 Waitsburg High School hosted an assembly honoring Veterans Friday. Associated Student Body leadership shared background information about the holiday which originated as "Armistice Day" on Nov. 11 1919 as the first anniversary of the end of World War I. In 1926, Congress passed a resolution for an annual observance beginning in 1938.

This year, the American Legion was recognized for its outstanding service to the community.

State Seeks Input on Future of State Parks

PLANS IN WORKS FOR LEWIS AND CLARK TRAIL, LYONS FERRY AND PALOUSE FALLS PARKS

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—During a presentation to members of the public last week, Washington State Parks Planner Laura Moxham gave an overview of plans being developed for three area state parks: Lyons Ferry, Palouse Falls and Lewis and Clark Trail.

Before inviting the public to share their ideas for the parks, Moxham discussed some of the pros and cons of each park.

She said that since being designated the state's official waterfall in 2014, increasing numbers of people are visiting Palouse Falls State Park, up from 85,000 visitors in 2010, to around 190,000 in 2017. She cited inadequate parking, too few restrooms, damage to the ecosystem from people walking on non-designated trails, the appearance of graffiti and safety issues, as some of the areas of concern.

The challenge with Lyons Ferry State Park is that it is currently just a day-use park, and the numbers of visitors are going down, said Moxham. Moxham tossed out the idea of making Palouse Falls State Park a day-use-only park, and reestablishing camping at Lyons Ferry State Park.

The challenge for Lewis and Clark Trail State Park is it is dissected by Hwy. 12, and the day use area is used mainly as a rest stop. "It has a little bit of an identity crisis," Moxham said.

Moxham said that the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission will take public, tribal, and agency staff input into consideration when developing management plans for the parks. She said public workshops are targeted for spring, 2019.

The Commission's preliminary recommendations will be presented to the public next summer, and the Commission's final recommendations will be presented to the public later in the year.

The state has completed land-use plans for almost 100 state parks through a Classification and Management Plan process. The CAMP process addresses trails and recreational use, day-use opportunities, natural and cultural resources and other topics of interest to the community. The agency's goal is to complete CAMP plans for all state parks.

More detailed information about planning for the parks can be found at: www.bit.ly/PalousePlan. The public may provide comment or ask questions about the planning effort by contacting Moxham by phone at (360) 902-8649 or email at laura.moxham@parks.wa.gov.

In addition, volunteers are needed to form a Friends Group for the three parks. The state has agreements with 20 such groups, including three for the Blue Mountain Area, but none for Lyons Ferry, Lewis and Clark Trail, or Palouse Falls.

For information about forming a Friends Group to support one of the three parks, contact Steve Brand by phone at (306) 902-8651 or email at steve.brand@parks.wa.gov.

'The Town that Still Believes'

DAYTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE KICKS OFF THE CHRISTMAS SEASON NOV. 23 AND 24

By Michele Smith | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Dayton is known as "The Town that Still Believes," and to celebrate the holidays once again, the Dayton Chamber of Commerce is putting on the 12th annual Christmas Kickoff celebration the Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving.

On Friday the Backroads Club in Dayton will hold its Ugly Xmas Sweater 5k walk/run, on a 3.2 mile course around town, starting and ending at the Columbia County Courthouse. The race is dog, stroller and wheelchair friendly, and there are cash prizes in individual and group-related categories, said organizer Rachel Hutchens.

Registration begins at Dayton's historic courthouse, at 10 a.m., and the race will start at 11 a.m. The cost is $15 for participants six years old and up, she said.

From 2:30 to 5:30 p.m., carolers will be roaming around town. Kruger's mules will stage at the Dayton Historic Depot on both days from noon until 3:30 p.m., for hayrides around town.

Izzy the Camel will be featured during the Live Nativity behind Dingle's Store, at 4 p.m. and again at 5 p.m.

Kids and adults can visit live reindeer Dasher and Dancer on N. First St. from 1 to 5 p.m. They can also take in a free showing of "The Muppet Christmas Carol" at the Liberty Theater at 3 p.m.

Tractors, combines and Santa's Sleigh are just some of the entries in the seventh-annual Lighted Parade, which will take place along Main St., at 6 p.m.

Immediately following the parade, the public is invited to the Elk Drug parking lot for the Christmas tree-lighting ceremony and the singing of Christmas carols. The outdoor fireworks display will begin at 7 p.m.

Fifteen minutes after the fireworks end, a Columbia County Public Transportation bus will depart from Elk Drug, giving riders an opportunity to judge the best of Dayton's homes entered in the annual Tour of Lights.

This year Santa will be at Village Shoppes from 1 to 5:30 p.m. on Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Misty Yost said organizers of this year's Gingerbread house contest are calling for people to let their imagination run wild. See the gingerbread creations at various locations on Main St. The first-place winner will get $100 in Dayton Dollars, she said.

Cookies and beverages will be provided to visitors at the Palus Museum at 426 E Main St. and at the Smith Hollow Schoolhouse

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Ten Years Ago-November 20, 2008

Dust off that top hat and magic wand or better yet, haul the accordion out of the deep recesses of the closet and polish up on your polka playing for the (first in a very long time) Winter Talent Show. The show hosted by the Waitsburg High School Associated Student Body Officers, will be at 6:30 p.m. December 7, 2008, following the Hometown Christmas Activities in the Waitsburg High School Auditorium. Master of Ceremonies will be Fred Hamann and three "celebrity" judges will provide feedback a la American Idol and there will be prizes for each entry. A prize is guaranteed for every act.

Dayton Depot's Christmas Market is one of many activities celebrating Christmas Kickoff, an annual holiday event held in historic Dayton the Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving. The Christmas Market is one of the historic Depot's annual fund raising events. Proceeds will go to the Dayton Historical Depot Society and used for Depot operating costs and activities.

Twenty Five Years Ago-November 11, 1993

Chad Gerlitz, 11, of Dayton, is headed for the Kingdome next month to participate in the regional Punt, Pass, & Kick competition and could win a trip to Hawaii. "It will be exciting", Chad, a sixth-grader at Dayton Elementary School, said of competing during halftime of the Seattle Seahawks-Kansas City Chiefs NFL football game in the Kingdome on Dec 5. This is the first time the boy has competed in Punt, Pass & Kick. His total distance—was 236 feet, 5 inches—the highest of any 11 year old in Washington. "I just got lucky" Chad said of his impressive score.

Photo caption: Bill Litchfield of 211 E. Patit in Dayton, said the city needed more "characters" and that is why he painted his house white, with red and blue polka dots last month. Said Litchfield, "I wanted it to be the most eccentric house in town". Litchfield, who works at Dayton Mercantile, also put a yellow brick road down the middle of the driveway at the house. Times photo by George Gagnon.

It might be an "afterthought" but it's one that the city hopes drivers think about. There is a new solid, double-yellow line down the middle of Main Street in Waitsburg to remind motorists that making U-turns in the business district is illegal.

Fifty Years Ago-November 14, 1968

Hal Oliver, who has farmed in this area all his life, has taken the position of salesman for Brea Agricultural Service in Waitsburg. Oliver began his farming career with his father, James Oliver, who is now retired and living in Walla Walla. Hal is a member of the Walla Walla Wheat Growers and of the Washington Association of Wheat Growers. He is presently serving as a fire commissioner for rural district 7.

Photo caption: JUNIOR MISS HOPEFULS in the second annual Touchet Valley Pageant sponsored by Dayton Jaycees are these eight senior girls from Dayton, Waitsburg, and Prescott. Seated are: Rita Thomas, Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Thomas, and Nancy Hopwood, Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garvis Hopwood. Standing are: Charlene Scudder, Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Scudder.; Kathy Shema, Dayton, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Carpenter; Aleen Linklater, Waitsburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Linklater.; Nita Young, Dayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Young; Carol Watkins, Dayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Watkins; and Christy Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bond. Rehearsals started Saturday for the pageant which will be held at 8pm, Saturday, November 30, in the Dayton High School gymnasium.

Seventy Five Years Ago-Nov 19, 1943

The city of Waitsburg has been cleaning out the Touchet River channel above the Prescott Avenue bridge this week. A bulldozer has been used. It is to keep high water from cutting away the levees on the southwest side.

Mrs. Craig Vining arrived on Tuesday to visit friends and relatives here and in Walla Walla. She has been employed in the shipyards in Seattle for the past five months and is now on a short vacation before returning to her work.

A discarded clothing and rag collection drive will be held on Nov 22 to Dec 4 sponsored by the Salvage Division of the War Production Board.

One Hundred Years Ago-Nov 22, 1918

Miss Mildred Dickeson, who has been attending business college in Walla Walla, is sick with pneumonia at St Mary Hospital. Her father, W. H. Dickeson, went down Wednesday morning to be with her.

Mrs. F. M. Scott and Mrs. J. B. Loudegin gave a birthday dinner Sunday, in honor of their father, Jas. Wickersham, who was 86 years old on November 16.

One Hundred Twenty Five Years Ago Nov 24, 1893

Owing to the existence of scarlet fever in malignant form in the city, the school board today ordered the public school closed for at least one week, longer if necessary.

W. A. Kirby and J. N. Todd made a trip to Eureka Flat on Sunday: returned on Wednesday, bringing seventeen geese which went off like hot cakes.

D. T. Mills moved over from Starbuck last Saturday, and he and daughter Lara and son Ed are now at home in a neat cottage corner ,Coppei and Preston Avenues.

OBITUARIES

Harlan Howard Hulce

APRIL 8, 1930 – NOV. 4, 2018

Harlan Howard Hulce, age 88 years, died November 4, 2018 at the Booker Rest Home. He was a 70-year resident of Waitsburg.

He was born in a farmhouse near Vivian, South Dakota on April 8, 1930. His parents were John Arthur and Irene Harlan Hulce. He attended country elementary school and Murdo, South Dakota High School.

Harlan came to Waitsburg with his family and helped build the motel on Coppei Street. He married Patricia (Tish) DeVaney on October 3, 1952, in a ceremony held in Waitsburg. They moved to South Dakota where he farmed for three years before returning to Waitsburg. He got into construction and was involved with several projects including the Waitsburg Resturant, and the grade school. He also was known for his machining and fabricating skills at the Green Giant plant. He was employed for 53 years with the plant, which became Smith Frozen Foods and before that, Pic Sweet Foods. His skills also included making an aerial Drop Marker machine for spray planes. Another post retirement project was building a recreational barge for hunting and fishing. The whole family enjoyed trips to the Snake River. His cooking was well appreciated, especially fish fries and rocky mountain oysters. His family was his life; camping and hunting trips to the Wenaha back country was a family affair that he really enjoyed. Getting his boys out of bed at 3 a.m. sometimes required pulling them from their bunks by their heels. Watching for game started when leaving town and when they were tall enough to reach the pedals, they sometimes drove so he could watch. He was a volunteer for Waitsburg Fire Dept. for many years.

Harlan Howard Hulce

He is survived by his wife, Patricia (Tish) at their home. One daughter and son-in-law, Chrissy and Mike Talbott of Dayton; two sons and daughters in law: Tony and Barbara Hulce and Tim and Tonya Hulce of Waitsburg; two sisters: Merideth Huwe of Waitsburg and Dallas Uthe of Presho, SD; a brother Clark Hulce of Albuquerque, NM.; nine grandchildren and nine great grandchildren He was preceded in death by his parents, John and Irene Hulce; brothers in law, Pete Huwe and Harold Uthe.

Memorial services will be 12 to 5 p.m., Saturday, November 17, 2018, at the Lions Club Hall, Waitsburg Fairgrounds. Those who wish may contribute to the charity of the donor's choice through Hubbard-Rogg Funeral Home, 111 S. 2nd St. Dayton, WA 99328.

Delores Eileen Russell Robanske

MARCH 13, 1938 - ????

Delores was born March 13, 1938 to Floyd and Salma Russell in Dayton Washington. She was the youngest of six children. She was educated in Dayton where she made her home her entire life. Delores married Mike Thompson on October 28, 1956. They farmed the family acreage outside of Dayton. They had three children: Linda, Donald and Michele. Her life was busy with cooking for a large harvest crew, raising three children and being a blue bird leader and a Cub Scout leader. Mike passed away August 13, 1974. When the children were school age, she began working at Bill's Thrift grocery, where she was a checker. She developed a great friendship with Bernice Daggett while working there. They later went into business together running a second-hand store they dubbed "Stuff and Things". They had a great time running that business for a number of years. They also started an ice business.

She married F. Eugene Robanske on October 4, 1975. They blended two families together and were supportive of the kids' sports and horse activities. She cooked for the Senior Center for a number of years until the passing of her mother in 2001.

Later in life, Delores and Gene belonged to Many Waters RV club and enjoyed many outings with them. She looked forward to wintering in Arizona in their RV and taking cruises. She also loved rodeos and especially the Pendleton Round Up, where they would camp and attend every performance. She belonged to the United Brethren Church in Dayton, Eagles Auxiliary, Elizabeth Forrest Day Club, Dayton Days, and Dayton Women's Golf Association.

She enjoyed her bible study, her church family, and her little dog Shadow.

Delores is survived by Gene at the family home, daughter Linda Johnson (Jim) of Walla Walla, son Donald Thompson of Yakima, daughter Sherri Robanske of Walla Walla and daughter Jeanie Roueche (Dion) of Kennewick. She is also survived by grandchildren, Kimberly Manners, Michael Thompson, Nicole Law, Justin Clayton, Kaitlyn Thompson, Brandon Thompson, Jason Eslick, Lindsay Lockard, Danny Johnson, Lynn Foster, Cameron Roueche, Brandie Roueche, Benjamin Huwe, Rowene Huwe, Etta Huwe, and Taylor Hutchens. She is also survived by her brother Milton Russell of Prosser WA. And 18 great grandchildren.

Delores was preceded in death by her parents, husband Mike Thompson, daughter Michele (Binky) Thompson, and granddaughter Randi Thompson, brothers Jim Russell and Dallas Russell, sisters LaVonne, Marcella Welch and Lois Davis.

A celebration of Delores' life will be held, Saturday, November 17, 2018, at Faith Chapel, 653 Wagon Rd., Dayton, WA, with the Rev. Greg Brownell officiating. A gathering will follow at the Dayton Eagles for sharing memories and greeting the family. Contributions may be made to Dayton Eagles Auxiliary or the Dayton High School Alumni Association.

The family would like to thank Dr. Kyle Terry, the Booker Rest Home staff, and the hospice staff for the compassionate care.

Gettysburg Address

One hundred fifty-five years ago, on Nov. 19, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln delivered a short address at the dedication of a military cemetery at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. It became one of the most renowned speeches in American history. In just 271 words, Lincoln reminded a war-weary public why the Union was engaged in and determined to win the Civil War. Here is the entire text of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Letters Welcome

The Times invites readers to share their thoughts on our Opinion Page. Letters to the Editor can be emailed to us at editor@waitsburgtimes.com, or mailed to The Times at P.O. Box 97, Waitsburg, WA 99361. Letters can also be hand-delivered to our office. Deadline for letters is Tuesday at noon.

There will also be pies for sale at the monthly Lions breakfast held on Nov 17 & 18 from 8:00 - 11:00 a.m. Please call Sue Kimzey if you are interested in pre-ordering these delicious pies at (509) 981-1831.

PAID FAMILY LEAVE FREE PRESENTATION

DAYTON—The Washington State Employment Security Department will make a presentation about new Paid Family and Medical Leave requirements in the state. It will be held at the Liberty Theater in Dayton, Dec. 5 at 5:30 p.m.

The mandatory statewide insurance program goes into effect in January 2019. Most employers will see changes in payroll as a result. The event, which is free and open to the public, seeks to educate employers on the actions they need to take to be ready for the payroll change, as well as the benefits they will receive as a result of the program.

For more information visit www.paidleave.wa.gov, or contact Kathryn Witherington, Economic Development Coordinator with the Port of Columbia, at (509) 382-2577, or by email at kathryn@portofcolumbia.org.

DAYTON TOUR OF CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

DAYTON—Columbia County Public Transportation's annual Tour of Lights will begin Friday, Nov. 23, during Christmas Kickoff. A bus will depart the Elk Drug parking lot 15 minutes after the fireworks display.

Tours will also be offered the first three Saturday evenings in December. A bus will also depart Elk Drug at 7 p.m. on Dec. 1, 8 and 15. The cost is $1.50 for ages 6 through 59, one dollar for seniors 60 and older, and free for five years and under.

NEW DAYTON SCHOOL DISTRICT APP

Dayton—The Dayton School District has a new website, which can be downloaded to cell phones. Users can go to the app store and type in dayton-school-district.wa. The app will have a bulldog logo, and it will allow users to get live feed and news events.

From the website at www.daytonsd.org, users can go to "Explore" at the top which will lead to different sections, said Jana Eaton, Assistant to the Superintendent.

This will be a work in progress, she said, as the district gets more proficient in posting announcements and events, she said.

Mike Hubbard

Many of us here have seen Markeeta Little Wolf on her frequent walking excursions around Waitsburg. Of late she has been out and walking more than usual. Her husband, Mike Hubbard, tells The Times that she has just completed her goal of walking a million steps in a month – actually doing it in 28 days, a million and change. Mike, who has been sitting in a chair, supporting her effort from the sidelines, adds that Markeeta would cross streets diagonally or sometimes circle in order to gain more steps because there is only so much of Waitsburg to walk. He added that if Homeland Security has been tracking her, no doubt they are on High Alert. But Markeeta says this million-step walk, which worked out to about 14.5 miles a day, is just something she decided to do for the exercise and the joy of being outside and exchanging waves and (brief) conversation with those she met along the way.

MOMENTS IN TIME

The History Channel

* On Nov. 26, 1872, the Great Diamond Hoax, one of the most notorious mining swindles of the time, is exposed. Two Kentucky cousins had salted a mine with a few diamonds, and bank financiers rushed to invest. Some of the supposed raw diamonds actually had jewelers' cut marks.

* On Nov. 28, 1914, the New York Stock Exchange reopens for bond trading after being closed nearly four months because of the outbreak of World War I. Stock trading didn't resume until Dec. 12.

* On Dec. 1, 1939, golfing great Lee Trevino is born in Texas. Trevino was known as a prankster. While waiting to start an 18-hole playoff against Jack Nicklaus in the 1971 U.S. Open, Trevino threw a rubber snake at his opponent and then won by three strokes.

* On Nov. 27, 1942, guitar legend Jimi Hendrix is born in Seattle. He grew up playing guitar, imitating blues greats like Muddy Waters. Hendrix died in London in 1970, following a drug overdose. He was 27.

* On Nov. 29, 1963, one week after President John F. Kennedy was fatally shot while riding in a motorcade, President Lyndon Johnson establishes a special commission to investigate the assassination. After 10 months, the Warren Commission concluded that alleged assassin Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone.

* On Nov. 30, 1989, female serial killer Aileen Wuornos shoots her first victim, Richard Mallory, in Florida. Over the next year she killed six more men before being picked up in a seedy biker bar in 1991. Wuornos confessed to the killings but claimed self-defense.

* On Dec. 2, 2001, the Enron Corporation files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection, sparking one of the largest corporate scandals in U.S. history. Its collapse cost investors billions of dollars, wiped out 5,600 jobs and liquidated $2.1 billion in pension plans.

ARTS

CAROLYN HENDERSON: TALK ABOUT ART

Holiday Folk Art by Sheryl Parsons

Inspiration strikes at the oddest times, often when we're doing something supremely ordinary.

For artist Sheryl Parsons, who creates holiday sculptures from gourds, driftwood, clay and repurposed objects, inspiration whisked in while she was chopping wood, back when she lived in North Pole, Alaska.

"I noticed that some of the slabs that chipped off when I missed the center of the logs had a shape that would lend itself to painting Santa figures on," Parsons remembers.

"The flat sides only needed a little sanding, and the rounded bark backs made for unique pieces."

Soliciting the assistance of her three children, who earned pocket money by painting tiny Santa ornaments and magnets made from the wood chips, Parsons sold her holiday creations in local gift shops. Through time she honed her skills into creating intricate three-dimensional Santa, Christmas, and Halloween-themed décor.

She later moved to the Southwest, where her holiday sculptures won several awards at the Utah State Fair, and then up to Joseph, Ore., where she shows her work at several galleries, in addition to selling at Reason to Believe, an online, all-year Christmas-themed store. What she makes, Parsons says, is folk art.

"This is anything created by hand using raw materials or repurposed things, to delight the eye and heart," she says. "They are usually figurative, or depict a whimsical or impressionist style of people or animals."

Because she likes to focus on the positive, whimsical, and good in life, Parsons' folk art sculptures are happy, she adds. "I want my art to be something that brings joy, peace, or pleasure to the owner or viewer."

Parsons is displaying her gourd and wood holiday sculptures at Wenaha Gallery (219 E. Main, Dayton) through Dec. 1 in an Art Event, and she will be at the gallery in person Friday, November 23, from 2 to 6 for the gallery's Christmas Kickoff Art Show, also featuring Dayton painter Steve Henderson.

Wenaha Gallery is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

More than two years ago, members of the Dayton Kiwanis Club had a vision to send high school students to Washington D.C. to reinforce leadership skills and give them an inside look at democracy in action using the nation's capital as a living classroom. The club received a donation and a grant from Blue Mountain Community Foundation. The group is called Dayton Kiwanis Road to Leadership. Working with Dayton High School and the Close Up Washington D.C. nonprofit organization, the group offered students in the sophomore class the opportunity to apply for the trip. Four students, along with teacher Shayna Hutchens, who leads the Youth and Government Club, were chosen to go. After returning, they will speak to different organizations about their experience and be our ambassadors for future trips. The group includes (l to r) teacher Shayna Hutchens, and students Kylee Laughlin, Kenzie Dobbs, Kira Boggs and Alex Jenkins.

DAYTON CHAMBER AWARDS BANQUET ALSO HONORS YOUTH, EMPLOYEE AND BUSINESS OF THE YEAR

By Ken Graham | THE TIMES

DAYTON—Dayton Mayor Craig George was given the Citizen of the Year award last week at the Dayton Chamber of Commerce's annual Awards Banquet. George, who is in his third term as mayor, was traveling, and unable to attend the banquet.

George recently announced that he will be stepping down from his position early next year.

In her introduction to the award, Chamber Manager Melissa Bryan said that George "has shown complete dedication to Dayton, advocating for our community locally and statewide. Always generous with his time, he is well versed in accomplishing goals – large and small."

George, a former Navy commander, was first elected in 2007 and would have completed his third term next year.

The Chamber's Employee of the year award was given to Dayton Elementary School Secretary Jeannie Lyonnais.

Lyonnais "advocates for children with kindness and selflessness, always striving to be a positive example, by working hard, showing dependability and professionalism," Bryan said in her statement. "With a strong passion for youth, this person energizes those around her, resulting in a quality learning environment for the staff and students of Dayton Elementary."

The Village Shoppes was given the Business of the Year award. The antique and gift store is located at 245 E. Main St., and had been operated by Candy Jones and her husband, Jim Dyke, for many years. The store has recently been sold to a new owner.

The Village Shoppes "has become a staple in Dayton, with full, beautiful windows and a joyful smile as you enter the door, where a person can shop for a fishin' pole for their favorite fishin' hole, pick up a fancy dancin' dress with matching earrings or a vintage peddle car for the grandkids," Bryan said.

The Youth Citizen of the Year award was given to Kaleigh White, a student at Dayton High School.

White "has involved [herself] in 4-H, FBLA, ASB, Sports, Academics, Rodeo, FFA and The National Honor Society," Bryan said. "The numerous nominations that arrived for [White] described her as fantastic, exceptional, compassionate and a strong leader."

Also given out Wednesday evening was the Historic Preservation Award, given to Greg and Sophia Peterson, for the restoration they completed on their home at 303 E. Patit St.

SKYLER RUDE
for
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Thank you!

Since announcing my candidacy in mid-March, I've had the opportunity to knock on thousands of doors across our district and talk with folks about issues important to them. I am honored by the strong support received on election night and look forward to the privilege of serving our district in the House of Representatives.

My opponent, Rebecca Francik, ran a strong campaign with a high level of integrity. I appreciate her dedication and passion for making positive change.

My commitment to civility and bipartisanship will continue in Olympia as we strive to work collaboratively for the benefit of the 16th district and our state.

TEENY MCMUNN: MY RECIPE BOX

Sausage Barley Soup

At this time of year, we think of warm foods. As they say, comfort foods, hot drinks (as I am drinking my tea), extra clothes, wood fires, etc. (Except for those who are headed south.) Which is why I decided to put this soup in. It sounds like a great crock pot soup, and with some great bread it will make a hardy dinner.

I will make it later, because we had to eat up some leftovers first. Joe makes killer soups, so I've been spoiled and can't go back to canned soups—though the Bear Creek brand makes good ones, in my opinion. They are a dry package and not inexpensive, but very tasty.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 pound Italian sausage
- 1 (48 oz) can chicken broth
- ½ c. diced onion
- 1 large carrot
- 1 Tbsp minced garlic
- 1 (10 oz) pkg frozen chopped spinach
- ½ tsp Italian seasoning
- ¼ c. uncooked pearl barley

DIRECTIONS:

In a skillet over medium heat, cook the sausage, onion and garlic until the sausage is evenly brown. Season with Italian seasoning. Remove from heat and drain.

In a slow cooker, mix the sausage mixture, chicken broth, carrot, spinach and barley.

Cover and cook four hours on high or six to eight hours on low.

MY NOTES:

I don't need to add that one can change it anyway you would like. If you don't eat pork, then maybe turkey sausage, with a little more Italian seasoning. It doesn't seem like a lot of barley?? Since we don't have any on hand, we will use lentils. For me, it looks like a lot of sausage for the amount of liquid, but maybe not.

If you are like me, I can't believe next week is Thanksgiving. Crazy! How do you use turkey leftovers? I saw on Facebook that someone took crescent rolls, rolled it out, put mashed potatoes, turkey, dressing, and cranberry sauce on it, rolled them back up and baked them. Sorry, I don't have the amount of time and temperature but I'm guessing it's the same as what is on the package. I could look it up if needed.

ENJOY AND STAY WARM!

Conceptis Hitori

Each puzzle consists of a square grid with numbers appearing in all squares. The object is to shade squares so:

1	5	3	1	2
5	4	1	3	4
3	4	3	1	5
4	4	2	3	3
2	1	5	4	4

- No number appears in a row or column more than once.
- Shaded (black) squares do not touch each other vertically or horizontally.
- When completed, all un-shaded (white) squares create a single continuous area.

Bitter Orange by Claire Fuller

A Most Anticipated Book at Time Magazine, Entertainment Weekly, Vulture, Elle, BUST, Huff-Post, NYLON, Southern Living, Parade, and more.

From the author of Our Endless Numbered Days and Swimming Lessons, Bitter Orange is a seductive psychological portrait, a keyhole into the dangers of longing and how far a woman might go to escape her past.

From the attic of Lyntons, a dilapidated English country mansion, Frances Jellico sees them Cara first: dark and beautiful, then Peter: striking and serious. The couple is spending the summer of 1969 in the rooms below hers while Frances is researching the architecture in the surrounding gardens. But she's distracted. Beneath a floorboard in her bathroom, she finds a peephole that gives her access to her neighbors' private lives.

To Frances' surprise, Cara and Peter are keen to get to know her. It is the first occasion she has had anybody to call a friend, and before long they are spending every day together: eating lavish dinners, drinking bottle after bottle of wine, and smoking cigarettes until the ash piles up on the crumbling furniture. Frances is dazzled.

But as the hot summer rolls lazily on, it becomes clear that not everything is right between Cara and Peter. The stories that Cara tells don't quite add up, and as Frances becomes increasingly entangled in the lives of the glamorous, hedonistic couple, the boundaries between truth and lies, right and wrong, begin to blur. Amid the decadence, a small crime brings on a bigger one: a crime so terrible that it will brand their lives forever.

Every Breath by Nicholas Sparks

In the romantic tradition of The Notebook and Nights in Rodanthe, #1 New York Times best-selling author Nicholas

Sparks returns with a story about a chance encounter that becomes a touchstone for two vastly different individuals -- transcending decades, continents, and the bittersweet workings of fate.

Hope Anderson is at a crossroads. At thirty-six, she's been dating her boyfriend, an orthopedic surgeon, for six years. With no wedding plans in sight, and her father recently diagnosed with ALS, she decides to use a week at her family's cottage in Sunset Beach, North Carolina, to ready the house for sale and mull over some difficult decisions about her future.

Tru Walls has never visited North Carolina but is summoned to Sunset Beach by a letter from a man claiming to be his father. A safari guide, born and raised in Zimbabwe, Tru hopes to unravel some of the mysteries surrounding his mother's early life and recapture memories lost with her death. When the two strangers cross paths, their connection is as electric as it is unfathomable . . . but in the immersive days that follow, their feelings for each other will give way to choices that pit family duty against personal happiness in devastating ways.

Illuminating life's heartbreaking regrets and enduring hope, Every Breath explores the many facets of love that lay claim to our deepest loyalties -- and asks the question, How long can a dream survive?

The Witch Elm by Tana French

"Tana French's best and most intricately nuanced novel yet. . . Get ready for the whiplash brought on by its final twists and turns." -The New York Times

A brilliant new work of suspense from "the most important crime novelist to emerge in the past 10 years." (Washington Post)

From the writer who "inspires cultic devotion in readers" (The New Yorker) and has been called "incandescent" by Stephen King, "absolutely mesmerizing" by Gillian Flynn, and "unputdownable" (People), comes a gripping new novel that turns a crime story inside out.

Toby is a happy-go-lucky charmer who's dodged a scrape at work and is celebrating with friends when the night takes a turn that will change his life - he surprises two burglars who beat him and leave him for dead. Struggling to recover from his injuries, beginning to understand that he might never be the same man again, he takes refuge at his family's ancestral home to care for his dying uncle Hugo. Then a skull is found in the trunk of an elm tree in the garden - and as detectives close in, Toby is forced to face the possibility that his past may not be what he has always believed.

A spellbinding standalone from one of the best suspense writers working today, The Witch Elm asks what we become, and what we're capable of, when we no longer know who we are.
