GETTING READY FOR CELEBRATION DAYS

Karen Mohney Recognized for Lifetime of Service

MOHNEY WILL BE HONORED AS PARADE MARSHAL IN WCD PARADE

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – A horse with an empty saddle will walk in Saturday's Waitsburg Celebration Days parade in honor of Karen (Huwe) Mohney, who has been selected as parade co-marshal, posthumously. Mohney, a lifelong, active member of the community, passed away unexpectedly on March 15 at age 53, following a dog handler's event in Heppner, Ore.

Mohney was born to Waitsburg residents Pete and Meredith (Hulce) Huwe on September 5, 1961 and attended school in Waitsburg, graduating with the Class of '80. In high school, Mohney was involved in FFA, 4-H, Rainbow, and cheerleading, to name a few activities. "What wasn't she involved in? Cheerleading was her main thing. She did that from sixth grade through her senior year," said mom, Meredith.

Following graduation, Mohney attended one year at WSU before heading to California, where she completed airline school. She spent 15 years working as a ticket agent for Horizon Air in both the Pasco and Walla Walla airports and eventually returned to Waitsburg to help her mother with the family's EZ Way Aerial Marker business, following her father's death. "We did that together for 13 years until GPS basically put us

Jack and Nancy Otterson Are Parade Marshals

OTTERTSONS CONSIDER WAITSBURG "FAMILY" AND INSIST VOLUNTEERING IS "NOTHING UNUSUAL"

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – A visit from their neighbors, Mayor Walt Gobel and his wife Gwen, threw a happy kink into Jack and Nancy Otterson's Waitsburg Celebration Days plans this year. When the Ottersons told the Gobels that Eastern Star would be riding in their convertible and that Jack would be driving his red truck for the Alumni Association float, the Gobels informed them that they would need to reconsider that plan because they had been selected as 2015 Waitsburg Celebration Days parade marshals. (Karen Huwe Mohney is being honored as co-marshal.)

"Both of us were completely flabbergasted. It literally never dawned on us, but we were so pleased," said Nancy.

The selection is more than fitting for the high school sweethearts who grew up in Waitsburg, married and raised their family here, volunteering and actively participating in the community all along the way.

"There's nothing unusual there," said Nancy. "The old-timers all belong to everything and they participate in everything so we don't feel like we're anything unusual, other than the fact that we chose to stay in Waitsburg and really love Waitsburg and have never regretted that. Being a part of Waitsburg seems like a normal thing to do. It's like being part of a family."

Both Jack and Nancy moved to Waitsburg in the third grade and went through school here. Jack graduated with the class of '56 and Nancy with the class of '57. "Being in a small school is really special. We, still today, have teachers – even grade school teachers – and coaches that are good friends of ours," Nancy said.

"We're high school sweethearts – there's no getting around it. We fell in love and it seemed like the right thing to do," Nancy said. The couple began dating when Nancy was a freshman and celebrated their 56th anniversary on May 9. "Jack wouldn't say this, but he was a star – he was a fabulous athlete in baseball, football, basketball . . . he was just really one of those exceptional athletes."

Jack attended college at Eastern Washington University where he played basketball and majored in physical education. Nancy graduated as valedictorian from WHS before attending college at Whitworth University, where she was an education major. Both returned to Waitsburg before completing their degrees.

Nancy worked in the office at the Grain Growers, which was located in the former Wait's Mill. Jack drove truck for Wayne and Don Hinchliffe, hauling for Green

Pulp Mill Granted Permits

Columbia Pulp Is Ready to Begin Construction, County Planner Says

By Dian Ver Valen | THE TIMES

STARBUCK – Columbia Pulp, the 449-acre wheat straw refuse recovery and paper pulp manufacturing facility to be located on Highway 261 near Starbuck, has now been issued its six required building permits and is "ready to go," Columbia County Planning Director Kim Lyonais reported on Tuesday.

"Just last week they received their shoreline exemption to temporarily pump water out of the Snake River for dust control as they grade the site," Lyonais said. "I think they're shooting for early June to begin grading."

Columbia Pulp LLC was approved last month for a revenue bond from the state covering the $100 million needed to construct the mill. LLC President John Begley estimated construction of the mill would take approximately a year. Lyonais and Columbia County Commissioners discussed at this week's commissioner workshop that the project planners were still ironing out some logistics, such as where to store the thousands of straw bales farmers will sell to the mill.

Other building projects in the county, contingent on Columbia Pulp's construction, are waiting in the wings, Lyonais and commissioners discussed. There's talk of a housing developer ready to break ground just as soon as it looks like the mill is a sure thing, Lyonais said. Further details will be reported as they are available.

Dayton Levy Vote Certified

SCHOOL BOARD CONCERNED ABOUT FUTURE DISTRICT NEEDS AFTER FAILURE

By Dian Ver Valen | THE TIMES

DAYTON – A final count of votes on Tuesday confirmed the failure of Dayton School District's $800,000 capital-improvement levy. It was a close vote, but just 48.9 percent of residents voted to approve the measure. A 50-percent approval was required.

A majority of voters inside city limits approved the levy, according to the election results posted online, but voter turnout was lower in the city than in previous years where support for the district had been strong, according to Dayton Schools Superintendent Doug Johnson. "A large number of people chose not to vote at all," he said.

Johnson is concerned about this levy failure, falling on the heels of disappointment last year when the district was unable to secure approval for a $20 million comprehensive campus modernization project.

"We have another M&O [maintenance and operation] levy and a technology levy coming up in February," he said. "And those have to pass. If the M&O levy fails, we would likely lose an administrative position, as many as six teaching positions, and there would be no extra-curricular activities. M & O pays for our sports, ASB and other activities."

THE TIMES

WAITSBURG - The annual Waitsburg High School alumni banquet will be held on May 23, 2015 at the Waitsburg Elementary School multipurpose room. A meet-and-greet will take place at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m. A social gathering will follow at the Waitsburg Town Hall.

The Bruce and Wilson-Phillips houses will be open from 2-4 p.m. and the high school will be open from 4-6 p.m. Dinner is $15/person and dues are $10. The event is sponsored by the Waitsburg High School Alumni Association and is open to all graduates of the high school, their spouses and guests. The class of 2015 will be welcomed into the association, and their family members are encouraged to join in the celebration. RSVP to Patty Mantz at pjmantz@charter.net or to Darleen Dozier at (509) 520-2884 by May 15.

The Waitsburg High School Alumni Association

currently awards two $1,000 scholarships from its scholarship fund that was created in 2014. Recipients are selected by the Blue Mountain Foundation, and the goal is to grow the fund so that more $1,000 scholarships may be awarded each year.

The Lloyd Fund is available to any WHS alumni college student (four-year college, community college, technical college or trade school) in their last year of school who is in need of borrowing money to complete their education. The loan does not need to be paid back until the student has obtained a job, and then a payment plan will be set-up. Contact Jeff Broom at jbroom6688@charter.net for further information on Lloyd Fund loans.

The WHS Alumni Association is currently sponsoring a fundraiser called the "Brick Project." Each brick costs $50 and will be placed near the link to the high school. Bricks may be engraved with your name and year of graduation or may list family members who have graduated from WHS. All proceeds go to fund the WHS Alumni Scholarship Fund.

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Ten Year Ago May 19, 2005

Marco Jo Lanning and Richard Pounds, members of the junior class at Waitsburg High School, were the recipients of the Outstanding Junior Girl and Outstanding Junior Boy awards at a recognition program at the Dayton Masonic Lodge on April 20, 2005.

"Friends" of Waitsburg's Jerry Baker, a member of the Blue Mountain Snowmobiel Club, honored him with the First Annual Prestigious Goldfish Award when the group met for its Annual Banquet Saturday, May 14, at the Dayton Golf Course. Bake, a modern Katzenjammer Kid, was riding his SNOWmobile on a thawed portion of Upper Payette Lake near McCall, Id., when it lost power and sank. Unlike the Titanic, Baker's sled did not hit an iceberg and spring a leak, and also unlike Capt. Smith of the White Star Line, Bake did not go down with his ship. He deftly stepped off the machine onto the nearby snowbank.

Twenty-Five Years Ago May 17, 1990

Howard Smith, Jr. and Joe McMillen were honored Tuesday night as Honorary Members of the Waitsburg FFA Chapter. They were credited for heading a move for new livestock panels for the Waitsburg Junior Livestock Show.

Five members of the Historical Society Board met Monday night and welcomed Bob Butler as the new treasurer for the organization. Bob Patton is to contact Mark Tabor to spray the thistle at the Mill whenever the weather allows. Some adjustments must be made on the sprinkler system at the Bruce House. Joe Abbey and Jim Leid will handle that situation.

Misses Cara Rea, Jennie Beaman and Ronda DeRuwe were winners of the Masonic Temple Junior Achievement Awards for the year of 1989-90. Given for the qualities of Leadership, Scholarship, Citizenship and Community Service.

Fifty Years Ago May 13, 1965

Roy Leid had a real puffed-up eye last week. He was trying to deliver oil in a territory which a belligerent honey-bee had staked out as his very own. The bee bit Roy on the eyelid, but Roy's tuff - it killed the bee.

Bill Peterson reminded us this week that the small trees in front of Waitsburg business houses will need a drink of water from time to time this spring and summer. The trees were one of Bill's project during his term as Commercial Club President, and he has taken a continuing interest in them.

Seventy-Five Years Ago May 17, 1940

The contest for Queen of the Days of Real Sport closed at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and the count of votes revealed that Miss Kathleen McCaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay McCaw, residing between this city and Prescott was chosen Queen.

Laurel G. Smith, a newly appointed state leader of the grasshopper control program, said Sunday the pest is expected to be a menace this year in Walla Walla, Whitman, Ferry, Kittitas and the Pend Orielle counties.

Jimmie Stonecipher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stonecipher, who is attending WSC, recently became a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Bains left early Sunday on a two-week trip that will take them to Vancouver, Long Beach, Raymond, Shelton, Seattle, Manchester and Spokane.

The mercury climbed to 91 degrees last Thursday making it a "scorcher" coming as it did following cool, spring weather.

One Hundred Years Ago May 21, 1915

The 19th annual picnic of the A.O.U.W. Lodge is to be held in Dickinson's Grove on Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5, and plans are being made to have this the most enjoyable occasion ever held in Waitsburg.

Mrs. Malinda J. McDonald-Hodgen, aged 72 years, wife of Isaac Wallace Hodgen, a pioneer of 1865, died at her home in Huntsville Monday morning after an extended illness brought about by her old age.

Fred Casey, the human frog, of Waitsburg, played two night's engagement at the American Theatre in Dayton to a large and appreciative audience. Casey has a return engagement next Wednesday at the same house.

One Hundred Twenty-Five Years Ago May 16, 1890

Hon. W. G. Preston this week had a foot bridge put in across the creek running between his residence and the M. E. Church. It beats all, the sacrifices that man will make in order to make it convenient to attend church.

Born in Columbia County, May 5 to Lewis Winnett and wife, a son.

Dr. J. H. Hudgin and J. C. Wright left last Sunday on a trip to the upper country. Before starting they spent considerable time digging fish works, which they tied onto the back end of their wagon with a string, but they lost it before going on mile. They took better care of their snake-bite medicine though. It lasted them over two miles.

The name of New Walla Walla, an annex to Milton Oregon, has been changed to Free Water. That is a good change.

A HISTORY OF WAITSBURG'S FIRST CENTURY – YEAR BY YEAR

[Editors Note: The following history (we've edited it slightly) originally appeared in the September 30, 1965 edition of The Times. We bring it back for your enjoyment. Unfortunately, this paper will cost you more than a dime.]

1881 – Washington flour mill enlarged to double present capacity. Single copies of The Times, 10 cents. Wheat market unsteady at 55 cents. Pres. Garfield assassinated.

1882 – W. P. Bruce erects home on Main Street. Wheat selling at 60 cents a bushel. Much of Waitsburg flooded by high waters of Touchet.

1883 – Waitsburg public school has average attendance of 105. Apples selling for 5¢ a pound.

GUEST COMMENT

SOUTHEAST WASHINGTON IS TRULY SOMEPLACE ELSE

By Paul Hosticka

Those of us lucky enough to call Southeast Washington home know what a special place it is. The verdant Palouse hills producing abundant crops of wheat and peas to feed a hungry world take one's breath away with their May beauty.

The Blue Mountains and the foothills offer unique sporting opportunities for hunters, hikers, bicyclists and nature lovers of all stripes. We enjoy an uncrowded and mostly peaceful lifestyle that urbanites envy.

We are also home to a lot of honey bees. Go anywhere in the world and say you are from Washington state and people think apples. The tree fruit industry of Washington requires 500,000 honey bee colonies to pollinate its $3.5 billion crop each spring. This is an absolutely vital link for fruit production. No bees, no fruit; it's that simple.

Around 97,000 of those colonies are based in Washington and the remaining are migratory beekeepers from other states that come for the pollination rental opportunities and then move on to summer honey-producing regions mostly in the upper Midwest.

Now here's the rub. Bees, just like the rest of us, need to eat all year long. They live solely on pollen, for protein, and nectar, for carbohydrates. They gather both from flowering plants. The nectar is converted into honey and a healthy colony can produce much more than it needs for its own survival. The extra is what a skillful beekeeper can harvest for human enjoyment.

Once the short fruit bloom is over, orchards offer little in the way of flowering plants. The growers sometimes need to use pesticides to protect their valuable crop, and so the vulnerable bees have to be moved someplace else.

Where is someplace else? The southeast corner of Washington offers ideal habitat for summer honey bee locations. You may have seen "bee yards," groups of stacked boxes, here and there along the creeks and byways of our beautiful area. These are the locations where the bees can recover from the stressful orchard pollination work, gather enough honey to sustain them for the coming winter, and hopefully make a bit extra for a hard working beekeeper to harvest.

Many of the plants that the bees depend on are considered weeds by us humans. From dandelions to thistles, all of the flowering summer weeds provide essential nutrition for these essential creatures. No one questions the need for farmers to control weeds in their crops or ranchers keeping their grazing lands healthy and productive. But surely on the out-ground, steep slopes, fence lines, road sides, set asides, back lots and unused corners there can be a place for flowering weeds.

Please think twice before eliminating weeds indiscriminately. After all, Washington does need bees, and bees do need weeds. And if Southeast Washington isn't someplace else, where is?

The next time you enjoy a bowl of cherries or a slice of apple pie or some delicious honey on your morning muffin, think of the bees. They're not asking for much, and we will sorely miss them if they're gone.

Paul Hosticka has been keeping bees for 35 years and is a member of the Washington State Dept. of Agriculture Honey Bee Work Group, tasked by the legislature with making recommendations on how to improve conditions for bees and beekeepers in Washington. Most retired now, he and wife Susan base their small honey operation from their place near Dayton. EMMA PHILBROOK: STUDENT LIFE

I'm a 'Short-Timer'

I'm getting to be a "short-timer" – At least that's what my grandmother says.

That means, were I to use both my hands and my toes, I could count the school days I have left.

That number's 19 as of Monday – Nineteen days of high school remain! Nineteen mornings of dragging myself out of bed With the fog of sleep still in my brain.

Eighteen hurried cold-cereal breakfasts And one student parking-lot brunch Eighteen 'leventh-hour dashes to reach school on time – 'Cuz on the last day, what's the rush?

Three Mondays, four Tuesdays, four Wednesdays, Four Thursdays, four Fridays, and poof! My time here at Waitsburg School District is up And I'll have a diploma for proof.

My college stuff's mostly in order I think all the forms are sent in My scholarships have all been stamped and mailed out, In the hope that li'l old me might win.

So there's nothing to do but plan parties And write my val'dict'ry address And mail invitations to my graduation To people Mom wants to impress.

And clean out my two bulging lockers And make sure my forms are complete And scour the Internet, Macy's, and Sears For some extra-long twin flannel sheets.

And study real hard for my finals To keep my grades high to the last And find time the evening of Senior Supper To make some brunch thing for my class.

And return all the books that I've borrowed (A stagg'ring amount, to be sure) And keep my silver graduation robe safe From being covered with shed tabby fur.

And write thank-you notes to the people Who've helped me out along the way (There's so many that if I wrote day and night, It'd still take me the whole month of May.)

And – oh, yeah – keep up with my homework! Because school's in for 19 more days! Just because graduation's approaching real fast, I can't change my studious ways!

My grandma says I'm a "short-timer" – I certainly can't disagree. But what will end first – my sanity, or school? (Tune in in 19 days to see...)

LETTER

WHS in Top 5 Percent in State

Dear Editor,

On the front page of the April 20, 2015 edition of the Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, the headline read "4 Area High School Reap Awards." It stated that Waitsburg High School received the Overall Excellence award from the Washington State Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. It went on to discuss the 2014 High Progress awards received by three other area schools and explained that "only 10 percent of high schools receive the High Progress award."

What the WWUB article failed to explain was that Waitsburg High School, as a recipient of the Overall Excellence award, is ranked in the top five percent of all high schools in the state of Washington. The article also failed to acknowledge Preston Hall for Math Growth and High Progress awards as well.

The entire staff of the Waitsburg School District appreciates the support the community shows our schools by the consistent passing of levies and special bond projects. These extra funds, not supported by the state, allow the educational staff to prepare our students for mandatory assessments, post high school training, and for life outside of Waitsburg schools. We will continue to do our best to make Waitsburg schools a great place to receive an education.

Over Memorial Day many Waitsburg High School alumni will return to Waitsburg, gathering to remember and celebrate their time at Waitsburg High School. All the banners WHS has received over the past ten years will be on display outside the high school. Take a moment to see our continuation of excellence in education. Take a moment to be proud of our community, our school, the students, and the staff.

(Proud WHS teacher)

CCHS Releases Stroudwater Report

BOARD HOPES TO DECIDE ON REMODEL PLAN FOR DGH IN THE COMING WEEKS

By Dian Ver Valen
THE TIMES

DAYTON – Directors of the Columbia County Health System are wrestling with a tough decision: What will the community need from its hospital in the next five to 10 years?

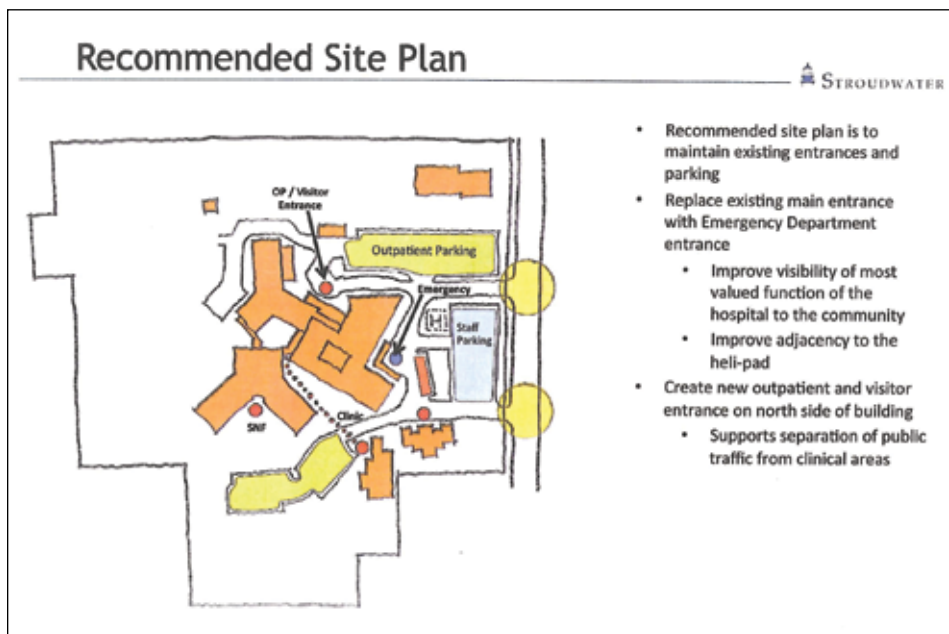

“With legislative changes to Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements and the rapid technology changes going on, this is hard to figure out,” CCHS Chief Operations Officer Shane McGuire said. “There is so much going on in healthcare right now, I feel bad for the board coming in once a month and trying to keep up with everything going on so they can make decisions.”

One year ago this spring, faced with the loss of depreciation reimbursements and nearly $375,000 annually toward operation of Booker Rest Home, the board successfully secured a $5.5 million bond levy to improve Dayton General Hospital with the approval of district voters.

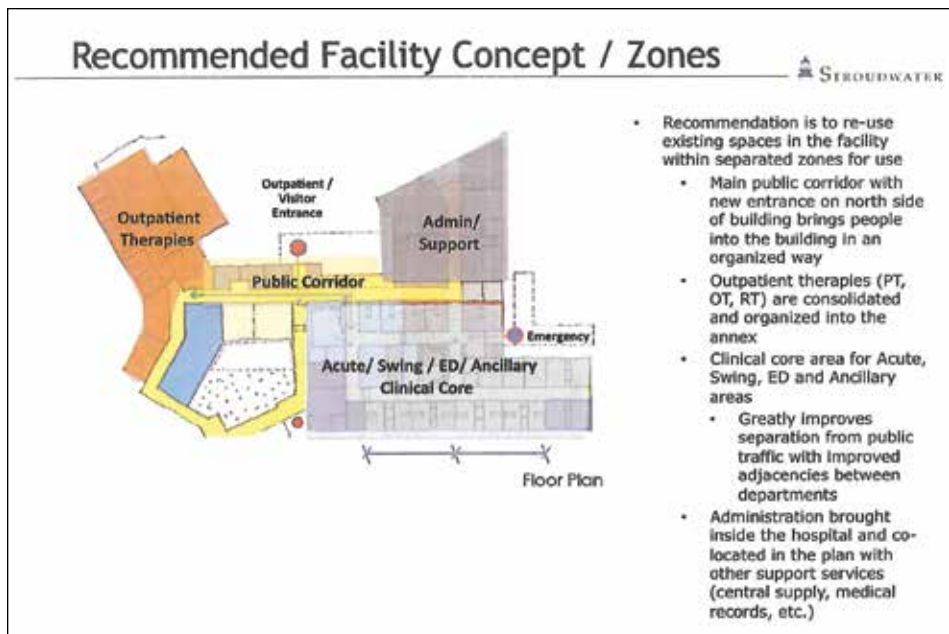

But how best to achieve this “improvement” is now the question before the board of directors. At their April meeting, they agreed that a decision must be made soon. The firm hired to evaluate the hospital’s needs and provide recommendations – Stroudwater Associates – has provided the board with a facilities plan. And the board is planning a workshop in the coming weeks, prior to their next meeting on Thursday, May 28.

“I’d really like to see us go out to bid on the project in August or September,” board chairman Ted Paterson said.

But the board has not yet received profit and loss statements from each hospital department, Paterson said on Friday. Directors requested the statements at their last meeting so they could better understand which services at DGH are most used and produce most revenue

Recommended site plan drawing taken from Stroudwater Associate’s facilities plan provided to Columbia County Health System directors last month.

Stroudwater Associates have recommended that CCHS directors remodel the inside of Dayton General Hospital to better serve rural patient care needs.

But these numbers are hard to pin down, Paterson said, because of insurance reimbursement rates. In addition, several different digital tracking and coding systems are used in various departments – and they don’t have the ability to produce comprehensive reports across software platforms.

Recognizing that the community is interested in what Stroudwater Associates have recommended, however, the board released that report to the press on Friday, explaining that the firm relied heavily on historical data related to healthcare in the region as well as more recent district demographics, trends, and service volume numbers together with changes in the makeup of rural, critical-access hospitals across the nation.

“The proposed redesign is very sound in terms of taking this 1965 structure and ensuring that it meets the needs of the community in the near future,” Paterson said. Stroudwater’s facilities plan does not propose any changes to the footprint of the hospital campus and stays within the $5.5 million budget approved by voters in November, Paterson said.

The redesign does recommend some big changes to the layout of the hospital, Paterson said. The idea is to centralize the hospital’s core services: emergency, ancillaries (imaging, lab, pharmacy), outpatient (rehabilitation services such as physical and respiratory therapy), and acute and swing beds.

FROM THE STROUDWATER REPORT:

Improving staff efficiency through a central location of core services (emergency, diagnostics, outpatient, acute care, swing beds) is very important to future sustainability of the hospital and overrides any interest in maintaining the emergency department where it is currently located, regardless of the recent investment in it improvement. The department is both undersized and located in the middle of the facility, away from the emergency entrance.

The recommended facility plan:

- Uses existing resources to their highest and best use. New construction is limited to the pool.
- Uses the Booker annex for some rehabilitation services with a significant expansion to the physical therapy gym and additional treatment spaces.
- Creates new kitchen with improved adjacency to long-term care without blocking the residents’ view from the dining room.
- Creates new dining room that doubles as a conference center with outside patio seating.
- Moves administration into the main facility, improving staff accessibility.

CITIZENSHIP AWARDS RECEIVED

Dayton seniors Matthew Warren and Sarah Phillips are recipients of this year’s P.E.O. Citizenship Award for possessing good qualities of character (honesty, courtesy, amiability, morality and punctuality), achieving high scholarship, and participating in a number of community and school activities. They are pictured here with Susie Payne, a member of the P.E.O. Citizenship Award Committee.

P.E.O., which stands for Philanthropic Educational Organization, is an international group whose mission is to promote educational opportunities for women. The Dayton chapter has sponsored one male and one female Dayton senior each year since 1930 with a certificate; in recent years the organization has also been able to give a cash award. Warren and Phillips were awarded their certificate at a reception in the Delany Building on Thursday, May 7; they will receive their $300 check at graduation. Recipients of the citizenship award are selected by the high school faculty, associated student body (ASB) officers and P.E.O. Awards Committee.

STUDENTS CLEAN UP DAYTON

Dayton High School students, including many in the Students Helping Each Other (SHEO) club, helped clean the alleys and other out-of-the-way places near Steve’s Grocery, around the high school and along the Touchet River dike in April. Pictured here are (l to r) seniors Andrew Mendoza, Tyler Cooper and Daniel Mendoza with Jennifer Price, SHEO advisor and youth coordinator for the Coalition for Youth and Families. “The goal is to reduce the ‘hiding’ places by cleaning up the area and increasing visibility to watch for unsafe, unhealthy and illegal activity,” said Peggy Gutierrez, program director for the coalition.

Senior Center Repairs Underway

By Dian Ver Valen | THE TIMES

DAYTON – Columbia County Commissioners are moving forward with repairs to the Columbia County Senior Center on E. Washington in Dayton.

“This is a good, functional and well-used building,” said Commissioner Merle Jackson. Jackson met Tuesday morning at the center with Zella Powers and Barbara Gibson, members of the Senior Center Board, as well as County Engineer Andrew Woods and Courthouse Maintenance Supervisor Dave Finney, to decide on maintenance projects.

New flooring and a leaky roof were the biggest needs discussed, Jackson said. “The flooring in there now has seen better days,” he said. The decision was to go out for bids on carpet tiles with sheet vinyl flooring around the counters and kitchen, he said.

The metal roof on the building was put on just a few years ago but leaks in a few areas, so commissioners are looking into the least expensive option – whether the metal roof panels can just be removed while the roof is repaired and resealed, Jackson said. “We want to make sure we get it done right, so that’s in the works now,” he said.

The center has a new HVAC system and a new dishwasher already. Other regular maintenance planned includes painting in a few areas of the building as well as crack sealing and some repair to the parking lot this summer or early fall.

Columbia County Commissioners are working with local seniors to repair and improve the county-owned building that houses the Senior Center on East Washington Avenue in Dayton.

Karen Mohny enjoyed announcing at a dog handler's event, one of her many passions.

out of business," said Meredith.

In 2010 Mohny purchased Blue Crystal Screen Printing, which she operated until her death.

Karen married Kelly Mohny, a Waitsburg native and Class of '74 WHS graduate, on April 26, 1986. Kelly couldn't nail down exactly when they "got together" but said it wasn't in high school. "She would have been a little kid then!" he said, laughing. He recalls that they got to know one another better when she worked a summer at Green Giant where he was a supervisor and she taught him to use the retort machine.

Mohny was incredibly active in the Waitsburg community. "She didn't know how to say 'no,'" Kelly said. She was a past Commercial Club Citizen of the Year and won the club's Community Service Award in 2010. She was a Town Hall Association board member for several years and served as president.

She was also part owner in Huwe Properties, LLC, which owns mini storage units. "She hated yard sales so she went to auctioneer school so we could have auctions, instead," said Meredith.

That evolved into her Classic Auctions business, but Mohny regularly volunteered her auctioneer skills at Dayton Chamber of Commerce, Town Hall and dog handler events as well as an annual fourth-grade Waitsburg Elementary School auction where the kids spent Monopoly money they earned from reading books.

"She just liked to do things. She liked to be involved and to be active. Her brain was always working and she had good ideas. You could say we should do something and she would figure out how to do it," said Meredith.

Mohny was a longtime member of the American Legion Auxiliary where she served as president. She helped raise funds for new front doors for Town Hall and was the instigator of the Veteran's Memorial Wall at the City Cemetery. Mohny designed the wall and brainstormed the "gold brick" fundraiser that helped bring in the $14,000 needed for the project.

"The year Karen was our president she came up with this great idea (of building a memorial wall) and gave our group the courage to do this. Her words were, 'Build it and they will come.' And come they did! In fact, our Auxiliary received state recognition for this outstanding project," said Auxiliary member B.A. Keve.

Mohny catered for the Commercial Club, the Alumni Association, the Days of Real Sport Coronation Ball, weddings and community events and she sang at weddings, funerals and Rainbow installations. "The first time I knew she could sing was when she sang at her high school graduation in 1980," Meredith said.

She was a Days of Real Sport board member where she served as vice president. She was also a Waitsburg Celebration Days Board member and was the main organizer of the ATV Poker Run event, which will be held in her honor this year.

Mohny also ran race horses from 1998-2003. "When Pete died he had a horse, Pallas, which he was going to put on the track. Karen said, 'Let's put her on and see what she can do.' That took us into our race horsing days," Meredith said. Pallas won the Pete Huwe Memorial Race. "We came home with the blanket we gave for the prize. I said if she doesn't ever do anything more, that's fine by me. But she did," Meredith said. She and Mohny ended up traveling with the horse to Montana and Idaho and added more horses along the way.

Mohny didn't have children of her own but had a special place in her heart for working with kids, especially young girls. She volunteered as chaperone for the Days of Real Sport royalty for 15 years. She led the Saddles & Spurs 4-H group for 15 years as well. "She grew up on a horse and taught a lot of girls to ride," said Meredith.

Rainbow Girls was one of her "big loves." She was Mother Advisor for many years and helped organize many service projects, floats and fundraisers. "We would feed all the girls dinner twice a month as well. Everywhere we went we fed girls. They were so busy with sports and didn't want to go home after so Karen said, 'If we feed you would you come?'" Meredith said.

"Karen has always been like a second mother to me ever since she became a Mother Advisor. She always brought out the best in people. Karen helped all of the Rainbow Girls see their potential and strive for greatness. She was more than a mentor, she was our best friend," said Rainbow Girl Jessie Hopkins.

Mohny's other big love was her border collies. Kelly said they have a sign in their home that reads, "One day I hope to be the person my dog thinks I am." Mohny adored her collies: Ajax, Grit, Maverick, Indy and Poppy. She belonged to the Oregon Sheep Dog Society where she was a past secretary and the Border Collie Dog Handler's Association. Mohny announced dog trials from Sun Valley, Ida. to the National Finals in Klamath Falls, Ore. In 2009 she received the Lacamas Valley Sheepdog Trial Evie Kimberly Humanitarian Award.

"I think Karen is the perfect choice for Parade Marshal," said longtime family friend Wendy (Davis) Richards. "As a young girl in the parade she road on horseback and on floats, as an adult she has assisted and encouraged many young people so that they too would get involved. Karen was active with the Days of Real Sport and has been a key leader with the Waitsburg Celebration Days, ensuring that Waitsburg's annual weekend continues to thrive. Although it'll be on ATVs rather than horseback, we will still come together as a community and celebrate Waitsburg. Karen loved this community and the people in it, made obvious by the countless hours she dedicated to giving back to Waitsburg."

How would Mohny have reacted to being named 2015 Waitsburg Celebration Days Parade Marshal? "She would have been happy," Kelly said.

"I think there would have been some tears. She would have been very, very proud," Meredith said.

Nancy and Jack Otterson are honored to be recognized as 2015 Parade Marshals.

Giant. They married in 1959 and had three children: Tammy ('60), Laurie ('62) and Jack Jr ('69). Laurie, who loved horses and had been a Days of Real Sport princess, was killed in a car accident in 1987. Tammy lives in the Tri-Cities and Jack Jr. lives in Seattle.

In 1966, the Ottersons purchased a drive-in theater that was located between Waitsburg and Dayton. "Some relatives of ours owned it and told us we should buy it from them so we did. Just like that! We knew nothing about it. We owned and operated it for 20 years," Nancy said.

During that time, Jack, who had always wanted to work for the county, was hired on by the Public Works Department where he advanced to supervisor. Nancy needed some extra money one Christmas and went to work at Dingles, where she ended up becoming manager. "I went to work as part-time help for Christmas and was there for 29 years. I loved going to work every day," she said. But working full-time jobs, running a drive-in theater, and raising a family didn't interfere with the Ottersons being active in the community.

Nancy joined Rainbow at age 13 and has remained a part of the organization to this day. She is currently Board Chairman and was Mother Advisor for 27 years. "It's such a fabulous organization and they learn and gain so much from it. There's never been a time, since I joined at 13, that Rainbow hasn't been a part of my life in some way," she said. Both Jack and Nancy became members of Eastern Star and Jack became a Mason where is a Past Master.

Jack represented the Lion's Club when the Waitsburg Ambulance Service – a community endeavor between several organizations – was formed. He was on the service's first Board of Directors, formed 45 years ago, and has been Chairman for the past 30 years. "That's been a huge part of our lives," said Nancy, who is also on the board and has served as secretary for 18 years.

Jack volunteered with the fire department in 1959 where he stayed for nearly 30 years and was fire chief for part of that time. A Lion for many years, Jack also served on city council and on the planning commission. After retiring, Jack was appointed to the Columbia County Health System Board of Directors, and has been elected twice since. "That's a full-time job, just about. Especially now with the remodel job coming up. I just wanted to represent Waitsburg," Jack said.

The couple has always been active helping out with the Days of Real Sport. Jack sold tickets at the gate and Nancy ran the Rainbow booth. Daughter Laurie was on court one year with Queen Kelly McConnell. "Boy those girls could sure ride!" Jack said.

In addition to Rainbow, Nancy has held state offices in Eastern Star and is active in PEO. "I don't remember when I joined PEO but the first time I was president was in '78. I love that organization as well," Nancy said. "And, of course, I helped with Sunday School, Camp Fire . . . all the things moms do."

The couple is also active in the Presbyterian Church and with the WHS Alumni Association. "When you do all the volunteering like we do during the years, you don't even think about people recognizing it. You just do; then when something else comes up, you do it again. You don't expect a pat on the back or anything. I remember watching my folks volunteer and looking forward to being able to do the same thing," Jack said.

"I really do think of Waitsburg as being like a family," said Nancy.

"That's why we stayed here. How could it get any better?" added Jack.

Congratulations on your 150th Anniversary

Waitsburg Historical Society member Anita Baker is pleased with the in-progress replica of Wait's Mill that will be on display behind the Wilson-Phillips House museum this weekend.

MILL MODEL IS LABOR OF LOVE

BUILDERS CREATE HISTORICAL REPLICA AS A "GIFT TO THE TOWN"

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – Waitsburg resident Kevin Blair and longtime friend Paul Baumgart, of Hayden, Ida., have spent the last seven months working on a detailed replica of Wait's Mill. The partially completed model will be on display behind the Wilson-Phillips House museum following Saturday's Celebration Days parade.

Blair (who wants no recognition and required major prodding before he would allow his name to be used) has traveled to Hayden regularly since November, to work with Baumgarten on the mill replica. Baumgarten has been creating hand-crafted miniature Old West buildings for years and built one ghost town that took him 18 years and 8,000 hours to build. Baumgarten is the nephew of Elmo Tuttle who operated a blacksmith's shop in Waitsburg in the 1940s and '50s.

Blair said he was talking with Historical Society member Jeff Broom when the idea to build the replica of Wait's Mill was born. "I think the plan was that it would fit on a card table, but it got a little out-of-hand," said Blair. The model was built on an 8' square base, but that didn't include the turbine house, millrace and landscaping that will be added later.

Rod Baker came to the rescue and built a custom 16' by 16' house, complete with a hip roof matching the Wilson-Phillips House, to house and display the model. The building is in the backyard of the W-P House and has carriage doors that can be opened to display the model during museum hours and for special events like this weekend's sesquicentennial celebration. A timeline, with pictures, will run along the walls inside the display.

Wait's Mill, also known as the Preston-Shaffer Mill, was located at Bolles and Millrace roads in what will be dedicated as Wait's Mill Park on Sunday. The mill remained operational until 1957 and was placed on the Washington Trust for Historic Preservation's "Most Endangered Historic Properties List" in 2005. The city was preparing to restore the building when it caught fire in the middle of the night on Sept. 7, 2009 and burned to the ground.

Blair said the replica is intended to represent the mill that gave the city its name, as it would have looked shortly after it was built in 1865. He and Baumgarten used a combination of photographs and artist sketches to re-create the building. "It was a little tricky because the sketches and the building didn't always match up. We do have the floor plan from when the city was planning the remodel, though," Blair said.

Recycled cedar fencing "taken through about 12 different steps" was cut to simulate the building's lap siding and will be painted white or grey when the piece is finished. Shingles were made from two-by-eights that were cross-sectioned and formed into 8" shingle strips that will be stained and glued to the roof.

The tall center section, with its 12 distinctive cupolas, is still under construction. This section, where the actual mill was located, will stand about 36" to 38 inches from the ground, when finished. The model sits off the floor and the area between the floor and building will be landscaped to look like the original hillside surrounding the mill. A turbine house and flume still need to be added to the structure.

When Blair mentioned that he was looking for a CNC router to cut the windows, Historical Society member Tom Baker put him in touch with SEA-TECH Skills Center in Walla Walla. Students in Dennis DeBroeck's Digital Media Technology class accepted the project and are using the school's 3-D printer to create windows from plastic.

Blair and Baumgarten had hoped for the model to be completed in time for the city's sesquicentennial "but life got in the way." Blair said Baumgarten's son got hurt, which put a gap in the production. But Blair looks forward to completing the project that he hopes will be dedicated to his late wife Carol (Harris) Blair and her parents Gus and Evelyn Harris.

"It's a gift to the town. This little place has given me an awful lot over the years and this was one way I could give back," said Blair.

A TIME-HONORED TRADITION

WAITSBURG CELEBRATION DAYS CANCELLATION STAMP WILL HAVE MAY 16 POSTMARK

By Dena Wood | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG – The Waitsburg Post Office will be open from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, May 16 to cancel stamped envelopes with a commemorative Waitsburg Celebration Days stamp.

Stamped envelopes containing a double-sided document with the city ordinance approving the seal on one side and the Walla Walla County Commissioners' proclamation on the other will be sold in the post office lobby for $1. Those envelopes may then be addressed and taken into the post office where they will be stamped with the commemorative stamp, which includes the May 16, 2015 date.

Past cancellations have been created in recognition of Cycle Oregon, The Walla Walla Stage Line and Waitsburg's Centennial celebration.

Waitsburg's centennial was celebrated in October of 1965, but a Centennial Committee began planning months prior to the celebration. Over those months, Larry Broom shared his thoughts on the committee's progress in The Times. Below is an excerpt from Broom's column in the May 13, 1965 issue of The Times, commenting on the centennial commemorative stamp.

We convinced the Post Office Department in Washington D. C. that we were not two headed monsters through the diligence of our very cooperative local Postmaster, Ivan Keve, and we have placed an order for a cachet to be inserted in the stamp canceling machine at the local post Office which will advertise our 100th anniversary.

We have decided upon the pattern of the official seal, used all these years in the business of the City of Waitsburg, as being our official Centennial insignia. We have enlarged this, and have ordered decorative trays with this insignia as the design. These will go on sale, we hope in a very few weeks.

CELEBRATION DAYS CAMPING AVAILABLE

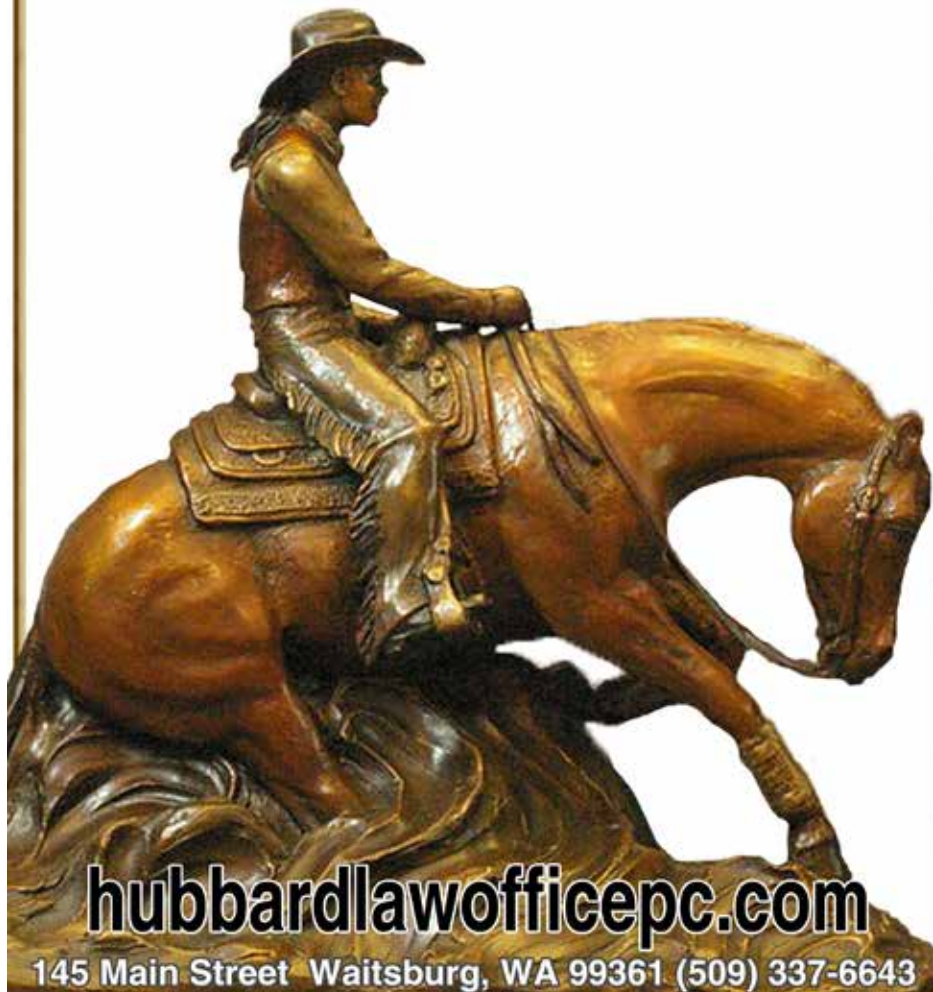

WAITSBURG – Campsites will be available at the Waitsburg Fairgrounds on Friday and Saturday nights during Waitsburg Celebration Days weekend, May 15 and 16. Camping is available on a first-come, first-serve basis. Bring an ATV and spend the night or enjoy the Burgers, Band and Brew without having to worry about driving home.

Campers should enter the rear of the fairgrounds via College Street, the dirt road between the track and the City Cemetery, off East 8th Street. Travel past the pig barns to where the ATV's will unload for the Poker Run. Dry campsites (no hook-ups) will be available for RVs, motor homes, trailers and campers. Tent sites will be marked out on the softball field. Port-a-pots will be available.

Camping is on an honor system and a box with envelopes will be set up near the entrance to the camping area to accept payments. The fee to camp is $10 per night.

DAYTON GIRLS 3RD AT WWW MEET

THE TIMES

WALLA WALLA – Without their lead point-scorer, Kaitlyn Andrews, who missed the meet, the Dayton Girls' Track team scored an impressive third place tie out of six teams at the District 9 meet in Walla Walla last week. Their point total of 64 tied Garfield Palouse, and trailed winner Asotin and runner up DeSales.

Dayton junior Angela Mascall won the 100 meter race, with teammate Carissa Price finishing third. Mascall was also second in the 200 meters. The Bulldog 4x100 relay team finished third. The team included Carissa and Kianna Price, Alexis Wanlarbkam and Mascall. Wanlarbkam also won the 110 meter hurdles and was second in the 300. Carissa Price was third in the long jump.

For the Dayton boys, Junior Zach Waggoner had a long jump of 16 feet, 7 ½ inches, which was good for fifth place.

WP Boys Win Final District Meet

CARDINALS SWEEP TOP THREE IN BOTH HURDLES; ADAMS GETS FOUR PRS

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

WALLA WALLA – The Waitsburg-Prescott boys' track team took a convincing win in the regular season's final meet at Martin Field in Walla Walla on May 6. The Cardinals easily out-pointed perennial favorite Asotin, 199-136. But Asotin didn't bring their full team to the meet, according to WP track coach Jeff Bartlow.

"This week it will be much different as we will be competing in District [District 9 Finals meet on Wednesday] and the entire Asotin team will be there," Bartlow said. He said that, since his team doesn't compete in the Pole Vault, due to a lack of facilities, Asotin will be difficult to beat at districts, since they will likely collect 24 points in that event.

Last week, the Cardinals had a big day in the hurdles events, with Kobie Brown, Owen Lanning and Landon Callas taking the top three spots in both the 110 and 300 meters. Brown's also won the high jump and was second in the long jump. Lanning won the triple jump and was third in the long jump.

Two WP 4x100 teams took the top two spots, with the team of Resean Crockett, Callas, Joe Leamy and Travis Crockett getting the win.

"That team is on the brink of success," Bartlow said. "Just a few handoff issues and if we can improve [the] start, it will help."

Travis Crockett also got a bit win in the 100 meters and was second in the 200.

Dylan Knowles had a great day for WP in the shot put and discus, with PRs in both.

On the girls' side, Emily Adams also had a big day, getting wins in the 800 meters, long jump and triple jump. She was second in the 3200 meters.

"[Adams] PR'ed in all four of her events and broke a school record in the long jump (16'9") beating a mark that is pretty old (Kelly McCaw's 16'3" mark in 1998)," Bartlow said. "She was excited about that."

Tigers Get Two Non-League Wins

LARSEN PITCHES WP PAST GAR-PAL; EXTRA-INNING RUNS OVERCOME W-M

By Ken Graham
THE TIMES

PRESCOTT - The Waitsburg-Prescott baseball team hosted Garfield-Palouse on May 6, and limited the Viking offense to one run, winning 4-1.

Defensive miscues allowed Gar-Pal to pick up a quick first-inning run, but pitcher Talen Larsen then held G-P scoreless through the sixth, giving up just five hits. Chance Leroue closed out the game on the mound. The Tigers had five errors in the game.

"Despite some early struggles defensively we were able to hang in there and get it done," said WP Coach Dustin Snedigar. "Talen Larsen threw really well early, and kept getting stronger as the game went on."

For the game, Jacob Dunn and Devin Acevedo each had two hits. Larsen also struck out seven Vikings.

ATHENA - On May 7, the WP Tigers traveled to Weston-McEwen and overcame a late TigerScot rally to win in eight innings, 5-3.

Pitcher Jacob Dunn struck out 12 W-M players in seven innings. But after being handed a 3-0 lead in the fourth, on a series of TigerScot errors, the Tigers gave up three runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

After a scoreless seventh, the game went into extra innings, and the Tigers got two runs in the top of the eighth, that proved to be the difference. In the bottom of the eighth, Kyle Gradwohl came on in relief of Dunn and struck out the side for the win.

WP GIRLS LOSE TWO HEARTBREAKERS TO GAR-PAL

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

PRESCOTT - The Waitsburg-Prescott girls' softball team dropped two one-run games to Garfield-Palouse on Saturday, 17-16 and 9-8.

In Game 1, the Lady Tigers jumped on the Vikings with 12 runs in the first inning and four more in the second. But it wouldn't be enough, as Gar-Pal fought back, taking the lead with six runs in the seventh inning.

For the game, WP had 18 hits and gave up 15. Cassidy Kuykendall and Hannah Grant each had three hits. But the Lady Tigers committed seven errors to help out the Vikings.

In Game 2, it was Gar-Pal that jumped out to an early lead, scoring eight runs in the first two innings. The WP girls fought back starting with two
