fifty Years Ago-October 10, 1968

Walter Schnell, President of Schnell Industrial Cleaners of College Place, spent his Tuesday lunch hour in Preston Park playing with his granddaughter. He lost his billfold somewhere on the lawn, but did not notice it at the time. Tuesday evening he made a phone call from home to Judge A. C. Watson who contacted Officer Bud Todt via the two-way radio. The radio-dispatched patrol car located the billfold within ten minutes of Schnell's original call. One wonders of modern electronics.

Waitsburg Camp Fire Council board members, leaders, and interested adults enjoyed a turkey dinner Wednesday evening, Oct 2, in the Legion Banquet Rooms. Plans were made and Camp Fire was explained to newcomers to the group, with Bob Sickles presiding. Leaders for this year are Nancy Otterson, Bluebirds: Janis Austin, fourth grade: Kay Pettichord, sixth grade: Martha Kenney, eighth grade.

Apple harvest for both Jonathans and Delicious is at its peak in this vicinity. The Danielson and bode orchards in Waitsburg, and others in and around Dayton are gathering the year's crop now although the Banana and other late varieties are not yet ripe enough to pick.

Acting under orders from Dr. T. D. Tuttle, state commissioner of public health, Dr. R. E. Butler, City Health officer, issued an order last Friday morning, prohibiting any public gatherings in Waitsburg until further notice. The cause of the drastic closing was that a couple of cases of Spanish influenza had shown up.

Eight-five pounds or several million lady-bugs were brought to Walla Walla County Saturday by County Agent H. H. Boone for storage during the winter at Walla Walla Meat and Cold Storage Company's warehouse. Mr. Boone is planning a big aphid campaign here next year.

The contract for building a bridge across the spring branch just west of the county line on the Whiskey Creek has been let to John C. McCarthur and he will begin work on the same as soon as lumber can be got on the ground. The bridge is much needed and the fact that it is to be built will be welcome news to the many who travel that road.

NEWS BRIEFS

WAITSBURG COUNCIL BUDGET WORKSHOP

WAITSBURG—The Waitsburg City Council hosted a budget workshop with city staff at the Waitsburg Business Center on Oct. 4 to review various items impacting this year's budget as well as discuss future projects.

“It's more or less an open discussion forum between me and the City Council,” said City Administrator Randy Hinchliffe. The 2018 budget is $2,169,000. The major project completed this year was the water meter replacement project.

The proposed budget for 2019 is $2,104,000. Next year's primary project will be replacing the Wastewater Treatment system. A lower priority project is the Main St. pocket park, which Hinchliffe hopes to get to “some kind of usable space by Celebration Days.”

Nothing has been officially approved yet. The Council will see preliminary numbers in their packet at this month's City Council Meeting to be held October 17 at the Fairgrounds in the Lions Club Building.

WAITSBURG CITY HALL CLOSED FRIDAY

WAITSBURG—Waitsburg City Hall will be closed on Friday. Staff will be out of the office attending a training. Regular office hours commence Monday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

MILLRACE ROAD CLOSURE

WAITSBURG—On Friday, Millrace Rd between Garden St. & Main St. will be closed. Workers will be on the scene from 7 a.m. to at least 3 p.m. working to replace a leaking water valve.

SUPPORT NYSOE

Dear Editor,
I have known Dain Nysoe since the mid-sixties when we competed against each other in high school sports – Dain at Dayton High School and myself at Waitsburg High School. Although we both left our hometowns to pursue our careers, we met again in the early 2000s in Dayton. We have and currently share common interests in education, rural politics, and making life better for all of our fellow rural and small-town citizens.

Dain has had broad life experiences both in rural and urban settings, serving his country in the U.S. Army, in city and county governments, all the while helping to run the family farm here in Columbia County. He was persuaded to run for county commissioner by his “friends.” All of his life experiences will serve both his goals, as well as those of his fellow citizens, as the next county commissioner.

Dain has deep roots in this county, as his family has lived here for over 135 years. Further, Dain has the temperament, knowledge, and the personality necessary to govern well and to address all of our county's needs. We are in critical times for our county and we need someone with Dain's skills at identifying the problems, determining the necessary actions and solving these problems. I urge your support and vote for Dain Nysoe in the fall 2018 election.

SUPPORT URGED FOR AMEREIN

Dear Editor,
I would like to express my support for Chuck Amerein as county Commissioner. I have known Mr. Amerein for many years. He is a man with integrity. Whom is honest, fair and committed to our county. He is passionate about this area and bringing good employment to our county. He is active with the American Legion along with CC friends of the fair-grounds and others. Support Chuck Amerein. Thank you,

SUPPORT STROE FOR SHERIFF

Dear Editor,
Over the past several years, the Sheriff's Office has experienced a considerable amount of controversy in the administration of the office. In addition, the controversies have divided the deputy's loyalties which I believe to be a dangerous situation, especially in law enforcement.

In 2015, under the term of the current Sheriff, the County Commissioners determined it would be in the best interest of the county to create a Department of Corrections and remove the jail responsibilities from the Sheriff.

For the first time in the history of our county, the administration of the county jail has been removed from under the responsibility of the Sheriff.

It is important to me to have a Sheriff who not only is qualified in the law enforcement arena and has a history in our county but is also knowledgeable about our community, wants to live and raise his family here and won't be moving to procure a more lucrative opportunity in the future.

I understand in 2018 Mark Crider was recruited to fill the position of undersheriff by the current Sheriff. Mr. Crider has no local ties in the Walla Walla area, he has no history here nor does he know our community. I'm questioning how long Mr. Crider will want to remain in Walla Walla County.

Matt Stroe IS local, he isn't going anywhere. He has lived, served and volunteered in our community his entire life and I can tell you with certainty, he will NOT be moving. He is looking forward to retiring in this community just as his grandparents and parents did.

Over the years I have determined, all that glitters is not gold. It is time for stability in one of the most important offices in our county.

Please consider joining me in voting for Matt Stroe for Sheriff.

PLEASE SUPPORT MARK CRIDER

Dear Editor,
In my 35 years with the Walla Walla County Sheriff's Office, I've worked my way through the ranks serving as a deputy, corporal, and sergeant. Four Sheriff's have served during my time at the WWSO and all were highly qualified, trained, and more than capable of doing the job. One was born and raised in Walla Walla; three others were not. All served very well in the position and left the office better than when they arrived. I have a long view of the office and that is why I can say, without a shadow of a doubt, that Mark Crider is the most qualified, experienced, and capable person I have ever seen run for the position of Walla Walla County Sheriff.

Mark has made a smooth transition from FBI Special Agent to Walla Walla County Undersheriff. He has done something I have seen few administrators do in my career; he has reached out to deputies across the ranks to find out what drives, motivates, and concerns them about the job. He has ridden with deputies, both on and off duty, to get a sense as to where they want to take the WWSO in the future. His depth of law enforcement knowledge, experience, and training are unmatched in this election. During the primary for this election one of Mark's opponents correctly stated that “the position of county Sheriff is advanced law enforcement...it is no place for on the job training”. I could not agree more and with Mark Crider as Sheriff you can expect that high degree of advanced law enforcement and then some!

Mark Crider is the type of law enforcement professional and leader that I would be proud to serve under any day of the week. That is why the vast majority of deputies in the Walla Walla Commissioned Deputies Association voted to endorse Mark. He is the right man for the right job at the right time. In the continuously changing landscape of law enforcement, Mark Crider has the experience, grit, and knowledge to ensure the deputies at the Walla Walla County Sheriff's Office maintain the expertise with which they have long served this county.

Please join me and my fellow deputies in supporting Mark Crider for Walla Walla County Sheriff.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Dear Editor,
Myself, City Council and City Staff for the City of Waitsburg would like extend our appreciation to all the local fire crews for coming to the aid of Fire District #2 recently to help extinguish the structural fires burning on Main Street here in Waitsburg.

Without aid to our local fire department from the surrounding area fire districts, this fire could have been much worse and ultimately extended to the rest of Main Street including Waitsburg City Hall; causing much more damage than it did.

It a good feeling to know that there are still people in our communities willing to help others; regardless of need and for that we are sincerely grateful.

SUPPORT CHUCK AMEREIN AS COMMISSIONER

Dear Editor,
After attending the Dayton High School Youth and Government Columbia County Candidate Debate, and the AAUW Candidates Forum, it became clear to me that both candidates for Columbia County Commissioner have a sincere desire to serve the county and both candidates have considerable qualifying experience.

Chuck Amerein's participation and leadership experience in extremely high-stress military assignments as Airborne Ranger in Panama, Green Beret in Iraq, and Security Contractor in Iraq, has given him an extraordinary background in logistics, personnel and project management. Chuck's experience as a private business owner/operator and Commander of the American Legion Post 42 has broadened his understanding of the inner workings of Columbia County. Further, Chuck's diligence in attending numerous County Commissioner meetings has secured his understanding of County administration, policies and procedures.

I think Chuck Amerein's unique background and directly related experience gives him the edge for Columbia County Commissioner.

SUPPORT DAIN NYSOE FOR COMMISSIONER

Dear Editor,
It is with great pleasure that I fully endorse Dain Nysoe for Columbia County Commissioner.

I find Dain intelligent and honest with an exceptional work ethic. His experience with local government is well known and he is presently serving as a Dayton City Council member. He serves on the Financial Committee and has exhibited exceptional fiscal responsibility regarding the city.

Dain is committed to the community and concerned with the advancement and development of Columbia County. He has made a concerted effort to reach out to the smaller communities, Starbuck included, and appreciates the interaction with various constituents.

Dain is totally dedicated to the best interests of Columbia County and will work tirelessly for each of you.

Make your vote count – vote Dain Nysoe for Columbia County Commissioner, 3rd District.

Paul Gregutt Releases Record and Video

By Brianna Wray | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—Waitsburg musician and wine writer Paul Gregutt, has released a single and accompanying video for his song "Lights Out." The song was written by Gregutt and recorded at Super Plaid Studios in Walla Walla.

The video's scenes were filmed by Gregutt's wife, Karen Stanton-Gregutt, in Seattle's homeless encampments. It was edited by Moe Shore, who overlaid somber shots of Gregutt strumming his acoustic guitar under a spotlight.

The lyrics paint a picture of a general homeless character, as seen in many urban cities.

"He's sleeping underneath the bridge with just enough cheap wine to kill the cold," sings Gregutt, "and deep in his dreams of the wife and kids, his prison opens wide and he's paroled."

Gregutt is offering the song free of charge to any organization working to aid the homeless.

"Please angels set this spirit free," he sings, "take this troubled soul and fly away cause I know it might just as well be me and nothing's quite as peaceful as a grave."

DW Falls to Liberty Christian, 30-12

SHORTHANDED DAYTON-WAITSBURG TEAM KEPT THE GAME CLOSE INTO THE SECOND HALF

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

RICHLAND—A shorthanded Dayton-Waitsburg football team traveled to Richland to play Liberty Christian on Friday, and took the loss, 30-12.

DW was without its starting quarterback, Brayden Miller, who was suspended for one game after a flagrant penalty the previous week. Coach Troy Larsen moved regular wide receiver Chris Andrews to the backfield and went with a run-oriented offense.

“With my starting QB and backup QB out, DW went with the wildcat offense with Chris Andrews running the offense,” Larsen said. “Chris, Damian Johnson and Jarrod Williams did great at the running back spots, running for 252 yards and keeping the game close. Our offensive line played with a ton of heart and with no substitutions showed me a lot by playing a whole game and not letting up.”

DW kept the game close well into the third quarter. In the first, Johnson broke free for a 38-yard touchdown run to make the score 8-6. In the third, defensive back Adam Puckett intercepted an LC pass and returned it 40 yards for a TD, narrowing the score to 16-12.

DW had many missed opportunities however. “We were again inside the five-yard line four times and came away with no points,” Larsen said. “If we can start converting those red zone possessions we will start winning football games.”

“On defense we gave up some big pass plays that ultimately was the game,” he added. “We have struggled with coverage the last couple of years and have been working hard to get the right players in the defensive back field.”

For the game, Johnson carried the ball 24 times for 125 yards. Andrews had 25 carries for 114 yards. Andrews and backup quarterback Sean Evans each completed one pass.

“I am so proud of my team and the way we attacked the game Friday night,” Larsen said. “The players stayed positive the whole game and it was the hardest fought football game we have had in the last two years. We head to Kittitas Friday, and I can't wait to see how we play against them.”

Former Astronaut Speaks in Dayton

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Former astronaut Dorothy Metcalf-Lindenburger was at the Wenaha Gallery Saturday during Dayton on Tour to present “Rocks to Rockets,” the story of her evolution from a third grader inspired by geology and the astronaut Sally Ride to becoming part of a crew aboard the Space Shuttle Discovery.

In April 2010 the Discovery, with a crew of 13, lifted off from Kennedy Space Center with six tons of equipment and supplies for the International Space Station.

“This was really an awesome time,” she said. “The Milky Way, the colors and stars were really beautiful.”

Metcalf-Lindenburger retired from NASA in 2014. She lives in Seattle and serves on the board of the Museum of Flight, the Challenger Center Board, and on the Board of Nature Bridge Environmental Science.

XO ALAMBIC RELEASE

On Saturday, founder and master distiller Rusty Figgins released his new brandy, Clos Sainte-Rose XO, Edition No. 2, at XO Alambic, a distillery located at the Blue Mountain Station in Dayton.

Figgins said this brandy is named after the historic St. Rose Mission in the Walla Walla Valley. Figgins said mission clergy blessed and served their own supply of brandy, after their communion wine had spoiled during the long trek westward.

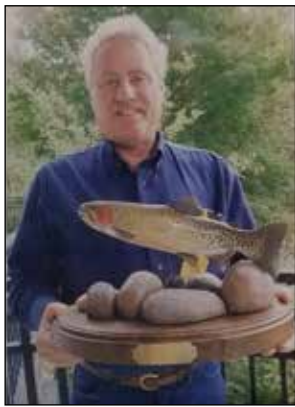

Clos Sainte-Rose XO received the Gold Medal for Best Brandy in 2018 by Fifty Best, according to Figgins.

Schirm Wins Best in Show

DAYTON—Woodcarver Tom Schirm won Best of Show and Best in the Nation for the Year, at the National Fish Carving Championship, for his decorative life-sized carving of a west slope cutthroat trout. The event took place Sept. 8 and 9, in Vancouver, Wash.

Schirm also won Best of Division for all Miniatures, and Judge’s Choice 2nd Best of Show, for his carving of a miniature brown trout.

Schirm is a habitat biologist for the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife in Dayton. He has been carving for about 20 years, and he works primarily by commission. For more information see Schirm’s website at: www.tomschirmfishcarvings.com.

Western Music Artist to Perform in Dayton

DAYTON—Western music artist Dave Stamey will perform at the Liberty Theater in Dayton at 7 p.m. on Oct. 18.

Stamey was inducted into the Western Music Hall of Fame in 2016. He has been voted entertainer of the year seven times, male performer of the year seven times and songwriter of the year five times by the Western Music Association.

In 2010, 2011 and 2013, True West Magazine named Stamey best living western solo musician, and Western Horseman has declared his Vaquero Song to be one of the greatest Western songs of all time. He has received the Will Rogers Award from the Academy of Western Artists.

Stamey has been a cowboy, mule packer and dude wrangler. He is now one of the most popular Western entertainers working today.

Tickets for Stamey’s show are available in advance at www.libertytheater.org for $20, or at the door.

Helm said that as jail commander for the county he works with the county’s jail budget and he has been reviewing the department’s budget regularly to see where funds can be better utilized. He also has experience with grant writing through the sex offender registry.

Both candidates see a role for nursing services for inmates at the county jail, which will save money in the long run, because inmates will not have to be transported off site to receive some kinds of medical care.

Helm made a point that hiring reserve deputies should be viewed as a temporary solution. He said he believes the hiring process can be made simpler by completing the written and physical testing requirements through the civil service, on site, rather than the eight-month public safety testing process currently in place.

Columbia County Commissioner, Dist. 3

County resident Chuck Amerein is running against Dayton City Council member Dain Nysoe for the County Commissioner seat currently held by Merle Jackson, who is retiring.

Amerein said he was raised in the Methow Valley, a former logging, farming, and ranching community that has fallen on hard times.

“Now, the BLM is trying to get rid of the ranchers,” he said.

Amerein said he has found a refuge in Columbia County and will work hard to maintain the rural nature of the community.

After high school, Amerein enlisted in the Army. As a combat veteran in Special Operations, Amerein was involved in the 1989 invasion of Panama. As a Special Forces Operative, he subsequently undertook missions in Northern Iraq and Yugoslavia. He said that after a brief stint at home, he served additional time in Northern Iraq.

Amerein said he has managed a few million dollars for medical operations for the private security companies he has worked for. He also owned Hammerdown Fitness in Dayton and CrossFit Walla Walla, giving him experience in budgeting and working with personnel.

He is currently working as a journeyman carpenter at the Lyons Ferry Straw Pulp Mill. He is the commander of American Legion Post No. 42. He belongs to the Columbia County Friends of the Fairgrounds.

Amerein said he wants the fairgrounds Pavilion to be used for more trade shows so the fairgrounds can become more self-supporting.

“I don’t have a huge bank of policies,” said Amerein, who has spent considerable time sitting in commissioner meetings.

He said he has been talking with county department heads and road crews to get a better picture of their operations and needs.

“My job will be making sure it all works,” he said. “We can improve efficiency and get more value for our dollars.”

Dain Nysoe said he is running for a seat on the BOCC because he wants to give back to the community all that his family has gained from the county over the years. He was born here and was raised on the family farm.

Nysoe served in the Army after high school and went to college on the GI Bill, receiving a bachelor’s degree in political science and economics and a master’s degree in public administration.

Nysoe has served Chamber of Commerce executive director for Pendleton, Ore. and Bremerton, Wash. He also had 30 employees and oversaw a multi-million-dollar budget while working in marketing for the Kitsap County Parks Department.

Nysoe was also responsible for between 22 and 25 people when he managed the Correctional Industries Program at the Washington State Penitentiary.

Nysoe said the county fairgrounds are underutilized, and he would like to see more events taking place, on a year around basis.

The commissioners in Kitsap County would allot the fairgrounds a certain amount of money for events, and the money that was raised from events went to pay the county back, he said.

“If there was any excess we could keep it for the next year,” said Nysoe, who proposed this model as a way of eliminating subsidizing the fairgrounds by the county. He said he looks forward to working with the Friends of the Fairgrounds.

Nysoe also emphasized the need for better housing for families and seniors. And he said the county tax base should be increased to help pay for essential services.

If elected Nysoe said he would work in earnest with Port officials to bring living wage jobs into the community, a discussion he has already begun.

“We need jobs, not just any jobs,” Amerein countered. “Everyone is all for business, until somebody decides to put a rendering plant across from their home. We need jobs that bring similar values, similar ways of thinking and similar work ethic.”

Columbia County Treasurer

Carla Rowe, who runs a local bookkeeping business, and Columbia County Chief Deputy Treasurer Cathy Shochet are running to replace retiring treasurer Audrey McLean.

“I believe I’ve developed a skill set which could bring practical applications to the County Treasurer’s Office,” said Rowe.

Rowe grew up in Dayton, graduated from high school in Dayton and attended Walla Walla Community College, where she received an associate’s degree and edited the college newspaper.

For the past 14 years Rowe has been a professional bookkeeper, implementing and maintaining acceptable practices and procedures for many small businesses in the area.

She referred to herself as a problem solver. She has been busy as a 20-year 4-H Leader, a Treasurer for 4-H, and on a Young Life committee. She is also on the Dayton Development Task Force.

“My focus is on the future. I want to do my part to keep Columbia County financially strong, and to continue to prosper for upcoming generations,” she said.

This is Cathy Shochet’s third year as chief deputy treasurer in the treasurer’s office.

“I believe I am the most qualified candidate for treasurer, because not only do I have on-the-job experience, I also have supervisory experience while working for other larger organizations,” said Shochet.

Shochet grew up in Dayton, graduated from Dayton High School, and received a BA from Evergreen State College, along with accounting certification from Fort Steilacoom Community College.

She said she devoted the first part of her working life to several large organizations in the Puget Sound area.

Before coming to work at the treasurer’s office, Shochet was auditor and administrative assistant for the Port of Columbia.

Shochet said her management experience, work ethic and knowledge as chief deputy treasurer makes her the better candidate.

The AAUW forum was also a platform for short statements from candidates who are running unopposed. These are: Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Dale Slack, who is running for Columbia County Prosecuting Attorney, District Court Judge Scott Marinella, Clerk of the Court Sue Marinella, and Anne Higgins, who is running for Columbia County Auditor.

Ballots for the November election will be mailed out by October 18.

Next week, The Times will present coverage of presentations at the forum from candidates for state representative from legislative district 16.

The Trustee whose name and address are set forth will provide in writing to anyone requesting it, a statement of all costs and fees due at any time prior to the sale.

viii
The effect of the sale will be to deprive the Grantor and all those who hold by, through or under the Grantor of all their interest in the above-described property.

ix
Anyone having objections to this sale on any grounds whatsoever will be afforded an opportunity to be heard as to those objection if they bring a lawsuit to restrain the sale pursuant to RCW 61.24.130. Failure to bring such a lawsuit may result in a waiver of any proper grounds for invalidating the Trustee's sale.

Notice to Occupants or Tenants

The purchaser at the Trustee's Sale is entitled to possession of the property on the 20th day following the sale, as against the Grantor under the deed of trust (the owner) and anyone having an interest junior to the deed of trust, including occupants who are not tenants. After the 20th day following the sale, the purchaser has the right to evict occupants who are not tenants by summary proceedings under Chapter 59.12 RCW. For tenant-occupied property, the purchaser shall provide a tenant with written notice in accordance with RCW 61.24.060.

If the Trustee's Sale is set aside for any reason, the submitted bid will be forthwith returned without interest and the bidder will have no right to purchase the property. Recovery of the bid amount without interest constitutes the limit of the bidder's recourse against the Trustee and/or the Beneficiary.

TEENY MCMUNN: MY RECIPE BOX

Apple Puff Pancake

I made this on a weekend, when I have more time to fuss with breakfast. This goes together quickly, and I found not as heavy as regular pancakes, which I really like.

I found it surprising that the apples are put in the bottom, but when baked, they come out on the top. It's very flavorful and a keeper.

INGREDIENTS:

- 6 eggs
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 ½ c. milk
- ¼ tsp cinnamon
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 2 Tbsp butter
- 1 c. all purpose flour
- 3 Tbsp sugar

- 2 apples-peeled, cored, and sliced
- 3 Tbsp brown sugar

DIRECTIONS:

Preheat oven to 425 degrees
 In a large bowl, use an electric mixer to blend eggs, milk and vanilla. Add flour, sugar, salt and cinnamon; mix just until blended. Set aside.
 Melt butter in a 9 x 9 inch square pan. Arrange apple slices in the bottom of the pan and pour the batter over them. Sprinkle brown sugar over the top
 Bake for 20 minutes in the preheated oven or until puffed and lightly browned.

MY NOTES:

With all the eggs, milk and apples, I thought it qualified as quite healthy. My oven temperature never is quite right, so I checked on it in 20 minutes, but it wasn't done. I put a knife in the center and it was still liquid. I baked it for 10 more minutes. I think if the oven had stayed at 425, it would have been done by the 20 minutes.

I used a bit more cinnamon also, and added blueberries.

If you are like me, when I measure vanilla, I always use the cap of the bottle for a teaspoon measure. Then one day, I thought I should find out if it really is a teaspoon and it was. I'm guessing, perhaps back in my Home Economics classes, they shared that tidbit.
