Commissioners appoint Walling to Library Board

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

DAYTON — The Columbia County Commissioners met for a special meeting on March 25, 2024. Chairman Jack Miller and commissioners Ryan Rundell and Marty Hall were present.

The commissioners and County Prosecutor Dale Slack discussed changes to the county's coroner services required due to amendments to RCW 36.16.030. The coroner function must be separated from prosecutors starting in 2024. The commissioners decided not to turn the position into an elected office, choosing to appoint or contract services.

Next, the commissioners began scheduled interviews for the Columbia County Rural Library District Board Trustee position held by Karin Spann, who completed her first five-year term.

Trustees can serve two five-year terms, and Spann was one of eight Columbia County residents who applied for the position.

Candidates were given a list of 19 questions from the commissioners before the meeting. After asking each candidate about their background and reason for applying, subsequent questions included censorship, book banning, the recent petition to dissolve the district, and steps to repair the chasm formed in the community over controversies stemming from library issues were covered in the questionnaire.

After hearing from all the candidates over the day's session, commissioners voted to appoint Dale Walling.

Walling is a retired firefighter and EMT who moved to Dayton with his wife after retiring. He said he had experience working in a junior taxing district and on other boards, including his union's executive board.

In his written and oral answers, he said library trustees should identify and consider the majority public opinion on issues including library materials, subject matter, and funding.

When asked what steps he would take to restore community fellowship, he said he would like to bring people together for civil discussions, saying the recent Civility Café was a perfect example.

Walling said he was not in favor of dissolving the library district. Though he had signed the first petition, he would not have voted to close the library. He felt the petition was the only way to get the trustees' attention.

Walling provided The Times with his written answers to the commissioners' interview questions, with a few clarifications he made during his interview. These will be included in the online version of this article at Waitsburgtimes.com.

School board waits for new superintendent to approve contract

By Justin Jaech | THE TIMES

DAYTON – The Dayton School Board met in the high school library at 6:30 p.m. on March 20, 2024. Board members present were Chair Jeffrey McCowen, Zac Fabian, Ryan Paulson, Aneasha Dieu, and Grant Griffin. Superintendent Rich Stewart and student representative Madison Richardson were also present. Jeremy Wheatley, the prospective superintendent, attended using Zoom.

The school board approved the consent agenda, including the senior class trip, two HS band trips, and a GEAR UP spring break trip.

Richardson informed the board about the plans for the annual senior class trip, which is planned by the class. This year, the class chose Coeur d'Alene, and tentative activities include a dinner cruise.

Athletic Director Sam Korslund reported that about 75% of the students participate in one or more of the school's athletic programs, which is more than twice the national average.

Elementary School Principal Amy Cox described the reading challenge to the board. She said that if each student read for 20 minutes a night and logged their results, they would collectively read 14,000 to 15,000 minutes over three weeks. If the students meet their goal, the school will bring in a dunk tank where they will have the opportunity to dunk Cox.

Guin Joyce, the Secondary School Principal, updated the board about the March Madness Attendance Challenge, where each grade competes for the highest weekly attendance rate, and the bottom two classes will be eliminated. The classes remaining by the end of the month will receive prizes.

In Head Custodian John Delp's facility report, he said the contractor's equipment on the parameter of the school property is mostly there in preparation for installing the heat pumps.

The board is waiting for Wheatley's response to the superintendent contract sent for his review. Stewart said a special meeting may be held during spring break to approve the contract should Wheatley accept it.

Stewart then presented resolution No. 2023-06, asking the board members to approve and sign it before presenting it to Governor Insley. The resolution requests the Governor veto House Bill 2331 and Senate Bill 5462, arguing that Washington is a "local control" state and should not be subjected to state-imposed curriculum modifications.

HB 2331 was approved by the House and the Senate and is waiting for the Governor to act. It modifies requirements for public school instructional and supplemental instructional materials.

- Bars school district boards of directors (school boards) from refusing to approve or prohibiting the use of educational material on the basis that it relates to or includes the study of the role and contributions of individuals or groups that are part of a protected class as established in public school nondiscrimination provisions.

AT THE LIBERTY:

“Kung Fu Panda 4”
THE TIMES

DAYTON — In “Kung Fu Panda 4” comedy icon Jack Black returns to his role as Po, the world’s most unlikely kung fu master. The movie is the hilarious, butt-kicking new chapter in DreamWorks Animation’s beloved action-comedy franchise. After three death-defying adventures defeating world-class villains with his unmatched courage and mad martial arts skills, Po the Dragon Warrior, is called upon by destiny to ... give it a rest already. More specifically, he’s tapped to become the Spiritual Leader of the Valley of Peace.

Rotten Tomatoes critics rated this movie as 72% favorable, while the audience gave it an 86%. That website’s critics say “Kung Fu Panda 4” offers enough eye-catching entertainment to sustain the franchise’s young fans, although it’s starting to feel like this series is running out of steam. The audience summary is that the movie is fun for the whole family, but not as good as the first three versions. The movie is rated PG for martial arts action/mild violence, scary images and some mild rude humor. It has a runtime of 94 minutes. This movie will run for 2 weeks, starting on March 29.

ANNUAL SCAVENGER HUNT FINDS FOOD FOR WAITSBURG FOOD BANK

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — Members of the Waitsburg Corral Wranglers and Pen Pals 4H gathered on Main Street Monday afternoon to break into four scavenger-hunting groups for their annual food drive. Each team received a list with nearly 50 items broken into 11 categories. Items were given values from 10 to 50 points each. The team with the highest point total would win the evening’s philanthropic competition. Coveted items on the list included proteins like canned tuna, chicken, and ham, each with 40 points. Spam (is it meat?) only garnered 20 points. The top scorers were spaghetti sauce, peanut butter, and applesauce for 50 points each, representing some of the items food banks regularly need.

Spreading out through Waitsburg’s neighborhoods, the enthusiastic kids gathered 760 pounds of food in only an hour for the local food bank. Mr. Harvey and Mr. Parrish headed the winning team. Everyone had a great time and the Waitsburg Food Bank and the community are the grateful beneficiaries.

PEDICURES VS. MANICURES

THE TIMES

WAITSBURG—In the first week of the Waitsburg Youth and Government Jars Project, the public has expressed opinions on the crucial issues Waitsburg has been facing for years.

Customers at the Waitsburg Grocery chose salad over soup by four dollars.

Waitsburg Grocery results:

- Soup – 17
- Salad – 21

At Blush Salon, pedicures were exactly 5 dollars better than manicures. (We can’t help but agree.)

Blush salon results:

- Manicures – 2
- Pedicures – 7

In what organizers thought would be a much closer contest, Ten Ton Coffee customers said clearly that the Beatles are a whopping $15 better than Elvis. Our apologies to the King.

10 Ton Coffee results:

- The Beatles – 23
- Elvis – 8

And in the most surprising and scariest contest, good barely topped evil by only $2, at least at Sam’s Corner.

Sam’s results:

- Good – 9
- Evil – 7

Matt Eider and the Waitsburg Youth and Government students thanked everybody who donated this week. They will change the questions at all of the participating local businesses this week. Starting this week, Gaudy Gals, Laht Neppur Brewery, and Walla Walla Roastery have joined the fundraiser and will have jars and questions ready for the debate.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS NANCY'S GARDEN CENTER

THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — Spring is here and it seems everyone is back outside. Since its opening, Nancy's Dream Garden has helped many in Waitsburg and surrounding areas have productive and beautiful gardens.

Owners Doug Biolo and his sister Janet Biolo Lawrence, working with Janet's son Mark Laroue, Jr, have created a full-service, year-round nursery.

Earlier this month, Mark sustained extensive injuries in an accident. Janet has been by his side at a Seattle hospital as he begins the long journey to heal.

Doug has stayed in town to care for the family business during this difficult time, preparing the nursery for its busy season.

Those who know Doug, know him to be a generous community member. He clears snow from the streets in winter, deliver plants and trees to truck-challenged customers, and encourages library patrons to give seeds a chance.

Now, is the time the community can return his and his family's kindness.

Since the accident, customers, friends, and neighbors have come to the nursery to help receive deliveries, work in the shop, build bamboo fences, water plants, and clean.

There is an account at Banner Bank for donations towards Mark's recovery. Donations can be made at any Banner Bank location in the name of Mark Laroue, Jr or Janet Biolo Lawrence.

A GoFundMe page has also been set up at <http://gofund.me/39dc96f4>.

As the weather warms and gardens thrive, it is heartwarming to be reminded of the supportive community we live in.

MY RECIPES Luke Chavez

Spring Spaghetti with Shrimp

After six years of living in the Inland Northwest, there are still a few things about the other side of the state that I miss terribly. At the top of this list is access to fresh, local seafood, something I might have taken for granted at the time. Thankfully, there are many wonderful options for local and sustainable seafood that can be found flash-frozen in area grocery stores. Domestic, wild-caught shrimp, frozen raw, have become a staple in our freezer, perfect for quick weeknight dinners. Here, plump, sweet shrimp are seared before being tossed in a bright lemon and butter sauce with spaghetti. The addition of green peas and peppery arugula make for a vibrant springtime pasta dish.

Ingredients:

- 1 pound spaghetti
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 4 tablespoons butter, divided
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 1 medium shallot, finely chopped (about ½ cup)
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- Pinch crushed red pepper flakes
- 1 pound medium shrimp, cleaned, peeled, and chopped into ½-inch pieces
- 1 cup frozen peas, thawed
- 2 tablespoons capers, plus 2 tablespoons caper brine
- 2 to 3 cups packed fresh arugula or mizuna
- 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons fresh parsley, chopped, plus more

Directions:

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Cook the spaghetti until al dente per package instructions, about 6 to 8 minutes. Reserve 1 cup of the pasta cooking water before draining the spaghetti.

While the pasta is cooking, heat the olive oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Melt 1 tablespoon of the butter into the oil and then add the shallots, cooking until soft and translucent, about 3 minutes. Add the garlic and a pinch of crushed pepper flakes, continuing to cook until fragrant, about another minute.

Reduce the heat to medium-low then add the shrimp to the pan and season with salt and black pepper. Cook until shrimp just begins to turn pink and opaque, about 4 to 5 minutes. If the shrimp is done before the pasta, remove the skillet from the heat.

After draining, return the pasta and the reserved pasta water to the large pot and set over medium heat. Stir in the shrimp mixture, peas, capers, caper brine, and the remaining 3 tablespoons of butter. Continue to stir vigorously until the sauce thickens and clings to the noodles, about 2 minutes. Next, stir in the arugula until it wilts and heats through. Remove the pan from the heat and then stir in the lemon juice and parsley. Taste and adjust seasoning, adding more salt or pepper as needed. Serve immediately in warm pasta bowls and garnish the tops with more fresh parsley.

Notes:

This is a pasta dish that comes together very quickly, so it is imperative to have all your ingredients prepped, washed, measured, and ready before you start. Make sure to properly clean, peel, and devein your shrimp. The shrimp should be kept very cold until just before cooking.

Be sure to time your pasta so as not to overcook. Because it will cook for another few minutes in the sauce, the spaghetti should be cooked even a minute or two less than the package directions for "al dente." My spaghetti was ready to drain at 8 minutes. However, different brands will have different cooking times.

Other vegetables, such as blanched asparagus or fresh cherry tomatoes, can be added to this flavorful pasta dish. Other tender fresh herbs, such as basil, chives, or dill, can be added along with the parsley. Also, if you have nice organic lemons, some finely grated zest would be lovely added at the end with the lemon juice.

I served this delicate pasta with a crisp and fruity Pinot Grigio. Enjoy.
