MULES ON MAIN STREET

Traveling preacher Randy Boehmer piqued a great deal of interest as he drove through Waitsburg, and then Dayton last week in his two covered wagons pulled by a team of Belgian draft mules. Boehmer has been traveling back and forth across the continent with his five mules and two dogs since 2008. Above: Boehmer and his team travel down Main Street in Dayton.

Fairgrounds Committee Seeks City Standing

City Council also agrees to move forward on grandstand repair plan

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – The Waitsburg Fairgrounds was the hot topic of the night at a well-attended Monday Waitsburg City Council meeting.

Friends of Waitsburg Fairgrounds Committee (FWFC) chairperson Lane Hill opened the topic by presenting the board with a request from the FWFC. In a written statement the committee asked the council to approve the following requests:

Approve the FWFC as an Advisory Committee under article

1.02.108 of the Waitsburg City Ordinance

Agree to give all due consideration to all proposals submitted by FWFC

Make no further changes to the facilities or administration of the fairgrounds without review by the FWFC. This will allow the committee to move forward developing a comprehensive master plan for the fairgrounds and respect the valuable efforts of the volunteer members.

“Mostly at this point now, we are interested in making sure that our voice is heard when we do give suggestions and advice,” Hill said. “But also that we can keep anything from happening in the near future on the fairgrounds as we complete a master plan that we have already started working on that we would like to present to the council that we hope would be very inclusive to the community, and allow us to move on with our purpose as we try and make this an economically viable amenity, as well as historically and culturally, that we can really use to bring in new people.”

Hill said all four meetings of the committee to-date have been extremely well attended and have resulted in “lively discussions.” She said meetings are open to the public but the committee board has been reduced to eight voting members who will serve three-year terms.

Proposed members and sub-committee duties are: Lane Hill (Chair, Master Plan, Financial, City Interface), Kate Hockersmith (Co-Chair, Grandstands, Entertainment), Linda O’Mealey (Secretary), Joy Smith (RV/Camping), Terry Hofer (RV/Camping), Denise Winnett (Historical, Neighborhood Representative), Suze Wood

BRIDGE RAIL DESIGN APPROVED

City Council also approves third light on Main St. bridge, requests sidewalk bid

By Dena Wood
THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – City council members voted three to one to approve a rail design for the Main Street Bridge replacement on the north end of town. Councilors Kevin House, Marty Dunn, and Deb Callahan voted in favor of approving an open window pattern submitted by engineers Anderson Perry & Associates.

Councilor KC Kuykendall voted in opposition saying he still didn’t understand why he was being forced to approve a rail when the city hasn’t approved an overall bridge design yet.

“At this point, picking the trim around the window before you design the house is OK with me but I talked with FEMA, I talked with State Historic Preservation, and the information submitted by Anderson Perry still doesn’t make sense to me,” Kuykendall said.

At a March 10 public meeting, Anderson Perry engineer Eric Zitterkopf explained that a rail decision was needed soon in order to procure approval from the Washington Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation. The city was given until this week’s council meeting to reach a consensus on the rail design.

Are Trails in our Future?

A NETWORK OF BIKING AND WALKING TRAILS IS THE FOCUS OF REGIONAL MEETINGS

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON— An organization in Walla Walla called the Community Council is meeting to work on strategies for enhancing outdoor recreation opportunities. Based on their 2015 report, Enhancing Outdoor Recreation Opportunities, the Council is recommending development of a network of connected trails for hiking and biking. Their focus is on Burbank to Dayton and from the Snake River to Milton-Freewater.

“Trails are getting more popular and we want to tie in to that,” said Columbia County Senior Planner Greg Abramson, who has been attending the Community Council meetings Walla Walla, since March.

Abramson and other planners, environmental health officials and public health officials are discussing how best to achieve that goal.

He said the recommendation calls for increased recreational opportunities in the Blue Mountain foothills near population centers, with access created through developing new trailheads.

“For instance, we could have trails up to, say, the Rainwater Wildlife Management Area,” Abramson said. “Plus we would reap the benefit of tourism dollars,” he said.

Abramson said there are a dozen different government agencies involved.

Representatives from Waitsburg, Milton-Freewater, Army Corps of Engineers, Umatilla, Walla Walla, Port of Walla Walla, Port of Columbia, City of Dayton, Benton-Franklin Council of Governments and the Palouse Regional Transportation Planning Organization are just a few entities at the table, he said.

“With a larger group there is a powerful attraction for support, and a larger organization will help in leveraging support from the State and Federal governments,” Abramson said.

Abramson said the Washington Trails Association and the National Parks Service are coming on board, and will help to provide technical assistance with infrastructure.

“The next step is to gather letters of support from elected officials,” he said.

Abramson said those will be taken to the next Community Council meeting.

At the Community Economic Development Steering Committee meeting in December, participants took a survey asking them to identify the top three programs in Columbia County needing the most support, and bike trails came in at number two, between schools and the hospital.

NEWS BRIEFS

SCHOOL DISTRICT SEEKS CALENDAR INPUT

WAITSBURG - The Waitsburg School District is seeking input from staff, students, and families regarding the calendar for next year. A survey of various options may be accessed from the District's webpage (www.waitsburgsd.org). Hard copies of the survey are available in the District office at the elementary school. The survey will close on Friday, May 6. The board will use recommendations gathered from the survey to set the 2016-17 calendar at its May 11 board meeting.

WAITSBURG CITY CLEANUP

WAITSBURG - Waitsburg's annual city cleanup day will take place on the morning of May 4. Yard waste (tree branches, bushes, limbs that will not fit in a garbage can) will be picked up if it is out to the curb or alley by 8 a.m. that day.

Due to liability issues, no pickup can be done on private property. Curbside, alley, or yard waste only.

The city crew can use volunteers with tractors and/or dump trucks or flatbed trucks to help that day. All volunteers will meet at the city shop on Wednesday morning at 8 a.m. Please call Joy Smith at (509) 539-8773 or email/message waitsburgcc@icloud.com to volunteer.

PUMPKIN PLANTERS NEEDED

WAITSBURG - Gayle Broom's annual Giant Pumpkin Project is underway, but she's still looking for students to grow the giant gourds. Broom said she has already started the seedlings, and would like interested students to join her on Thurs., May 5 at 4 p.m. to transplant them outdoors.

Other meetins will follow until it's time to take the largest pumpkin gto the Walla Walla County Fair. Meetings are held at Gayle Broom's house (208 E. 10th St., Waitsburg).

Call Gayle Broom at 337-6688 for more information.

WAITSBURG SPRING BANDS CONCERT

WAITSBURG - Waitsburg School Bands, grades 5-12, will present their annual spring concert on Mon., May 9 at 7 p.m. in the Waitsburg High School Auditorium.

Four bands will play, from young to old, and will finish with cookies and punch in the Cage.

Leading off is the fifth grade band playing some of their favorite short tunes of the year, and the big, new "Regal March."

"The sixth grade band has a lot of pep and concert music ready to play - they'll finish off with the Mexican-themed "Navarro," featuring Theo Anderson on solo trumpet and Kylie Curran on xylophone," said Director Brad Green.

The Preston Hall band will play the two concert pieces from their superior festival performance: "Jump Street Boogie" and "The Forge of Vulcan." They will add on another concert piece and some new pep music: "Trumpets," by Jason DeRulo, and "Viva la Vida," by Coldplay.

Finally, the Waitsburg High School Band will play its concert pieces from their excellent festival performance: "Adagio Cantabile," by Beethoven, and the snappy "Factory Riffs." Their pep piece to debut is "Centuries," by Fall Out Boy.

Please stay to the end and join the bands for cookies and punch. It all starts at 7 in the high school auditorium. Admission is free, and the community is cordially invited.

FIRST THURSDAY CONCERT

WALLA WALLA - The Rhapsody Trio, Tim Brown, cello, Roger Garcia, clarinet and Laura Curtis, piano, will be performing for the First Thursday concert, May 5, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 323 Catherine Street, Walla Walla. The program is from 12:15 - 12:45 pm and is free. Donations are gratefully accepted and will go to the Walla Walla Music Boosters. Bring a friend and lunch. Enjoy the concert.

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Ten Years Ago May 4, 2006

Waitsburg Days of Real Sport Royalty Megan Mooso, Holly LeFore and Jamie Thomas are in the running for Queen of the 2006 edition of Waitsburg's annual horse race weekend, and the Queen's Coronation event will have a different spin this year as the former receptions shifts to a social hour and silent auction, catered dinner and live-music dance.

The overland trail from Wallula to Clarkston that Lewis and Clark and the Corps of Discovery took will be the subject of a multi-media program by Gary Lentz, Ranger, Lewis and Clark Trail State Park, 7:00 p.m. Thursday, May 11, at the Dayton Depot. Using replicas of items the explorers had with them on their journey, Lentz will offer insight about the Corps's travels through our area.

Twenty-Five Years Ago May 2, 1991

Heather Wyatt and Jeremy Richards were selected by the Masonic Lodges of Southeastern Washington as the Outstanding Junior Students of Waitsburg High School.

Coming back to the Touchet Valley was like coming home, Gary Hofer said, as he went over the events in his life which brought him full circle from Virginia to Delaware to Cheney to Minnesota to Arizona and finally, to Waitsburg.

Two cars of a six-car Union-Pacific freight were derailed on Tuesday afternoon one mile west of Waitsburg on the Bolles Road. No one was injured in the accident which managed to put quite a bow in the rails. Engineer Ron Cantrell of Walla Walla said, "The rails just spread, and the last two cars went off the tracks."

Jenny Jameson of Waitsburg will participate in an All-State Volleyball Match on Saturday, July 20, at Selah High School.

Fifty Years Ago May 5, 1966

Merle Brown, well-known Prescott farmer, has been selected to serve as marshal for the 1966 version of the Days of Real Sport parade to be held Saturday morning, May 28.

Packer's, Waitsburg's dry goods store operated by Mrs. Howard D. Packer, will observe its twenty-fifth anniversary on Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7.

Stan Pearson - son of Dr. and Mrs. A.S. Pearson - has been named valedictorian for the 1966 class of Waitsburg High School. Joan Marie Land, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Land, will be salutatorian this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fullerton have moved into their new home which was recently completed. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Huwe have rented the house vacated by the Fullertons and moved in this week.

Seventy-Five Years Ago May 9, 1941

Donald Abbey of Waitsburg and Amelia Barker of Walla Walla applied for a marriage license Wednesday, according to reports from the County Auditor's Office.

Ivor Williams has installed a new method of irrigation on land formerly known as Moore Bros. orchard. He has installed a pressure pumping system that permits overhead sprinkling of the several acres of sugar beets on the old orchard site.

The Commercial Club sanctioned the suggestion of Cal Malone to hold an old-fashioned basket social at the City Park on May 17.

Earl Arthurs has been elected student body president; Bill Buchan, vice president; Alice Leid, secretary; Maxine Dunn, treasurer, Pat Hirsch, editor; Mickey Leid, boy yell leader, Helen Lloyd, girl yell leader.

One Hundred Years Ago May 12, 1916

The Waitsburg Rifle Club has accepted the invitation of Co. K, N. G. W. of Walla Walla, for a competitive range shoot next Sunday, beginning about 9 a.m. on Co K's range.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Schiltz announce the engagement of their daughter Alma to Mr. Walter S. Reigle of Lewiston, Penn.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Weller and son Lawrence and daughter Fanny and Mrs. Cora Laidlaw motored to Washtucna Sunday in Mrs. Laidlaw's Mitchell six to visit for the day.

Misses Tryphena and Marguerite Southard went to Dayton Friday evening for a visit at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lyman, returning home Sunday.

One Hundred Twenty-Five Years Ago May 15, 1891

If you dip the wicks of lamps in strong hot vinegar and dry them, it will do away with much of the disagreeable smell.

Considerable frost on Saturday morning last, but no damage was done.

Wade Bros. this week had a comfortable awning erected in front of the Senate Saloon.

The Silver Medal contest at the Opera House last Friday night was well attended and much enjoyed by all who attended. The exercises were all good and the declamations especially fine. Miss Minnie Dixon carried off the prize.

Mrs. Wm. McKinney arrived home from Crab Creek on Thursday night of last week. While there she attended the wedding of her son Elmer to a charming lady of that city.

GUEST COMMENT

LYONS FERRY ROAD CLOSURE WILL HAVE SEVERE IMPACT

By Jim and Angela Macarthur, Managers/Concessionaires at Lyons Ferry Marina

A proposed road construction project may have severe consequences for Lyons Ferry Marina this summer. As managers of the marina we want the public to be aware of the impact this may have on the marina and summer recreation opportunities.

The project will affect Lyons Ferry Rd immediately adjacent to the marina entrance. The proposed project will result in the road being closed to all traffic traveling to and from Walla Walla and Tri Cities via Lyons Ferry Road for two months!

Yes, detours and alternate routes are available. But all either take more time, some significantly, or are on narrow secondary roads.

We met with the county engineer in late 2015 and early 2016 and discussed our concerns about the adverse effects the project would have. We were told the project would start in early spring and be completed by Memorial Day weekend.

With modifications to our operation, we felt we could persevere as this was still not our busy season, and arrangements could be made for limited operation. We asked emphatically to be kept informed on the project as this would have a direct effect on business.

The project had not started by April 1st so we contacted the county engineer's office and were then told project had been delayed and start date was moved to June and July!

More than 60% of our yearly income occurs in the summer, June, July & August. How often do construction projects get delayed? What if 60 days turn to 75? We have essentially lost our entire summer season!

Seventy percent of our regular clientele come from Walla Walla and Tri Cities. Blocking access from Walla Walla and Tri Cities via Lyons Ferry Road would cause longer travel times via detours, confusion and a change of plans by our visitors. Many summer regulars come three times a week all summer long and have already stated plans would change.

Often we receive late afternoon calls from Charbonneau and Fishhook Park looking to send campers our way as they are full. Now a simple short drive on an easily navigated road turns into either a much longer drive on good roads or on narrow secondary roads that still increase travel time. Remember, these vehicles are often towing boats or 30-foot

We Can Celebrate Tubman Without Disparaging Jackson

By Jim Webb, Special to The Washington Post

One would think we could celebrate the recognition that Harriet Tubman will be given on future $20 bills without demeaning former president Andrew Jackson as a “monster,” as a recent Huffington Post headlined. And summarizing his legendary tenure as being “known primarily for a brutal genocidal campaign against native Americans,” as reported in The Post, offers an indication of how far political correctness has invaded our educational system and skewed our national consciousness.

This dismissive characterization of one of our great presidents is not occurring in a vacuum. Any white person whose ancestral relations trace to the American South now risks being characterized as having roots based on bigotry and undeserved privilege. Meanwhile, race relations are at their worst point in decades.

Far too many of our most important discussions are being debated emotionally, without full regard for historical facts. The myth of universal white privilege and universal disadvantage among racial minorities has become a mantra, even though white and minority cultures alike vary greatly in their ethnic and geographic origins, in their experiences in the United States and in their educational and financial well-being.

Into this uninformed debate come the libels of “Old Hickory.” Not unlike the recently lionized Alexander Hamilton, Jackson was himself a “brilliant orphan.” A product of the Scots-Irish migration from war-torn Ulster into the Appalachian Mountains, his father died before he was born. His mother and both brothers died in the Revolutionary War, where he himself became a wounded combat veteran by age 13. Self-made and aggressive, he found wealth in the wilds of Tennessee and, like other plantation owners such as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, owned slaves. He was a transformational president, hated by the reigning English American elites as he brought populist, frontier-style democracy to our political system.

Jackson became the very face of the New America, focusing on intense patriotism and the dignity of the common man.

On the battlefield he was unbeatable, not only in the Indian Wars, which were brutally fought with heavy casualties on both sides, but also in his classic defense of New Orleans during the War of 1812. His defense of the city (in which he welcomed free blacks as soldiers in his army) dealt the British army its most lopsided defeat until the fall of Singapore in 1942.

ANDREW JACKSON NEVER WANTED TO BE ON THE $20 BILL ANYWAY

By Stephen Mihm, Bloomberg View

The announcement by Treasury Secretary Jack Lew that Harriet Tubman will take the place of Andrew Jackson on the front of the $20 bill has caused some grumbling. Senator Lamar Alexander, who like Jackson is from Tennessee, expressed grave misgivings about the swap. Donald Trump said the change was “pure political correctness.”

But there's one major political figure who would be thrilled by the news: Jackson himself.

Jackson's presence on the notes of the Federal Reserve has always been a slap in the face to the seventh president, who unequivocally hated the idea of a central bank that issued paper currency. Jackson will be finally released from a kind of monetary purgatory.

Jackson's fear of paper money was legendary. He came of age in an era when most of the nation's money supply consisted of notes issued by state-chartered banks. These private currencies could, in theory, be redeemed for “hard money” -- gold or silver coin -- at the counters of the banks that issued them. But in times of panic, banks often reneged on these promises. Jackson, who had an especially traumatic experience during the panic of 1819, emerged from that crisis with a profound distrust of paper instruments of all kinds.

His view was simple and straightforward. As he would later write:

“The only currency known to the constitution of the United States is gold and silver. This is consequently the only currency which that instrument delegates to Congress the power to regulate. A general paper currency, being unknown to the constitution, does not come within the scope of any of its provisions, and cannot be regulated under its authority.”

This view would put him on a collision course with the Bank of the United States. The institution, the brainchild of Alexander Hamilton (the guy on the $10 bill), had been chartered by Congress and went through two separate iterations. Modeled on the Bank of England, it drew on both public and private resources and was the era's closest cousin to a modern central bank. Its notes enjoyed a national circulation, much the way Federal Reserve notes work today.

When Jackson won the presidency in 1828, he and the president of the Bank of the United States, the aristocratic Nicholas Biddle, immediately clashed. In time, their mutual animus would spawn the so-called Bank War, a titanic clash over the fate of this institution. Jackson famously told Biddle at the outset of this struggle that “I do not dislike your bank any more than all banks.” But this was disingenuous: Jackson's hatred for the Bank of the United States grew to immense proportions.

In private, he labeled it a “hydra-headed monster” that he swore he would slay. In public, he did his best to make good on that promise, vetoing a bill to renew its charter in the summer of 1832. The tone of that veto, which Biddle likened to the “fury of a chained panther biting the bars of his cage,” unleashed a broadside on the very idea of a national bank, which Jackson's veto described as unconstitutional, “subversive of the rights of the States, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.”

Jackson's fiery attack emboldened his supporters, and he swept to re-election that fall. Not satisfied with this victory and the inevitable death of the Bank when its charter expired in 1836, Jackson administered the coup de grace, withdrawing federal funds from its coffers, leaving it an empty shell.

But even this wasn't enough: There still was the question of what to do about all the paper “trash” issued by state-chartered banks. He and his allies sought to crush these, too, but their powers were more limited. Jackson eventually issued the “Specie Circular,” which required purchasers of federal lands to pay with gold and silver coin, not paper bank notes.

Jackson never wavered in his convictions after he left the presidency. "Congress has the express power to borrow, but not to issue bills of credit, or make a paper currency," he wrote in 1841. "Ours was intended to be a hard money government."

And yet, not so long after his death, Jackson ended up on some of the first irredeemable paper money issued by the federal government: the greenbacks, printed during and after the Civil War. First he adorned the $5 note, then the $10 and $20 notes issued by the Federal Reserve. This paper initially could be exchanged for "hard money," but after Franklin D. Roosevelt took the country off the gold standard, Jackson was left stranded on a piece of fiat currency worth $20.

And there he remained, spinning in his grave, until now.

trailers, and often are navigating in the dark.

We are NOT opposed to the project, just the timing! The majority of our vendors use Lyons Ferry Road to supply the marina. We have already been informed by several vendors that traveling an extra 40 minutes each way may not be possible due to multiple stops vendors need to make on a scheduled route.

So, fewer guests, no vendors to supply ice, restaurant supplies, beer and soda mean one thing: we are at the very least facing loss of significant revenue, worst case we are out of business!

Imagine if farmers were told that during harvest two-thirds of their access to fields would be affected, or if Ski Bluewood was told a major road project would occur in Dec and January and affect access.

We met with the commissioners in early April and expressed our concerns. We asked the County Commissioners to please reschedule this project. Yes, it may cause project funding to change, project delay and funding may have to be reacquired. For the marina the consequences could be much worse.

We are asking the public to contact the Columbia County Commissioners and make your point of view heard: commissioners@co.columbia.wa.us. Or call 382-4542.

DAYTON SCHOOL BOARD HEARS ABOUT KINDERGARTEN/FIRST GRADE SCIENCE PROJECT

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Stephanie Wamble's K-1 class science project was the star attraction for Show and Tell at the Dayton School Board meeting last week.

Wamble's students have teamed up with Kristina Knebel's high school ag-science students to investigate the lifecycle of a duck.

The students had to provide written and oral documentation about their observations, while learning new words like waddle, and webbed, she said.

"The coolest part was using a flashlight to see the inside the egg," Wamble said.

The eggs should hatch before the school year ends, but students will continue their observations and lessons, until June, she added.

The unit meets the new science standards for grades K and 1, said Wamble.

In other school board news, Principal Paul Shaber said he has recently completed three days of activities designed for seventh and eighth graders, ninth and tenth graders, and eleventh and twelfth graders to help them become more confident and assured, and to help build a positive learning environment in school.

"There were varying degrees of success," he said. "I feel positive about next year." He said sixth graders will participate in similar CAP activities during Outdoor Camp in May.

Shaber also shared information about assessments and data that will be used to report student progress. He hopes to establish a baseline for the STAR assessment so that sixth grade progress can be tracked over time, until graduation.

Principal Pam Lindsley talked about classroom staff assignment for next year. She said teachers have been studying results and outcomes of the full multi-age system, and they have made recommendations to continue some multi-age classrooms, but return some rooms to the traditional single-grade design.

Superintendent Doug Johnson told the board of directors about new legislation requiring all local school districts to create a truancy board, made up of 2-3 people from juvenile justice and the courts, to deal with barriers to regular attendance.

"Finding people is the biggest problem. My concern is that if a kid doesn't get up, we don't have resources to send somebody out," he said. Johnson said six truancy report petitions were filed last year.

Also at the meeting, the board adopted the academic calendar for 2016-17, based on Superintendent Johnson's recommendation that the Friday that is part of the Columbia County Fair be a no-school day. There will be three days set aside for conferences, some half-day early releases, and two-hour late starts for employee training, he said.

The board also accepted the custodians bargaining agreement for 2015-16 and the certificated staff bargaining agreement for 2015-16.

NEWS BRIEFS

TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK

DAYTON - Next week, May 2-6, is National Teacher Appreciation Week. Since 1984, the first week in May has designated a special time to honor the men and women who lend their passion and skills to educating our children.

Dayton school superintendent Doug Johnson is asking parents, students, and other community members to take a moment to give a special thanks to local teachers and former teachers for their dedication to the success of local kids.

MULE MANIA VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

DAYTON - The Dayton Chamber of Commerce is looking for volunteers to help with Mule Mania, held May 27-30. Volunteer opportunities include stall and grounds preparation, arena assistance (runners, timers, stewards), event office, Mule Mania store. Contact the Dayton Chamber of Commerce at (509) 382-4825 to sign up.

WIN THIS TRUCK!

Dayton's All Wheels Weekend will feature a vehicle raffle again this year. The vehicle to be given away is a 1955 Willys flatbed pickup. This truck has just over 50,000 original miles and still sports its original paint job. It now has brand new wheels and tires and new side racks.

This truck has its original four-cylinder engine, and the four-wheel drive works great. The transmission is a 3-speed with a high-low transfer case, which means six forward gears.

The Willys was purchased new by a farmer in Pomeroy and was used strictly as a farm truck for several decades. The lucky raffle winner will be the third owner, and will also get the original 1955 Washington title as well as its 1963 license plates.

This year's truck raffle is put on by the Dayton Chamber of Commerce and is sponsored by The Times and Adran Construction.

Raffle Tickets are $10 and will soon be available at several local merchants, or at the Dayton Chamber of Commerce office at 166 E. Main St.

The winning ticket will be drawn during the All Wheels Weekend awards ceremony on Saturday, June 18. Ticket holders need not be present to win. For more information on this year's All Wheels Weekend truck raffle, contact the Dayton Chamber of Commerce at (509) 382-4825.

Artist Trust is Wowed by Waitsburg

GROUP FROM PORT TOWNSEND WAS FORMED TO ENCOURAGE ARTISTS THROUGHOUT WASHINGTON

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – Board members of Artist Trust, based in Port Townsend, Wash., recently held a weekend retreat in Walla Walla, and were impressed with the burgeoning art scene they witnessed during an evening spent in Waitsburg.

Artist Trust is a nonprofit group with the mission of supporting and encouraging artists working in all disciplines in order to enrich community life throughout Washington State. They accomplish that goal by offering grants, serving as a professional information resource for artists, and providing recognition and support for the contributions artists make to the lives of Washington citizens. The Trust goes beyond support of visual arts and includes music, dance and theater.

Waitsburg resident and former Artist Trust board member Karen Gregutt invited board members to Waitsburg on April 15, for an evening of wine tasting by her husband, winemaker Paul Gregutt, and a tour of downtown Waitsburg.

On the walking tour, Gregutt said she shared about the buildings that owners have invested in restoring, business percolation, the Main Street sculptures, the black and white former Anchor Bar building, the new Waitsburg Windows of Art project, the beauty of the downtown buildings and architecture, and Artist Trust board members and artists gathered at Squire Broel's studio for an Open Salon during the board's annual retreat. the historic elements of the city.

"They were over the moon! It's an honor that they were so supportive," Gregutt said. "Waitsburg has not been able to participate in this type of thing before, but now that many artists are gathering in town we are getting looked at with admiration and respect."

On April 16, Walla Walla artist

Squire Broel hosted an Open Salon for the board members. Broel, who is the sculptor of the bronze "Founding Fathers – The Waitsburg Monument" that stands in front of Waitsburg Town Hall, spoke to the board about the impact that art and creativity can have on rural communities.

Gregutt said the board commented specifically about their visit to Waitsburg during the Salon and that they "couldn't have been more embracing."

"Economically, when artists find a community, they are oftentimes the first to get behind bringing new life and keeping what is historic to the area. Waitsburg is getting a lot of attention that way right now," she said.

Historical Society Seeks Help, Plans New Activities

MRS. BRUCE'S ICE CREAM SOCIAL WILL BE HELD MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – The Waitsburg Historical Society held its annual meeting on March 29. Attendees walked away with plans for new events and displays as well as the realization that it would be helpful for community members to step forward and lend a hand with a few projects.

First on the list of needs is a replacement for current recording secretary Debra Callahan who recently resigned. The recording secretary is responsible for taking and distributing meeting minutes and sending notifications.

The society would also appreciate input and/or assistance from someone with grant-writing experience who would be willing to help out on a temporary basis.

"There is a lot of money available for nonprofits, especially for promoting tourism," said Board Treasurer Susan Donegan. "We have a great opportunity to do that with the Bruce complex. And many people don't know that the grounds are available to rent for weddings, receptions, family reunions, and such."

Board members said they would also appreciate help with promotion or even brainstorming ways to promote events sponsored by the Historical Society.

Regular in-season hours are Friday and Saturday from 1-4 p.m., beginning the first weekend in June, which is June 3 this year. (The museums will be closed June 4 during the community yard sale.)

The society is still in need of someone to serve as a docent at the Wilson-Phillips house during those times. This is a compensated position and is ideal for a high school junior or senior, or an adult with an appreciation for history.

Finally, if individuals have relevant family mementos, artifacts, books or photos, the society is always interested in accepting donations and can provide a receipt for tax purposes, Donegan said.

The society has several new projects completed or in the works this year. They recently had the book "Wait's Mill," written by Ellis Elvira Laidlaw in 1970, reprinted, with a new cover that showcases a wheat field. Laidlaw's granddaughter gave permission to have the previously sold-out book, reprinted. "Wait's Mill" is available as a thank you for a modest donation, during Bruce museum events and regular season hours.

Pam Conover has organized two Pioneer Days for elementary students this year. Waitsburg elementary students will practice old-time crafts and skills on June 6 and, for the first time ever, Prescott students will visit on June 7.

Linda Hermanns will revive Mrs. Bruce's Ice Cream Social this Memorial Weekend, on Sunday, May 29.

In the Wilson-Phillips House, the dining room section will be called the Bettie (Lloyd) Chase Room and is being converted to a permanent display of the Lloyd Family Native American Collection. The collection includes a wide variety of handmade items that were given to the Lloyd family by the Cayuse Indians over 80 years of friendship.

The museum complex will be open during Waitsburg Celebration Days, the third weekend in May, and throughout the regular summer season beginning in June. This year's Annual Pioneer Fall Festival will be held Sun., Sept. 18.

"The museum board has decided to become more visible in the community with improved website presence and communications through papers like The Times. We are hoping to revitalize interest from the community with some new exhibits and events. As a result of increased activity, we would love for the community to seriously consider volunteering. Please call us. We've got things for you to do," said Society President Richard Hinds.

Contact Hinds at 509-337-3009 with questions or to volunteer.

Waitsburg's Got Talent!

FREE ELEMENTARY TALENT SHOW WILL BE HELD MAY 13

WAITSBURG – Mark your calendars! Waitsburg Elementary School students will perform in a "Waitsburg's Got Talent" talent show at the Waitsburg High School auditorium room on May 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Kindergarten through fifth grade students were sent home with letters explaining act criteria (such as no bad language or dangerous acts) and tryouts took place last week.

Twenty-two students will display their skills on May 13. The talent show is free and open to the public. Acts include singers, dancers, gymnastics, hula hoops, a comedy act, an artist, a roper, cup stacking, and more.

Teacher Dinah Lindsey said the elementary staff heard about the "Wing Ding Thing" organized by Donnie Henderson years ago and decided to give it a try.

"It will be a wonderful night of highlighting our great talent! This was totally optional for the students!" Lindsey said.

All the council members said they hadn't received much feedback regarding rail design preferences other than the fact that people liked the open windows.

They said the one thing they had all heard strong feedback on, was a preference for sidewalks down both sides of the bridge, rather than just one side, as is currently planned.

City Administrator Randy Hinchliffe said the cost of the additional sidewalk would be about $20,000, which is relatively small in relation to the estimated $1.6 million project price tag. He said the bigger problem was that adding a second sidewalk will throw off the alignment of the bridge with Main Street.

Councilmember Deb Callahan requested the addition of a third light along the bridge, which will be 30 feet longer than the existing bridge.

The final motion, which was approved, included the approval of the open-concept window design rail, the addition of a third light on each side of the bridge, and a request for an add-alternate bid on the addition of a second sidewalk along the bridge.

Tigers Sweep DeSales, 9-1, 10-6

KYLE GRADWOHL HAS SIX HITS, INCLUDING TWO HOME RUNS, IN PRESCOTT'S TWO WINS

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

PRESCOTT – The Prescott baseball team swept a double-header at home against DeSales on April 19, winning 9-1 and 10-6.

In game one, Tiger pitcher Jacob Dunn struck out 12 Irish batters and gave up only three hits. Dunn also had three hits in the game, including two doubles. Tyler Hoffman also had two doubles and three hits total. Kyle Gradwohl had two hits, including a home run. The Tigers had a total of 15 hits.

In the second game, the Tigers fell behind 5-2 half-way through the third inning, but scored four times in the bottom of that frame, and added four more runs in the fifth. Prescott pitchers gave up only five hits, but the Tigers committed four errors.

Gradwohl had four more hits in the game, including his second homer of the day as well as three-RBI bases loaded double in the fifth. Walter Hartwell and Cade Branson each had two hits, as the Tigers slugged a total of 11.

With the two wins, Prescott was 5-9 overall and 4-4 in league play.

Six-run first inning buries Prescott in home game April 21

By Ken Graham THE TIMES

PRESCOTT – The Prescott Tigers gave up nine runs in the first two innings against Liberty Christian on April 21, and it was too much to recover from.

LC took advantage of five Tiger errors as they scored six in the first and three more in the second, on their way to a 10-4 win. Prescott avoided a shutout, scoring all of their runs in the sixth inning.

The Tigers had six hits, including two each by Jacob Dunn and Max Conard.

JAIDYN BROWN'S 12 STRIKEOUTS AREN'T ENOUGH AS PRESCOTT FALLS 9-2, 6-1

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

PRESCOTT – The Prescott softball team hosted DeSales on April 19 and dropped two games to the Lady Irish, 9-2 and 6-1.

In the first game, Prescott gave up three runs in the first inning after a fielding error, and could never get anything going on offense to get back into the game. The Lady Tigers had four hits and committed two errors.

In game two, Prescott kept the game close through five innings. But DeSales broke a 1-1 tie in the top of the sixth with three runs, and scored two more in the seventh. Bailey Adams had three hits for Prescott, and Chloe Pearson added two more.

“Overall we played DeSales really well,” said Prescott coach Angie Potts. “Our biggest issue was on offense and we struggled at the plate after having several games where we were hitting really well.”

Lady Bulldogs Split with Asotin

DAYTON BATTERS LEAVE MULTIPLE RUNNERS ON BASE IN GAME TWO SHUTOUT

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

ASOTIN – The Dayton softball team scored in six of seven innings in game one of their double-header on April 19, and cruised to a 7-2 win. But in game two, the Lady Bulldogs were shut out, despite getting five hits in the game, falling 5-0.

Dayton had seven hits in the first game, including two by Heidi Dobbs, as the team scored in all but the second inning and took advantage of four Asotin errors.

In game two, the Lady ‘Dogs committed four errors of their own, and couldn’t bring any of their baserunners home.

“We hit the ball consistently in game one, scoring in six innings,” said Dayton assistant coach Desirae Jones. “We just didn’t get the hits we needed in the second game. We had some amazing plays on defense in both games.”

Game 1

Bulldogs Can’t Keep Up with Undefeated Asotin

OFFENSE CONTINUES TO IMPROVE AS DAYTON FALLS 13-3, 19-3 ON THE ROAD

By Ken Graham
THE TIMES

ASOTIN – The Dayton Baseball team traveled to Asotin on April 19 to take on the undefeated Panthers and fell 12-3 and 19-3 in a double-header.

In the first game, Dylan Swan had a strong four innings on the mound, with two strikeouts, before being relieved in the fifth. Dayton trailed 9-2 going into the bottom of the fifth inning, but gave up four runs, which ended the game on the mercy rule.

The Bulldogs had five hits in the game, including a two-run double by Ashton Loper in the top of the fifth.

“All in all I was very impressed with how the Bulldogs performed,” said Dayton coach Shane Loper. “Asotin is undefeated and appears to be the best team we faced this year.”

In the second game, the Bulldogs endured a grueling 11-run outburst by the Panthers in the second inning, which proved too much to overcome. Asotin held Dayton to only three hits, though the Bulldogs struck out only three times.

“Bats were flying out and grounding out, but at least making contact from the Bulldog’s side,” said coach Loper.

The Bulldogs were to travel to Tri-Cities Prep on Tuesday, and then will host Riverview on Friday.

Game 1

Dayton 0 0 1 0 2
3 runs 5 hits 2 errors

Asotin 1 2 3 3 4

ADAMS GETS TWO FIRSTS, TWO SECONDS AT BURBANK

CARDINAL BOYS ARE SECOND TO CONNELL AT SCAC EAST LEAGUE MEET

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

BURBANK – Waitsburg’s Emily Adams took first place in the 800 meters and the triple jump on April 19 at the SCAC East League Meet #2 at Columbia Burbank High School. Adams also took second place in both the 100 meters and 3200 meters.

Adams’s 800-meter time of two minutes, 24.72 seconds was a personal record, breaking her previous record, set last year, by nearly three seconds.

Also on the Waitsburg girls, Clarissa Espana was fourth in the 200-meter race.

The Waitsburg boys had a strong showing in Burbank as well, taking second place in the team competition.

Brandon Penner set two personal records at the Burbank meet. His second place shot put heave of 39 feet, five inches was a PR, as was his javelin throw of 132 feet, two inches, which was good enough for third place. Penner also took first in the discus in Burbank, though his throw was well short of his best.

Mark Montgomery was second in the javelin, also with a personal best throw, reaching 132 feet seven inches.

Landon Callas was first in the 300-meter hurdles and took second in the 110 hurdles.

Skylar Wood took second in the 3200-meter race with a personal best time of 11 minutes, 24.63 seconds.

Travis Crockett took second in the 100 meters and the high jump.

On Tuesday the Waitsburg track team was headed to Colfax for a league meet. Some team members will compete Wednesday at a JV meet in Dayton, and the team will travel to the Underberg Invitational meet in Ritzville on Saturday.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS FRONT STREET OVERLAY TIB PROJECT NO. 2-E-924 (004)-1

City of Dayton
111 South First Street
Dayton, Washington 99328

The City of Dayton, Washington (herein called the "Owner"), invites bids for the Front Street Overlay project. The work includes the prelevel and overlay of approximately 1,650 linear feet of Front Street from West Main Street to East Dayton Avenue, including some minor curb and gutter replacement, hot mix asphalt, ADA ramp improvements, and other associated work. Also included is the replacement of approximately 1,100 feet of an existing drain line and 11 new catch basins.

Sealed bids for the described project will be received by the Office of the Clerk at City Hall, 111 South First Street, Dayton, Washington, until 10:00 a.m., local time, May 18, 2016, and then publicly opened and read aloud.

The Contractor is subject to all requirements related to State Prevailing Wage Rates, EEO, and Washington State Contracting Laws, etc.

The work cannot start until after June 19, 2016. The contract time for all work shall be

File No. CUP16-007

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

File name/Docket #: Eritage Type 3 Bed and Breakfast/ CUP16-007

Application type: Conditional Use Permit Amendment
 Applicant: Justin Wylie
 1793 JB George Road
 Walla Walla, WA 99362
 Applicant's Representative
 Scott Knox
 Property Owner: Business Growth Capital, LLC
 1 World Trade Center #1180
 Long Beach, CA 90831

Project description: In 2015 the Hearing Examiner granted a conditional use permit for the Eritage Type 3 Bed and Breakfast (file CUP15-004). The approved project would include a Bed and Breakfast being comprised of primary dwelling unit (occupied by an owner or operator), 10 lodging rooms, and a restaurant for up to 50 guests, as allow under WWCC 17.08.074C. Due to issues that came up during the final design phase of the project, the Applicant has submitted a request to amend the conditional use permit to accommodate the following changes: (1) the building, driveway, and parking areas will shift approximately 100-feet south of the existing pond to allow for upstream stormwater to bypass the site; (2) add additional parking for guests, visitors, and employees; and (3) to add dry hydrants and a fire access/emergency vehicle turn-around. The site is located at 1319 Bergevin Springs Road (APN 360831110002), in the Primary Agriculture 40 zoning district.

Review process and public comment: The Hearing Examiner will make a decision within ten working days of the public hearing. Written testimony may be submitted prior to or at the public hearing on May 9. Please indicate your name and address and refer to the file indicated above.

(Equestrian, Animal Management), Allison Bond (New Events).

Mayor Gobel agreed to put any fairgrounds renovations or modifications on hold until they could be run past the FWFC. He said the council couldn't vote on the committee's proposal, however, until the city's attorney writes up the ordinance to be voted on. Gobel asked if the ordinance could be available for vote at the May city council meeting and was told it would be ready for consideration at that time.

The next agenda item, discussion regarding the inner racetrack rail, was tabled until the council has an opportunity to see the FWFC Master Plan.

The council then took up the issue of repair and renovation of the grandstands at the fairgrounds. Councilor KC Kuykendall reported that he had contacted two structural engineers who specialize just in pole barn style facilities and that one in Spokane was willing to work with the city. Kuykendall said the Spokane engineer looked at the original engineer's report as well as recommendations regarding fixing safety issues and said he thought he could come up with less expensive alternatives.

"I was glad to hear that, given the information we provided him, that he was very optimistic that the structural remediation would not be cost prohibitive," Kuykendall said.

When asked if the grandstands would be ADA accessible, Kuykendall said the current priority is simply safety.

"We're only looking at structural remediation at this time. Not improvements, not functionality, not ramps, or beautification. None of that. That's all secondary," he said.

Kuykendall motioned that the city authorize Hinchliffe to set aside up to $2,500 to enter into a professional engineering services contract to evaluate options. The council approved the motion and Mayor Gobel suggested that the WFWC work closely with the engineer throughout the process.

Finally, the council approved moving leftover stall rental funds of just over $4,000, from the former fairground committee's account, back into the city coffers. Kuykendall suggested earmarking the funds as seed money for the WFWC committee. A motion to that effect was unanimously approved by the council.

New at the Libraries

Weller Public Library
212 Main Street, Waitsburg
Hours: Mon. and Thurs. 10 a.m. – 6 p.m.
Storytime: Mon., 10:30 a.m.

“The Nest,” by Cynthis D’Aprix Sweeney (Adult Fiction) – This is a story about the power of family, the possibilities of friendship, the ways we depend upon one another and the ways we let one another down. In this tender, entertaining, and deftly written debut, Cynthia D’Aprix Sweeney brings a remarkable cast of characters to life to illuminate what money does to relationships, what happens to our ambitions over the course of time, and the fraught yet unbreakable ties we share with those we love.

“Make Me,” by Lee Childs (Adult Fiction) – “Why is this town called Mother’s Rest?” That’s all

Jack Reacher wants to know, but no one will tell him. It’s a tiny place hidden in a thousand square miles of wheat fields, with a railroad stop, sullen and watchful people, and a worried woman named Michelle Change who mistakes him for her missing partner in a private investigation she thinks must have started small and then turned lethal.

“Most Wanted,” by Lisa Scottoline (Adult Fiction) - Christine Nilsson and her husband are desperate for a baby. After many appointments with specialists, endless research, and countless conversations, they make the decision to use a donor. Two months pass, and Christine is happily pregnant. But one day, she is shocked to see a man on the TV news being arrested for a series of brutal murders and he bears an undeniable and uncanny resemblance to her donor. Riveting and fast-paced with the depth of emotionality that has garnered Lisa Scottoline legions of fans, Most Wanted poses an ethical and moral dilemma: What would you do if the biological father of your unborn child was a killer?

Dayton Memorial Library
111 S. 3rd Street, Dayton
Hours: Mon., Wed., Fri., 10 a.m. – 5 p.m.; Tues. & Thurs., 12-8 p.m.; Sat., 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.
Storytime: Tues., 10 a.m.

“Books That Changed My Life: Reflections by 100 Authors, Actors, Musicians, and Other Remarkable People,” by Bethanne Patrick (Nonfiction) - Leading authors, politicians, CEOs, actors, and other notables share the books that changed their life, why they love them, and their passion with readers everywhere. Contributors include Al Roker, Carl Hiaasen, Dave Eggers, Emma Straub, Eric Idle, Fay Weldon, Fran Lebowitz, Gillian Flynn, Gregory Maguire, Jeff Kinney, Jim Shepard, Laura Lippmann, Lev Grossman, Liev Schreiber, Margaret Atwood, Mayim Bialik, Nelson DeMille, Rosanne Cash, Susan Orlean, Tim Gunn, and Tommy Hilfinger, among others.

“Charlotte Bronte: A Fiery Heart,” Claire Harman (Biography) – Charlotte Bronte famously lived her entire life in an isolated parsonage on a remote English moor with a demanding father and siblings whose astonishing childhood creativity was a closely held secret. The genius of Claire Harman’s biography is that it transcends these melancholy facts to reveal a woman for whom duty and piety gave way to quiet rebellion and fierce ambition. Drawing on letters unavailable to previous biographers, Harman depicts Charlotte’s inner life with absorbing, almost novelistic intensity. Charlotte Bronte is a groundbreaking view of the beloved writer as a young woman ahead of her time.

“Salt to the Sea,” by Ruta Sepetys (Adult Fiction) - World War II is drawing to a close in East Prussia and thousands of refugees are on a desperate trek toward freedom, many with something to hide. Among them are Joana, Emilia, and Florian, whose paths converge en route to the ship that promises salvation, the Wilhelm Gustloff. Forced by circumstance to unite, the three find their strength, courage, and trust in each other tested with each step closer to safety. Just when it seems freedom is within their grasp, tragedy strikes. Not country, nor culture, nor status matter as all ten thousand people—adults and children alike—aboard must fight for the same thing: survival.

“Good Morning Yoga,” by Mariam Gates (Children’s) - Calm and awake, “I can do this!” is all I need to say. A deep breath in, a long breath out—I am ready for the day! This “wake up” story is so much more than a story. It’s a practice for kids and parents to greet the morning with joy and embark on their daily adventures with intention and confidence. Turn the page and reach up to the sky, press your feet into the earth, and get ready for a great day!

PRETTIFYING PLANTERS

Waitsburg Garden Club members (l to r) Karen Gregutt, Susan Donegan, and Kate Hockersmith braved a windy Tuesday morning to beautify the Main Street flower planters. Plants were purchased locally from Harmony Gardens & Glass in Dayton and Donegan said owner, Judi Pilcher generously donated a portion of the plants to the cause.

PREPPING FOR PIGS

A group of FFA and 4-H students and parents spent Saturday morning setting up pigpens at the fairgrounds, a sure sign of spring in Waitsburg. A few pigs have already arrived and many more will show up over the next few weeks. The pig barns are a busy place, May through August, as students care for the animals they will show and market and the Walla Walla and Dayton fairs.

VBS PARTICIPANTS WILL PERFORM CHILDREN’S MUSICAL

WAITSBURG – Mark your calendars! The Waitsburg Presbyterian and Christian churches will sponsor a children’s musical vacation Bible school this summer called “Down by the Creek Bank.” The program will run from June 20-26, from 8:30-11:30 a.m. Mon.-Sat, with a show at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. Children in grades pre-K through 6th grade are welcome.

Auditions for speaking and solo singing parts will be held on June 20. Pre-registration is required by Fri., June 17 at 9 p.m. If kids miss the deadline they may still participate but will not be eligible for speaking or solo parts in the musical.

Kids will learn songs, pick out costumes, and help with set design. There will also be Bible story time, projects and snacks, and games. This event will require a time commitment from both children and parents.

To register or learn more, contact Musical Director Bethany Moser at 337-6385.
